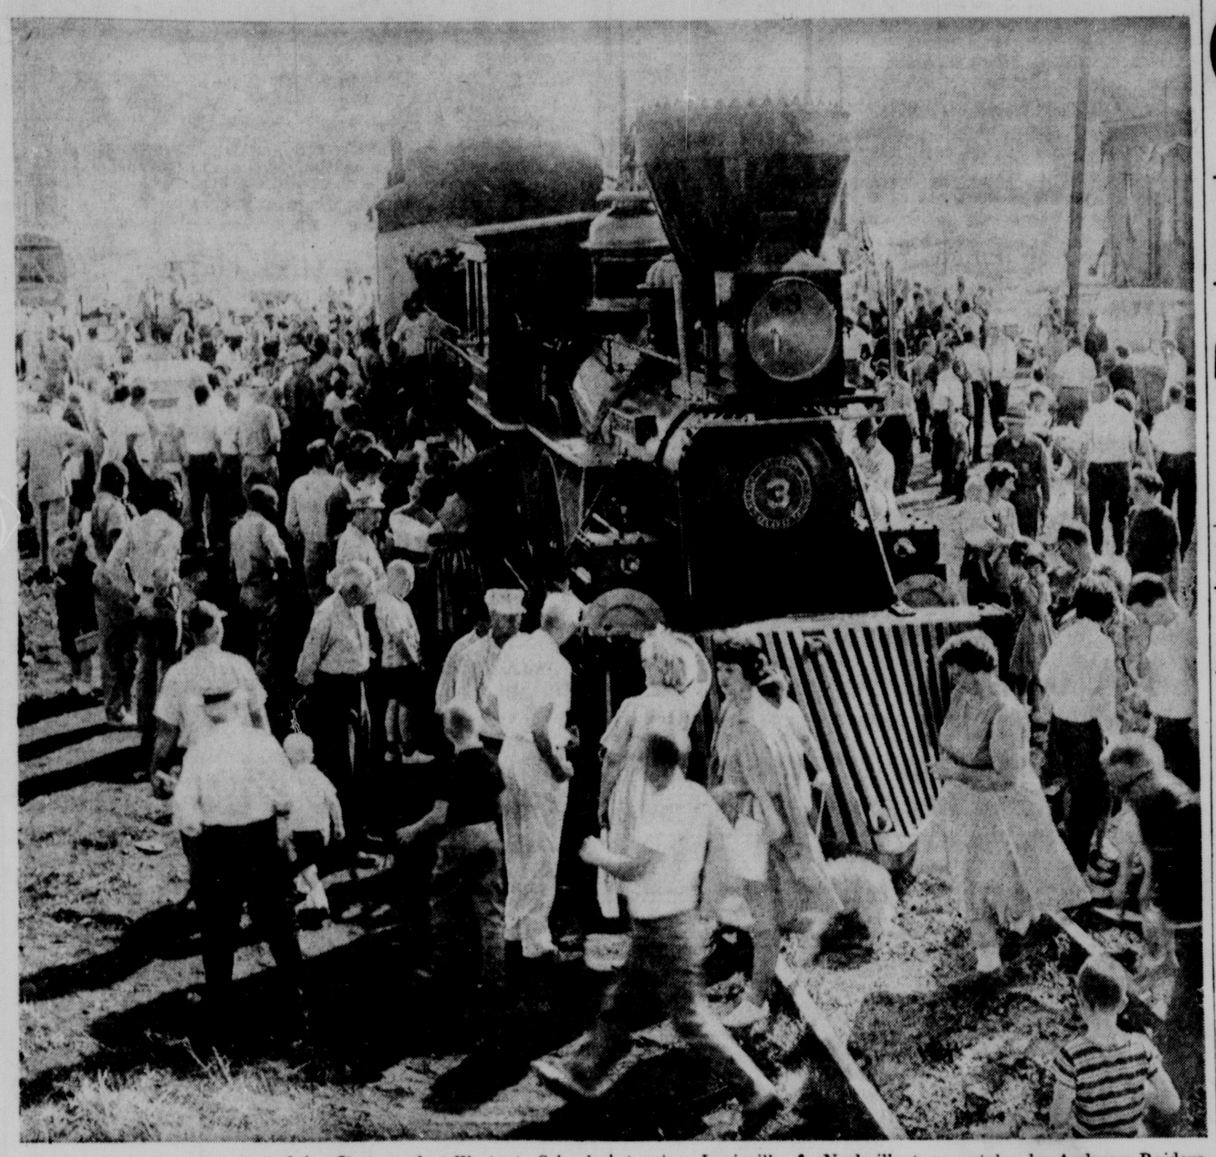
400 Greet Old Locomotive

'The General' Rolls Into Wellsville



A crowd of about 400 greeted "The General," famous Civil War locomotive, when it steamed into the Pennsylvania Railroad yards in Wellsville this morning for inspection until noon on part of its swing through Ohio in the Civil War Centennial observance.

The Pennsy tracks from East Liverpool to Wellsville were dotted with family groups who watched the tiny black engine chug by, towing a yellow coach converted into a miniature museum.

It stopped at Westgate School, where about 20 invited guests boarded. There the locomotive, which figured in one of the most melodramatic episodes of the Civil War, proceeded to Wellsville for a three-hour stop.

Crowds gathered early at the Pennsy yards in Wellsville and "The General" arrived there about 9:30 with two Wellsville railroaders — H. F. McFadden and G. W. Mackall — at the controls.

McFadden, engineer, and Mackall, conductor, joined the touring Louisville & Nashville Railroad crews at Conway for the trip into Columbiana County.

Cameras clicked and youngsters became wide - eyed in amazement as the engine, trimmed in gold with bright red wheels, left the main tracks and made its way in reverse onto a switch for the stop-over.

Fife and drum music by a Civil War field music company, led by Capt. Tom Gualtier of Wellsville, helped lend a colorful greeting to the engine, which was stolen by Andrews Raiders at Big Shanty, Ga., in 1862

Long lines formed to board Coach 665 containing the museum, which illustrates more than a century of railroading.

"The General" was on view Sunday at Lisbon. Leaving Wellsville today, it will proceed to Steubenville.

About 3,000 viewed the locomotive at Lisbon. Fifty invited guests rode the train from Leetonia to the county seat. About

Mood Boosts Hopes

Optimism Sparks Initial Session Of Test Ban Meeting

Party Battle Looms

Rockefeller Challenges Goldwater For GOP Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has challenged Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to an all-out liberal vs. conservative fight for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

In a policy statement tantamount to announcing his candidacy, the New York governor said Sunday the Goldwater strategy is to try to weld conservative, Southern and Western support while writing off Northern states. This, Rockefeller said, "would not only defeat the Republican party in 1964 but would destroy it altogether.'

Rockefeller said it was incredible that the Republicans would offer such an alternative to the "unprincipled opportunism that has captured the Democratic party."

He added: "That alternative will never be found in a party of extremism, a party of sectionalism, a party of racism, a party that disclaims responsibility for most of the population before it even starts its campaign for their support."

Goldwater, who was not named in the statement, made no immediate response. But associates said they interpreted Rockefeller's attack as a declaration of war they were certain the senator would accept, even though he remains an unannounced belligerent.

They added that if Goldwater is writing off the industrial North as Rockefeller charged, the New York governor is giving up on Republican chances to collect electoral votes in the South.

Rockefeller's blast is regarded in Washington as the opening gun of a vigorous comeback campaign for the nomination. He was considered by many observers the leading contender until his recent marriage to a divorced mother of four children.

In the period between his reelection as governor last year and his remarriage, Rockefeller tried with some success to warm up the conservatives to his cause by making what many of his listeners called "good Republican speeches" in the Midwest.

But the New York governor's attack on what he said were extremist views in the party indicated he has decided his best chance for the nomination is to champion the liberal viewpoint and sharpen his division with the conservatives.

Mr. K Quips As Moscow Talks Begin

West Believes Split With Red China Has Effect On Prospects

MOSCOW (AP) — Jovial and apparently optimistic, Premier Khrushchev personally opened talks today on a limited nuclear test ban agreement with special envoys of President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Sitting in a Kremlin conference room with U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman and Britain's Lord Hailsham, the Soviet leader quipped: "Shall we start off by signing the agreement right away?"

Harriman shoved a pencil and pad across the table toward Khrushchev. Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko grinned to his chief and said: "Sign it and leave it to be filled in."

The conference is expected to last 10 days.

Khrushchev's mood seemed to share the optimism of both the British and Americans about the success in agreeing on a prohibition which would bar nuclear test explosions in the air, in space and under water.

The Western side saw no prospect of getting a complete ban to cover underground explosions also.

Increasing the prospects for an agreement was the worsening split between the Soviet Union and Red China, Westerners here believed.

News photographers were allowed to enter the conference room before the actual talks began to take pictures of the negotiators.

The conference began with nine representatives on the U.S. and British side and five on the Soviet side.

Wallace Says Rights Issue Means Strife

Hearings Resumed On Senate Study Of Kennedy Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George Wallace of Alabama said today that inept handling of racial problems by the Kennedy administration has resulted in "a nation torn by strife and turmoil on the brink of civil warfare."

Wallace who failed in his "schoolroom door" stand against integration at the University of Alabama, said that if Congress passes a public accomodations bill, "You should make preparations with withdraw all our troops from Berlin, Viet Nam and the rest of the world because they will be needed to police America."

Wellsville Drops Budget For 1964

The 1964 budget, estimating $129,236 in receipts and $128,401 in expenditures in the general fund, was adopted by Wellsville City Council at a special meeting Saturday night.

The general fund is down about $16,941 from the $145,177.68 that will be spent in 1963, based on actual expenditures in the first six months and anticipated outlay in the last half.

The actual appropriation in the general fund for 1961 was $132,-724.82. In 1962, it was $128,170.76.

Counilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, explained that one reason for the decrease is the lower balance anticipated at the end of this year.

UNDER THE budget, the anticipated balance at the end of 1964 will be $835.63. The carryover at the end of the current year is estimated at only $3,300.88, about $5,000 less than at the end of 1962.

It also was pointed out in the budget that inheritance tax receipts are estimated at about $2,-000 less. Other anticipated revenues vary in smaller amounts.

Some of the anticipated revenue is: $51,500, general property tax; $13,500, sales tax; $21,000, state intangibles; $11,500, liquor permits; $7,000, personal property tax, and $9,000, fines and forfeitures.

THE GENERAL property tax, half estimated and half actual, for the current year was listed at $49,500.

Under expenditures, the budget estimates $32,500 for police salaries, excluding a clerk, and $6,500 for other police service. This is

Steady Rains Help Parched County Fields

Farmers Welcome 'Soaking' Showers Of Over Half-Inch

A steady rain that fell throughout Sunday morning and then continued intermittently into the afternoon provided more than a half-inch of badly-needed precipitation for parched county croplands.

Farmers welcomed the rain particularly because it was the slow, soaking type that did the most possible good for their dry fields —providing aid especially for the second hay crop.

The Stratton Dam measured an even half-inch of rain in the 24 hours ending at 7 this morning. Another twelve-hundredths of an inch was measured prior to 7 a. m. Sunday.

Columbiana County farmers commented that the season's first hay cutting was short for lack of rain and the second promised to be even worse for lack of moisture. Without rain, there would be no third cutting of hay this season, farmers observed.

Late oats crops also were reported affected by lack of rain, although the early oats crop was normal.

Cool nights helped the current corn crop survive the lack of rain and wheat appears to have had enough moisture, farmers said.

2 Americans Injured In Battle Near Saigon

SIAGON (AP)—Two Americans were injured and 63 Communist guerrillas killed in a daylong battle described as the worst ever fought near Saigon between government and Red forces.

Military sources placed government casualties at 26 killed, and 51 wounded.

The two Americans injured were not immediately identified. Only skimpy details were reported on the battle, which occured Saturday in Long Anh Province, 20 miles southwest of Saigon.

Military sources said the battle started when government troops in helicopters encountered a barrage of groundfire.

U.S. Pushes Youngstown Racket Study

Progress Reported By Robert Kennedy In Sunday Speech

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says an investigation is continuing into rackets elements in the Youngstown area.

"Progress is being made and a number of investigations still are being carried on," Kennedy told a news conference Sunday after addressing Slovak Catholic Sokol convention delegates.

Kennedy referred to the indictments returned last month by a special grand jury in Cleveland against eight Youngstown area persons. Those indictments stemmed from an 18-month probe by the Justice Department's Criminal Division, the Internal Revenue service and the FBI.

Charges in the indictments ranged from conspiracy to defraud the government of excise and income taxes to failure to file income tax returns.

Potters Open 69th Meeting At Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS — Seasonal temperatures ranging well above 100 degrees welcomed 200 delegates to the 69th annual meeting of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, which opened this morning at the 24-story Sahara Hotel.

But a stiff breeze and seven per cent humidity helped ease the discomfort of the temperature — plus the fact the Convention Hall and all other facilities of the sprawling hotel are air conditioned.

E. L. Wheatley, international president, banged the gavel to launch the first session, which was occupied principally with appointment of standing committees and various routine reports.

The convention is expected to continue in session through Friday or Saturday.

The delegates from all parts of the United States and sections of Canada will act on 56 resolutions that appear in the printed program, plus others presented from the floor.

One of the principal issues will be a proposal to hold conventions every two years, instead of annually as at present, to help ease the drain on the treasuries

Salem Boy, 9, Hurt Badly In 2-Way Crash

Gear Shift's Lever Impales Youngster; 4 Others Injured

A Salem area boy was injured critically and four others were hurt in a two-car crash Sunday at 10:35 p. m. at the intersection of Depot Rd. and Pigeon Rd. seven - tenths a mile south of Salem.

Officers said the crash near Salem involved cars driven by Thelma Jean Gibson, 20, of Petersburg and Robert Goodman of Salem R. D. 3.

The two cars met in the center of the intersection, according to officers, who said the mishap still is under investigation.

Gary Goodman, 9, of Salem R. D. 3 was thrown foreward by the impact. He struck the steering column and the gear shift lever pierced his back and remained there, the patrol said.

He was taken to Salem City Hospital and then transferred to

Mine Sealing Due As Crew Saves 3 Boys

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The entrance of an abandoned Castle Shannon coal mine from which three boys were rescued late Saturday after a two-day ordeal will be sealed with cement state mine officials announced Sunday.

A spokesman said the entrance will be walled with cement and filled in by a bulldozer.

Meanwhile, the trio of teen - aged adventurers who spent more than 50 hours in the gas-contaminated coal mine was in good spirits today in a hospital.

Bobby Abbott, 15, Danny O'Kain and Billy Burke, each 13, were pulled 2,000 feet to safety Saturday by a team of mine rescue experts who had not really believed the boys were in the mine.

All three were listed in satisfactory condition at St. Clair Memorial Hospital where they were being treated for exposure and dehydration. Hospital officials said the Burke youth was suffering from a minor lung disorder.

Rays May Damage Eyes

Eclipse To Darken Skies Late Saturday Afternoon

A near - total eclipse of the sun by the moon will darken the skies over East Liverpool late Saturday afternoon.

The gradual dimming will begin about 4:37, reaching its climax at 5:40, when about 85 per cent of the sun's surface will be blacked out.

The entire area will be shrouded in an unusual semi - darkness, but it will fade quickly. The whole show will be over by 6:51.

The eclipse will be visible throughout the northern half of the United States and all of Canada. It will be seen as a total eclipse in Alaska, northern Canada and Maine.

The moon will gradually obscure the surface of the sun. The eclipse occurs as the moon gradually moves between the earth's surface and the sun. The moon can blot out the sun from view on earth because it is 400 times closer to earth than the sun, although it is 400 times smaller.

The total eclipse will last only 100 seconds over Alaska and Maine, with the shadow moving across the earth at speeds of 1,-660 miles an hour and up.

Throughout the nation, opthalmological societies, optometric groups and others concerned with care of the eye warned against viewing the eclipse directly—even if using sun glasses or pieces of smoked glass.

The result can be blindness caused by the painless infra red rays emitted by the sun, they warned.

Watching the eclipse for only a few seconds can produce severe damage to the retina of the eye, they warned. The only safe way is by watching the eclipse on television or with some sort of projection device that provides an image of what is taking place, they added.

Foes Of Meter Proposal Answered By Daugherty

In defense of his proposal made to hire parking meter attendants and, in effect, cut the police force by one man, Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville said in a statement today that is "unfair" to permit such a proposal to "deteriorate into a state of confusion" and to "bring the proposal down to the level of personalities."

City Council received the proposal at its regular meeting last Tuesday night. The mayor presented legislation clearing the way for the hiring of meter attendants. No amendment has been introduced to the legislation governing the number of men on the police force.

Friday, Joseph A. Heiney, a former patrolman, field a petition in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon seeking a writ of mandamus that would force the city administration to fill a vacancy on the force from a list of three furnished by the Civil Service Commission.

Mayor Daughterty and Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare were named defendants in the action. A hearing will be held on the petition Aug. 13 at 9 a. m. Heiney resigned as patrolman June 16.

The mayor's statement follows: "It is unfair to a city to permit a proposal made in the community interest to deteriorate into a state of confusion. Any attempt by any group or person, for whatever reason, to bring the proposal down to the level of personalities and predjudices is not only wrong, but as most Wellsville people are aware, is simply not our forte.

"The proposal was made to give Wellsville three things:

"First, complete and effective coverage of our parking meter

Brown Seeks Post With City School Board

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown, 2054 Lisbon St., a former member and vice president, filed for a new term on the Board of Education today with the County Election Board.

Brown is the third candidate to file for three seats which will be filled at the Nov. 5 general election. Joseph G. Reed and William C. Heasley filed earlier.

Brown served from 1958-61 on the school board but was defeated for a second term at the 1961 general election, trailing Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop by about 10 votes. Harry D. McConville and Mrs. Dunlop were elected.

Brown, 52, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Brown, 339 W. 4th St., and is a graduate of East Liverpool schools, Kent State University and the General Motors Institute.

Fumes Ignite; Youth Burned

Torch Touches Off Gas And Asphalt

A New Cumberland area youth suffered burns of the face, chest and arms early Sunday morning while using a lighted torch to check the level of a mixture of asphalt and gasoline in a tank truck near Chester.

Robert Pittman, 19, of R. D. 2 is in "fair" condition today in Weirton General Hospital with burns suffered when fumes ignited as he looked inside the tank truck through a hatch while holding the burning torch.

An employe of the West Virginia State Road Commission, the youth was sent to the scene along State Route 2 Sunday at 2 a. m.

Wirtz Blasts Both Sides In Rail Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz says the four-year-old dispute over railroad work rules is headed toward a compulsory solution because both the carriers and the unions are guilty of "a failure of responsibility."

"There is no affirmative attempt by either side in this situation to do anything about settling it even at this hour," Wirtz said Sunday as a special presidential panel prepared to sift the facts in the jobs tangle.

"There has been at this point an apparent assumption by both parties that somebody else, the government, the Congress, whoever it may be, is going to decide this," the secretary said in a televised interview.

Still, Wirtz added, he hopes that "when both of these parties are looking down the gun barrel" of possible congressional action, "there is going to be a real facing up to the implications of the fact that if they don't settle, the prospect is something which will weaken the whole institution of collective bargaining."

Wirtz is chairman of the special committee that begins today to lay the basis for a report President Kennedy plans to send to Congress July 22 aimed at solving the rules dispute. Wirtz refused to say whether the administration would recommend compulsory arbitration.

Carrier and union representatives will be standing by as the panel meets today, ready for questioning on specific points. Tuesday the committee will hold separate and joint sessions with the two sides, hoping to begin writing a report for Kennedy on Wednesday.

The railroads have postponed until July 29 putting into effect new work rules designed to eliminate gradually about 60,000 jobs they claim are unnecessary. The five operating unions, which say the jobs are essential for safe and efficient train operations, have promised to delay strike action until that date.

Over the weekend, Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said they were opposed to legislation that would require compulsory arbitration of the dispute.

Be Prepared

LOUISVILLE (AP) — A group of new Girl Scouts, after being introduced to the mysteries of first aid, underwent an examination. "What would you do if a small child swallowed the door key?" the instructor asked one child.

"I guess," she reasoned, "I'd climb in through the window."

The boys entered the mine Thursday afternoon after parking their bicycles near the entrance. For nearly two days mine rescue teams combed the myriad passageways of the dank mine without turning up a trace of the youths. Only the parents steadfastly believed their boys were inside.

"I knew they wouldn't leave their bikes there and run away," said Bobby Abbott's father.

"The boys' bikes were their prized possessions," said Billy Burke's mother. "I knew they wouldn't leave them. They had to be in the mine."

The boys said they had been in the mine several times before but this time, "We made a wrong turn."

Mechanic Called To Fix Wellsville Fire Apparatus

Wellsville's fire truck has been "deadlined" because of trouble either in the transmission or pumper.

The trouble developed Sunday at 11:45 a. m. while the firemen were extinguishing a minor blaze in a car that had been driven to the station.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said while the booster line from the truck parked at the station was being used, the trouble developed in either the transmission or pump.

A mechanic from the Seagraves company has been called to make repairs.

While the truck is down, arrangements have been made with mutual aid departments to protect the city and the surrounding area.

The volunteer fire department's pumper also is available and the old 1927 Seagraves can be used to lay lines from hydrants, the chief said.

Reserve Unit Returns After 2-Week Training

Members of East Liverpool's Army Reserve unit, Co. A of the 7th Tank Battalion, returned over the weekend from two weeks summer training at Camp Pickett, Va.

The main body of men was flown back by plane and arrived home Friday night, according to Capt. John W. Muller Jr., commander.

The convoy section returned Saturday. No one was injured during the two-week session, the commander said. The men left June 29. Taking the training were 57 enlisted men and four officers.

Capt. Muller said a drill will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Armory on Poplar Ln. The men may wear civilian clothing, he said.

Soviet Loses Ecuador Bid

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Moscow and Havana can write off Ecuador—at least for the time being—as a key target for Communist conquest in South America.

Their campaign of sabotage and terrorism, directed by Castro-trained Ecuadoreans, was crushed after the armed forces took over Ecuador's government four days ago.

It rounded up top Communist and leftist trouble-makers and started weeding out extremists entrenched in the government.

Manuel Araujo Hidalgo, recognized leader of Cetan Prime Minister Fidel Castro's movement in Ecuador, went into hiding. A frequent visitor to Havana, he returned three weeks ago from a trip to Red China and Russia, reportedly with orders and funds for a campaign to turn Ecuador Communist.

Jose Maria Roura, Panama-born Red agent in Ecuador, was already behind bars. Police arrested him last month when he returned from Communist China with $25,000 and an arsenal of Red propaganda.

The military junta chose bitterly anti-Communist Col. Aurelio Naranjo as minister of national defense, responsible for the nation's internal security.

The junta's presiding officer, navy Capt. Ramon Castro Jijon, said the main objective of the armed forces was "to wipe out Communists in our country." The military bosses declared they took over Ecuador because of Communist threats and Arosemena's failure to act.

Drink Sale Case Slated Thursday

Hearings today were scheduled Thursday in Municipal Court for an 18-year-old city youth charged with the purchase of intoxicating beverages and a bartender accused of selling it to him.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff granted a continuance at the request of Atty. George M. Aronson who represents Joseph Slager, a bartender at The Shamrock on E. 6th St.

Judge Chertoff continued Slager's bond of $100 and continued to hold Reed's application for a duplicate driver's license. They were cited at 2:30 a. m. Thursday on E. 6th St.

Meanwhile, Slager said today he now resides on 1st St., Newell. He formerly lived at 841 Avondale St., the address listed for him by police, Slager said.

OTHER expenditures estimated were $5,750, Board of Health; $16,000, street lights; $2,000, sewer drains, and $1,850, parks.

Some of the other funds, not included in the general fund, are as follows, with the receipts, expenditures, and anticipated Dec. 31, 1964, balance in that order: Library, $11,430.06, ($7,000), $4,430.06; poor relief, $35,669.14, ($35,000), $669.14; cemetery endowment, $805.18, ($500), $305.18; street maintenance, $56,243.35, ($50,000), $6,243.35; water, $50,823.35, ($48,000), $2,823.35; fire and police pensions each, $3,000 ($3,000), no balance; cemetery, $22,094.97; ($15,000), $7,094.97; cemetery trust, $2,495.93, ($500);, $1,995.93; refuse disposal, $32,140.15, ($30,000), $2,140.15; sewage disposal, $65,103.49, ($45,000), $20,103.49.

PARKING meter receipts show an estimated balance of $9,667.93 at the end of the current year, estimated receipts of $10,000 during 1964, estimated expenditures of $8,000, leaving an estimated balance of $11,667.93 at the end of 1964.

Council adopted the budget under suspension of rules. Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, was absent.

Patrolman Robert Wellington and Joseph Heiney were in the audience. Wellington asked that the police administration figures be read again. He then asked if there was any breakdown to show if there is any anticipated change in the salaries.

MILLER explained the figures total about the same as in the current year.

He said the salary figures will be set by the incoming Council when the actual appropriation is made.

A public hearing on the budget was held today at the office of Auditor Edgar S. Davidson. Anyone wishing to examine it may do so.

The budget then will be forwarded to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon, which fixes the actual amount the city may appropriate.

nuclear tests in the air, in space and under water.

Such a pact could be readily policed because nuclear explosions under any of these conditions can be detected from great distances. It would also outlaw the tests which produce radioactive nuclear fallout.

Khrushchev in a speech in East Berlin July 2 approved a Western proposal for an unpoliced partial ban. Underground tests were exempted to avoid the thorny issue of on-site inspection.

At the time Khrushchev approved a partial test ban, he revived the Soviet proposal for a non-aggression treaty between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw Pact alliance. He said the test ban and the non-aggression pact should be signed simultaneously, but U.S. officials were not sure that he was making a non-aggression treaty the price of a test ban.

Western observers expected the opening round of the secret three-power talks at the Kremlin would clarify whether Khrushchev would insist on the two treaties as a package deal.

Harriman and Hailsham made it clear on their arrival Sunday that they were not authorized to negotiate a non-aggression pact.

Western opposition to the non-aggression pact stems partly from the fact that it would tend to seal the division of Germany and force Western recognition of Communist East Germany.

Khrushchev appeared to have cleared the way for a test ban accord by administering a huge blast last weekend at his Chinese rivals for leadership in the Communist camp.

Meeting Due On Violence In Maryland

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) —Gov. J. Millard Tawes invited officials of this racially scarred city of 12,200 to meet with him today in the state capital of Annapolis.

Semiparalyzed by racial strife and a resultant military clampdown, officials of the Southern-oriented city had asked the governor to come here quickly for discussions of its problems.

They said they wanted to talk to Tawes about the hardships imposed by militia law, invoked after six white persons were wounded in a wave of violence last week.

The National Guard leaders, among other things, decreed a 9 p.m. off-the-streets curfew, a 7 p.m. closing hour for all commercial establishments, and a total ban on sale of alcoholic drink.

Attitudes on both sides seemed to be hardening today. Gloria Richardson, militant leader of the integrationists, announced that there would be some "non-violent direct action" during the day. Under militia law, a modified form of martial law, all demonstrations are forbidden.

On the other hand, a movement was under way to organize a citizens council of white persons to oppose the Negro drive. There we considerable rumblings among some segments of the white population that "this state is going too far on the side of the Negro."

City Motorist Injured In Mishap At Midland

A city motorist was treated at City Hospital Saturday afternoon for a neck injury he said he suffered in a three-car crash Friday afternoon in Midland.

James Fisher, 302 Maplewood Ave., said his car was struck in the rear by another at a traffic light. His car then was shoved into a third vehicle, Fisher said.

He Made Gold Strike On Cutting Down Tree

NIDWALDEN, Switzerland (AP)—Franz Amstutz cut down a tree near the fashionable Alpine playground of Burgenstock, and trod on a box crammed with gold pieces.

Local police are trying to decide who gets the gold — the farmer, the man who owns the ground where it was found, or the original owner, perhaps a Frenchwoman from Nice who stayed in the neighborhood during World War II. Franz isn't worried. No matter who claims the gold, he still is entitled to a finder's reward of up to 50 per cent of the total, which is 3,700 francs at today's values.

400 Greet Old Locomotive

'The General' Rolls Into Wellsville

A crowd of about 400 greeted "The General," famous Civil War locomotive, when it steamed into the Pennsylvania Railroad yards in Wellsville this morning for inspection until noon on part of its swing through Ohio in the Civil War Centennial observance.

The Pennsy tracks from East Liverpool to Wellsville were dotted with family groups who watched the tiny black engine chug by, towing a yellow coach converted into a miniature museum.

It stopped at Westgate School, where about 20 invited guests boarded. There the locomotive, which figured in one of the most melodramatic episodes of the Civil War, proceeded to Wellsville for a three-hour stop.

Crowds gathered early at the Pennsy yards in Wellsville and "The General" arrived there about 9:30 with two Wellsville railroaders — H. F. McFadden and G. W. Mackall — at the controls.

McFadden, engineer, and Mackall, conductor, joined the touring Louisville & Nashville Railroad crews at Conway for the trip into Columbiana County.

Cameras clicked and youngsters became wide - eyed in amazement as the engine, trimmed in gold with bright red wheels, left the main tracks and made its way in reverse onto a switch for the stop-over.

Fife and drum music by a Civil War field music company, led by Capt. Tom Gualtier of Wellsville, helped lend a colorful greeting to the engine, which was stolen by Andrews Raiders at Big Shanty, Ga., in 1862

Long lines formed to board Coach 665 containing the museum, which illustrates more than a century of railroading.

"The General" was on view Sunday at Lisbon. Leaving Wellsville today, it will proceed to Steubenville.

About 3,000 viewed the locomotive at Lisbon. Fifty invited guests rode the train from Leetonia to the county seat. About

Mood Boosts Hopes

Party Battle Looms

Rockefeller Challenges Goldwater For GOP Nod

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has challenged Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., to an all-out liberal vs. conservative fight for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

In a policy statement tantamount to announcing his candidacy, the New York governor said Sunday the Goldwater strategy is to try to weld conservative, Southern and Western support while writing off Northern states. This, Rockefeller said, "would not only defeat the Republican party in 1964 but would destroy it altogether.'

Rockefeller said it was incredible that the Republicans would offer such an alternative to the "unprincipled opportunism that has captured the Democratic party."

He added: "That alternative will never be found in a party of extremism, a party of sectionalism, a party of racism, a party that disclaims responsibility for most of the population before it even starts its campaign for their support."

Goldwater, who was not named in the statement, made no immediate response. But associates said they interpreted Rockefeller's attack as a declaration of war they were certain the senator would accept, even though he remains an unannounced belligerent.

They added that if Goldwater is writing off the industrial North as Rockefeller charged, the New York governor is giving up on Republican chances to collect electoral votes in the South.

Rockefeller's blast is regarded in Washington as the opening gun of a vigorous comeback campaign for the nomination. He was considered by many observers the leading contender until his recent marriage to a divorced mother of four children.

In the period between his reelection as governor last year and his remarriage, Rockefeller tried with some success to warm up the conservatives to his cause by making what many of his listeners called "good Republican speeches" in the Midwest.

But the New York governor's attack on what he said were extremist views in the party indicated he has decided his best chance for the nomination is to champion the liberal viewpoint and sharpen his division with the conservatives.

Mr. K Quips As Moscow Talks Begin

West Believes Split With Red China Has Effect On Prospects

MOSCOW (AP) — Jovial and apparently optimistic, Premier Khrushchev personally opened talks today on a limited nuclear test ban agreement with special envoys of President Kennedy and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Harriman shoved a pencil and pad across the table toward Khrushchev. Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko grinned to his chief and said: "Sign it and leave it to be filled in."

The conference is expected to last 10 days.

Khrushchev's mood seemed to share the optimism of both the British and Americans about the success in agreeing on a prohibition which would bar nuclear test explosions in the air, in space and under water.

The Western side saw no prospect of getting a complete ban to cover underground explosions also.

Increasing the prospects for an agreement was the worsening split between the Soviet Union and Red China, Westerners here believed.

News photographers were allowed to enter the conference room before the actual talks began to take pictures of the negotiators.

The conference began with nine representatives on the U.S. and British side and five on the Soviet side.

Hearings Resumed On Senate Study Of Kennedy Proposals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. George Wallace of Alabama said today that inept handling of racial problems by the Kennedy administration has resulted in "a nation torn by strife and turmoil on the brink of civil warfare."

Wallace who failed in his "schoolroom door" stand against integration at the University of Alabama, said that if Congress passes a public accomodations bill, "You should make preparations with withdraw all our troops from Berlin, Viet Nam and the rest of the world because they will be needed to police America."

Wellsville Drops Budget For 1964

The 1964 budget, estimating $129,236 in receipts and $128,401 in expenditures in the general fund, was adopted by Wellsville City Council at a special meeting Saturday night.

The general fund is down about $16,941 from the $145,177.68 that will be spent in 1963, based on actual expenditures in the first six months and anticipated outlay in the last half.

The actual appropriation in the general fund for 1961 was $132,724.82. In 1962, it was $128,170.76.

Counilman Donald Miller, finance chairman, explained that one reason for the decrease is the lower balance anticipated at the end of this year.

UNDER THE budget, the anticipated balance at the end of 1964 will be $835.63. The carryover at the end of the current year is estimated at only $3,300.88, about $5,000 less than at the end of 1962.

It also was pointed out in the budget that inheritance tax receipts are estimated at about $2,000 less. Other anticipated revenues vary in smaller amounts.

Some of the anticipated revenue is: $51,500, general property tax; $13,500, sales tax; $21,000, state intangibles; $11,500, liquor permits; $7,000, personal property tax, and $9,000, fines and forfeitures.

THE GENERAL property tax, half estimated and half actual, for the current year was listed at $49,500.

Under expenditures, the budget estimates $32,500 for police salaries, excluding a clerk, and $6,500 for other police service. This is

Steady Rains Help Parched County Fields

Farmers Welcome 'Soaking' Showers Of Over Half-Inch

A steady rain that fell throughout Sunday morning and then continued intermittently into the afternoon provided more than a half-inch of badly-needed precipitation for parched county croplands.

Farmers welcomed the rain particularly because it was the slow, soaking type that did the most possible good for their dry fields —providing aid especially for the second hay crop.

The Stratton Dam measured an even half-inch of rain in the 24 hours ending at 7 this morning. Another twelve-hundredths of an inch was measured prior to 7 a. m. Sunday.

Columbiana County farmers commented that the season's first hay cutting was short for lack of rain and the second promised to be even worse for lack of moisture. Without rain, there would be no third cutting of hay this season, farmers observed.

Late oats crops also were reported affected by lack of rain, although the early oats crop was normal.

Cool nights helped the current corn crop survive the lack of rain and wheat appears to have had enough moisture, farmers said.

U.S. Pushes Youngstown Racket Study

Progress Reported By Robert Kennedy In Sunday Speech

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says an investigation is continuing into rackets elements in the Youngstown area.

"Progress is being made and a number of investigations still are being carried on," Kennedy told a news conference Sunday after addressing Slovak Catholic Sokol convention delegates.

Kennedy referred to the indictments returned last month by a special grand jury in Cleveland against eight Youngstown area persons. Those indictments stemmed from an 18-month probe by the Justice Department's Criminal Division, the Internal Revenue service and the FBI.

Charges in the indictments ranged from conspiracy to defraud the government of excise and income taxes to failure to file income tax returns.

Potters Open 69th Meeting At Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS — Seasonal temperatures ranging well above 100 degrees welcomed 200 delegates to the 69th annual meeting of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters, which opened this morning at the 24-story Sahara Hotel.

But a stiff breeze and seven per cent humidity helped ease the discomfort of the temperature — plus the fact the Convention Hall and all other facilities of the sprawling hotel are air conditioned.

E. L. Wheatley, international president, banged the gavel to launch the first session, which was occupied principally with appointment of standing committees and various routine reports.

The convention is expected to continue in session through Friday or Saturday.

The delegates from all parts of the United States and sections of Canada will act on 56 resolutions that appear in the printed program, plus others presented from the floor.

One of the principal issues will be a proposal to hold conventions every two years, instead of annually as at present, to help ease the drain on the treasuries

Salem Boy, 9, Hurt Badly In 2-Way Crash

Gear Shift's Lever Impales Youngster; 4 Others Injured

A Salem area boy was injured critically and four others were hurt in a two-car crash Sunday at 10:35 p. m. at the intersection of Depot Rd. and Pigeon Rd. seven - tenths a mile south of Salem.

Officers said the crash near Salem involved cars driven by Thelma Jean Gibson, 20, of Petersburg and Robert Goodman of Salem R. D. 3.

The two cars met in the center of the intersection, according to officers, who said the mishap still is under investigation.

Gary Goodman, 9, of Salem R. D. 3 was thrown foreward by the impact. He struck the steering column and the gear shift lever pierced his back and remained there, the patrol said.

He was taken to Salem City Hospital and then transferred to

Rays May Damage Eyes

Eclipse To Darken Skies Late Saturday Afternoon

A near - total eclipse of the sun by the moon will darken the skies over East Liverpool late Saturday afternoon.

The gradual dimming will begin about 4:37, reaching its climax at 5:40, when about 85 per cent of the sun's surface will be blacked out.

The entire area will be shrouded in an unusual semi - darkness, but it will fade quickly. The whole show will be over by 6:51.

The eclipse will be visible throughout the northern half of the United States and all of Canada. It will be seen as a total eclipse in Alaska, northern Canada and Maine.

The moon will gradually obscure the surface of the sun. The eclipse occurs as the moon gradually moves between the earth's surface and the sun. The moon can blot out the sun from view on earth because it is 400 times closer to earth than the sun, although it is 400 times smaller.

The total eclipse will last only 100 seconds over Alaska and Maine, with the shadow moving across the earth at speeds of 1,660 miles an hour and up.

Throughout the nation, opthalmological societies, optometric groups and others concerned with care of the eye warned against viewing the eclipse directly—even if using sun glasses or pieces of smoked glass.

The result can be blindness caused by the painless infra red rays emitted by the sun, they warned.

Watching the eclipse for only a few seconds can produce severe damage to the retina of the eye, they warned. The only safe way is by watching the eclipse on television or with some sort of projection device that provides an image of what is taking place, they added.

2 Americans Injured In Battle Near Saigon

SIAGON (AP)—Two Americans were injured and 63 Communist guerrillas killed in a daylong battle described as the worst ever fought near Saigon between government and Red forces.

Military sources placed government casualties at 26 killed, and 51 wounded.

The two Americans injured were not immediately identified. Only skimpy details were reported on the battle, which occured Saturday in Long Anh Province, 20 miles southwest of Saigon.

Military sources said the battle started when government troops in helicopters encountered a barrage of groundfire.

Mine Sealing Due As Crew Saves 3 Boys

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The entrance of an abandoned Castle Shannon coal mine from which three boys were rescued late Saturday after a two-day ordeal will be sealed with cement state mine officials announced Sunday.

A spokesman said the entrance will be walled with cement and filled in by a bulldozer.

Meanwhile, the trio of teen - aged adventurers who spent more than 50 hours in the gas-contaminated coal mine was in good spirits today in a hospital.

Bobby Abbott, 15, Danny O'Kain and Billy Burke, each 13, were pulled 2,000 feet to safety Saturday by a team of mine rescue experts who had not really believed the boys were in the mine.

All three were listed in satisfactory condition at St. Clair Memorial Hospital where they were being treated for exposure and dehydration. Hospital officials said the Burke youth was suffering from a minor lung disorder.

Foes Of Meter Proposal Answered By Daugherty

In defense of his proposal made to hire parking meter attendants and, in effect, cut the police force by one man, Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville said in a statement today that is "unfair" to permit such a proposal to "deteriorate into a state of confusion" and to "bring the proposal down to the level of personalities."

City Council received the proposal at its regular meeting last Tuesday night. The mayor presented legislation clearing the way for the hiring of meter attendants. No amendment has been introduced to the legislation governing the number of men on the police force.

Friday, Joseph A. Heiney, a former patrolman, field a petition in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon seeking a writ of mandamus that would force the city administration to fill a vacancy on the force from a list of three furnished by the Civil Service Commission.

Mayor Daughterty and Safety-Service Director Fred Baldasare were named defendants in the action. A hearing will be held on the petition Aug. 13 at 9 a. m. Heiney resigned as patrolman June 16.

The mayor's statement follows:

"It is unfair to a city to permit a proposal made in the community interest to deteriorate into a state of confusion. Any attempt by any group or person, for whatever reason, to bring the proposal down to the level of personalities and predjudices is not only wrong, but as most Wellsville people are aware, is simply not our forte.

"The proposal was made to give Wellsville three things:

"First, complete and effective coverage of our parking meter

Brown Seeks Post With City School Board

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown, 2054 Lisbon St., a former member and vice president, filed for a new term on the Board of Education today with the County Election Board.

Brown is the third candidate to file for three seats which will be filled at the Nov. 5 general election. Joseph G. Reed and William C. Heasley filed earlier.

Brown served from 1958-61 on the school board but was defeated for a second term at the 1961 general election, trailing Mrs. Nessie R. Dunlop by about 10 votes. Harry D. McConville and Mrs. Dunlop were elected.

Brown, 52, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Brown, 339 W. 4th St., and is a graduate of East Liverpool schools, Kent State University and the General Motors Institute.

How Railroaders Got Sidetracked

If ever an industry's workers had reason to wish they could reverse a drift into government control, railroaders must be wishing now their long association with Washington, D.C., never had begun.

Congress hog-tied railroads through federal control when close regulation of this new mode of transportation was good politics. Railroad management invited the hog-tying by high-handed action. Abuses of power were common.

TO MATCH its control of management, Congress established control of railroad labor. This reflected a belief that railroad transportation was inherently monopolistic in nature and had to be harshly regulated.

The truth is that railroad transportation ceased to be monopolistic in nature when motor vehicles began to move over long-distance highways. Later, the aviation industry pushed still further into absurdity the once-popular notion that people had to travel and send merchandise by rail or not at all.

Yet, Congress never had relinquished its tight control of railroad management and railroad labor. Today, this tradition makes it seem logical for President Kennedy to be dealing with the threat of a railroad tieup as if the industry were under government control.

RAILROAD LABOR is being confronted with a moment of truth that already has been confronted by workers in industries whose managements never lost the right to make the decisions that belong to it.

Even in industries strongly unionized, management never was encumbered with work rules that belonged to a previous generation. They were able to do years ago what railroads are still pleading with government for the right to do now — modernize.

It is tough for railroad labor to face this belated moment of truth. It has been tough for workers everywhere to yield to the inexorable pressure of competition, when it meant drastic upsets of jobs and earnings.

It has been tough in the auto industry and the steel industry. Even in an industry as new as commercial aviation, there is a quarrel about how many men should be required to fly an airplane.

THE UNITED STATES cannot exist without railroads. The American people have boundless confidence in railroad's ability to survive and prosper if government will permit them to do what they must do to compete on even terms.

It is unfortunate that the forthcoming showdown on work rules is going to confront railroad labor with arbitration, the thing it has feared most. But sooner or later someone was going to need to make arbitrary decisions about railroad work rules — decisions that could not be negotiated.

Railroaders had postponed the showdown until now.

Job For Chester Bowles

The exchange of ambassadors is interesting. This will be Mr. Bowles' second tour of duty, and he is returning to India at the height of a touchy problem of U.S. help for a government-owned and operated steel mill at Bokaro.

Indian confidence that the deal for this socialist enterprise was sewed up has been shaken recently. Though there seems to be no prospect of whittling down U.S. taxpayer aid to India, which is running at the rate of close to three quarters of a billion dollars a year, there might be some way to assure U.S. taxpayers that for all the billions they have advanced there is a fighting chance to get something in return besides diffident state ments about "neutrality" in the cold war.

INDIA is a charter member of the Billion Dollar Club among foreign aid recipients. There are 22 members, ranging from $9.4 billion France down to $1.1 billion Norway.

Other members besides India are: United Kingdom, Italy, Korea, West Germany, Nationalist China, Turkey, Japan, Greece, the Netherlands, Vietnam, Yugoslavia, Belgium-Luxembourg, Brazil, Pakistan, the Philippines, Spain, Indochina, Iran and Austria.

Foreign aid as a whole has cost the United States more than $120 billion since the end of World War II, according to U.S. Rep. Ottoa Passman, D-La. About $100 billion, Rep. Passman estimates, has gone into 111 foreign nations and entities. Rep. Passman as chairman of the House of Representatives subcommittee that deal with foreign aid appropriations has carried on a relentless campaign to curtail foreign aid spending.

HIS FAVORITE arguing point is that no other nation in the world is giving away its wealth. He points to the shrinking gold reserve — down from $23 billion to $16 billion in the last 10 years — as one of the long-term consequences of the program.

Illiteracy A Real Problem

Secretary Of Labor Wirtz was telling the unemployment subcommittee of the House Labor Committee about the problem of vocational training the other day.

There has been so much bright talk about retraining unemployed persons to fit them for jobs that it almost seems as if the problem had been solved. The truth is it hasn't been defined.

Secretary Wirtz was in a mood to dig down to the roots.

He said in effect that the federal government needed $100 million more, in addition to $161 million already appropriated for job retraining, to pay for literacy training.

This was necessary because at the level where unemployment is most severe no job retraining is possible if trainees cannot read and write.

He gave as an example the futility of training an unemployed man to become a building custodian if the trainee couldn't read the labels on detergent packages, rat poison packages, or even write his own name.

But frightening as it is to know that the problem of unemployment cannot be solved unless the problem of education can be solved it is more frightening to know that the U.S. secretary of labor still has not reached rock bottom.

Most of the illiterates he is talking about have been exposed to instruction in reading and writing at the most impressionable age for learning. For some reason, they did not learn. Others learned, but they didn't. Why?

Because some never can be taught to read and write. They could not learn as children and will not learn now when they are handicapped in competition for places on someone's payroll.

States and localities already have spent millions trying to teach them, to no avail. Contrary to the throbbing belief that more federal money can cure anything, including the ills of education, most illiteracy cannot be fixed with dollars.

Few if any illiterates in this country are that way because they lacked the opportunity to learn.

Purely Personal

I have a good idea for handling goons who misuse telephones to pester subscribers with sales pitches and sadistic jokes. Imitate those infuriating recordings when answering the phone—the kind that invite the caller to leave a message. Then click off and hang up.

For the first time in my adult life I can think of no excuse for legislators who leave the impression they are unable to legislate because they are playing politics for its own sake. They leave me with this impression, too.

U.S. Bureau of Customs wants to experiment with a plan to clear the baggage of New York-bound passengers in ports abroad, to avert jams at this end of the trip, which recalls one of New York's funniest free shows—the view from the gallery at Idlewild Airport as incoming passengers open their luggage for customs inspection.

I am recurrently impressed with a fact about criminals that is easily forgotten. Except for a handful of top operators, these people are of inferior intelligence and easily trapped. Otherwise, they would take the country by storm.

It tickled me to read that the good people of Britain are wondering how to keep other pretty girls from foregoing virtue in favor of living as high as Christine Keeler and her counterparts. The problem is not new. The solution has something to do with the way kids are brought up.

My only first-hand experience with railroading came in my teens when another kid and I hopped a freight train rumbling through town at slow speed, were spotted by a rear-end brakeman who started after us brandishing a club and unloaded along a right of way cluttered with piles of ties and cinders. By that time, the freight had gathered speed and the unloading was an end-over-end process, made more so by the fact I landed backward.

Someone was wondering what I thought about the way things are going in South Viet Nam. I am unable to think about a country whose names I neither can spell nor pronounce. I get as confused as I used to get about those Russian novels in which the characters' names kept shifting around.

The lady with whom I discuss things freely finally put her finger on what looks odd about people in compact cars. One night when she was sitting outside on my arrival home from work she said, "You don't look real in that thing. You look as if you'd been painted in there."

Headline writers develop bad habits, to make words fit. Short words are irresistible, such as "head" for president, chairman, president, principal, etc. I keep waiting for a headline that calls the president of a packing house company a "meat head," not to mention a dozen other wonderful possibilities.

Incidentally, ladies swimsuits are half off again.

There are times when I feel sorry for Floyd Patterson. Then I remember the greatest receipts from any fight were an estimated $5 million from the third Patterson-Johansson fight at Miami Beach in 1961, with Patterson's share estimated at $2 million. At such prices, who needs pity?

Can't Win For Losing!

'The Sacred Cow Grows Bigger'

By Raymond Moley

President Kennedy soberly declares that deficit spending is designed to create more taxable income and thus ultimately bring the budget into balance. The sincerity of this purpose can be challenged on many counts. Here is one of many examples.

His appointee as administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration has again sought and secured by vote of the House a large sum for his agency. The amount authorized in the agriculture bill for this outfit is $425 million. This money will be drawn from the Treasury, which pays 4 per cent or more for it. Then the REA lends this money to cooperatives which once were rural but now operates mostly in large business and non-rural areas.

THE NET LOSS to the taxpayers is 50 per cent. For the Treasury will pay $17 million for the money and will receive in return $8.5 million.

With the money borrowed, the cooperatives build power plants and transmission lines. Ninety-seven per cent of their activities compete with those of private companies which pay not only full federal taxes but state and local taxes as well.

When those private companies seek to get money for their development, they must pay upwards of 4 to 5 per cent to private investors.

Thus, to the extent that these cooperatives take business from private companies, the government gets less in taxes. And this cuts off the "additional" revenues which President Kennedy says he will get from enlarged private business operations.

Year after year there have been protests against this irresponsible rigmarole. A minority of House members and senators have sough to halt this subsidy. Magazine articles and newspaper editorials have brought out the shocking facts.

President Eisenhower asked Congress to stop the subsidy. And here and there isolated cooperatives themselves have expressed their hope that the co-ops could be relieved of the stigma of getting something for nothing and that they might go on and operate on their own.

But the sacred cow has grown bigger and bigger and more sleek.

LAST MONTH there was a spirited debate in the House, and Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., offered an amendment ot the agricultural authorization act to eliminate the $425 million. His amendment was swamped by a vote of 140 to 53.

In that debate a good example of the operations of the REA came out. In Ginesville, Ga., there are two private companies in the cold-storage business. They service the community's main business of storing poultry for shipment.

The evidence is that they are quite capable of supplying that industry's needs. But another group sought to crash in on this business under the name of the Jackson Electric Membership Corp., with its headquarters in a neighboring town. It secured a loan of $137,000 from the REA. This money was then loaned to a freezer company at 4 per cent to supply the equipment to start the business.

The Jackson company assured the REA of its capacity to pay back the loan, which it could do since it borrows money for half the interest charge which it receives from the equipment company.

The private companies in Gainesville must pay taxes and also pay four or more per cent for their borrowings. But the REA ignored their protests.

WHAT KEEPS this sort of thing going? It is largely the powerful lobby called the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association headed by one Clyde Ellis, one of the most energetic and well financed lobbyists Washington has seen for ages.

The Ellis machine, housed in a fine building in Washington, hovers over Congress constantly, when he is not out whipping up the appetities of the coops that are members of the NRECA.

His constituency consists of hundreds and hundreds of co-ops over the nation. It ill betides the senator or congressman who opposes this aggregate political power. Presidential candidates, both Republican and Democratic, pay tribute to these "democratic" economic institutions.

Newspapers that print this article may well hear from Ellis. For one of his favorite weapons is letters to the editor objecting when a writer protests about the further maintenance of this sacred cow and asking that his side be printed.

Since I have repeatedly exposed this outlay of taxpayers' money, I occasionally get one of the Ellis missives. Maybe I will get one this time.

High-Riding Scientists

By David Hoffman

On July 20, at least five high-speed aircraft will chase a shadow darting across the face of Canada. But none of them will catch it.

The 50-mile-wide shadow is the wake trailed by a total eclipse. And there must be several thousand astronomers who would bend Heaven and Earth to stay inside it for a few extra seconds.

Because the shadow sweeps across the Earth at 1,660 to 2,800 m.p.h., the airplanes must lose the race. However, the scientists aboard the planes still can expect up to five extra minutes of inside - the shadow observation time.

Astronomical odds indicate that Prof. Charles H. Smiley of Brown University can remain longer in the path of totality than any of his colleagues. For Prof. Smiley will do his shadowing in a Lockheed F-104 jet fighter, one of the fastest in the Air Force stable.

Flying at 48,000 ft. and up to 1,200 m.p.h., Dr. Smiley intends to study two solar features that defy careful examination except during times of total eclipse.

ONE IS THE sun's outer corona, or shell, which consists of faint white streamers that dart out from the solar sphere. The other is the eerie zodiacal light, the faint glow that extends far into space and apparently is caused by sunlight bouncing off a planetary dust cloud that orbits the sun.

But Dr. Smiley will not be alone up there that dark Saturday afternoon.

A mile beneath him, at 42,000 feet, will be a Douglas DC-8 jetliner carrying Dr. Jocelyn R. Gill, an astronomer who works for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Also aboard will be one of the seven Mercury astronauts.

This flight, in a plane borrowed from Delta Air Lines, is being sponsored by the National Geographic Society and Douglas Aircraft Co. Scientists aboard the big jetliner will get only an extra 44 seconds or so of shadow time, for their plane will fly at 520 m.p.h.

Standing at the proper point in the moon shadow, an earthbound observer could observe the eclipse for up to 100 seconds. Dr. Smiley, by contrast, may remain inside the shadow for about five minutes as his plane travels nearly double the speed of sound.

By staring for more than a second or two, even though there's no discomfort, spectators are risking permanent eye damage. Invisible ultra-violet rays especially harmful to the eyes of children radiate constantly from the sun at all times, eclipse or no.

Experts caution that the phenomenon should be viewed through two layers of over-exposed and fully developed film, and even then only for a few seconds.

Moscow-Peking Rivalry

Differences Reign On Communist Policy

WASHINGTON

The efforts of the Russians and Red Chinese to explain their split would look like a farce in the use of language if the split itself did not have such immense significance for the future.

In their attacks on each other both sides were obviously writing for the history books to justify their positions. This was still no excuse for their long-windedness.

On June 14 the Chinese banged the Russians — particularly Premiere Khrushchev—in a statement which took up four full pages when reprinted in an American newspaper. It was a scathing criticism of the Soviet Union.

Yet, it hardly mentioned the Soviet Union by name. Instead, it turned its scorn on "certain persons."

It ridiculed the Russians for accepting Western notions, condemned them as unrealistic, accused them of long and repeated hostility to Red China, and, in short, accused them of undermining world communism.

Over this past weekend the Russians replied in a 35,000-word open letter to "all Communist parties of the world." The Russians indicated the Red Chinese directly, thus demonstrating how much the split has widened.

This was a savage answer which accused the Red Chinese of being anti-white racists, of falsifications and distortions, of ingratitude for Soviet help and of undermining the unity of world communism.

In between the two documents the Russians and Chinese on July 5 opened talks in Moscow to settle their differences. The weekend publication of Soviet feelings showed how little the talks achieved.

In fact, the Soviet statement said the Chinese delegates to the talks were making the split worse.

If that split—as it appears on the surface—could be summarized in a few paragraphs, this would be it:

1. Khrushchev, realizing the United States and Russia are so advanced in nuclear weapons that a war between them would eliminate both and much of the world besides, insists peaceful coexistence with the West is possible. The Red Chinese say it is impossible and that capitalism is aggressive and must be overcome by force. The Russians say the Chinese don't seem to have any idea what a nuclear war means.

2. Khrushchev isn't giving up hope of communizing the rest of the world. But he says this can be brought about peacefully. For instance: through internal efforts in individual countries and even through such devices as elections.

To this the Red Chinese say: nonsense. They insist that only revolutions can achieve world communism because the West wouldn't permit peaceful takeovers.

Actually, ill-will between the Russian and Chinese Communist parties go back into the 1920s when Stalin dominated the Red Chinese—20 years before they took control — and almost got them wiped out by Chiang Kai-shek.

Other tensions have built up since the Chinese Reds drove Chiang out of mainland China in 1949 and took over the country. In addition, there is the ancient problem of nationalism—of rivalry—between the two forces.

On top of this, and perhaps as vital as anything in the split, is the fact that the Russians and Chinese are in two different stages of communism, the former far advanced, the latter just in the beginning stages.

Thus the Russians, with their developing prosperity, would have far more to lose than the Chinese who are still in the scratching stage. They can afford to be more venturesome than the Russians.

Because this is so, Khrushchev has reason to be less reckless than the Chinese, although he was reckless enough last autumn when he slipped his missiles into Cuba and brought the United States and Russia to the edge of war.

He is no less a revolutionary than the Chinese. He's just more sophisiticated. There can hardly be any doubt—even among the Chinese — that Khrushchev will never stop trying his luck when and where he can. Cuba showed that.

He just doesn't want to stick his neck out, if he thinks it will be chopped off. If he does stick it out, as he did in Cuba, and knows he stuck it out too far, he'll pull it back and wait for another time.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The annual field day of the Buckeye Club was held on the club grounds in Madison Township, with W. L. Smith and A. E. Webber in charge.

The Negro Civic League, with Mrs. E. J. Adams as president, marked its second anniversary with special services in the Triumph Church of God on Erie St.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — William Glover of Glenmoor moved to San Francisco.

Jean Eason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eason of Jennings Ave., a student at Oberlin Conservatory of Music, presented a harp solo at the First Presbyterian Church.

Frank J. Rossi, son of Patsy Rossi, 604 Walnut St., was promoted to chief warrant officer in an armored division at Los Angeles.

Miss Ruth Jean Rambo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rambo of Calcutta, enlisted in the WAF for three years.

Floyd E. Tice installed Kenneth McBride as noble grand of Odd Fellows Lodge 880.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Stanton Local Board of Education: We would like to have the following questions answered:

1.—Why do you want to run the city water of Irondale to the Stanton Local High School when the supply is not adequate for Irondale?

2.—We would like to have the figures quoted on a self-sustaining reservoir for the Stanton Local High School by an uninterested party.

3.—What did the Ohio State Department of Health have to say when they were asked about bringing the water from Irondale to Stanton Local High School? Do you know—we do?

4.—Why was this kept quiet until right of ways were wanted? Are you afraid to bring the facts before the people of this district?

5.—If the water is brought from Irondale, what will be the cost of continuous chlorination of the water at the school?

6.—Is it legal to sell water to someone outside the city limits if you do not have an excess of water.

7.—How much are you paying for the water by the truckload?

8.—Who is to pay for the equipment to enlarge the reservoir at Irondale — the Irondale corporation or the voters of the Stanton district?

9.—What is meant by the statement—"We are having this grading at the school done ourselves?" There were no bids advertised for this work?

The above letter was signed by the following: Raymond Householder, Mary Hooper, Jane Talbert, Minnie Hooper, Ruth Hooper, Alberta Oliver, Carol Hooper, James Hooper, Charles Oliver, Harry E. Springer, Ronald Tice, Gary Householder, Walter Cope, Mary Tice and Helen Householder, all of Hammondsville, and Henry Hood of Irondale R. D. 1.

Editor's Note: The Board of Education has promised a reply within a few days to the questions in the above letter.

Wirtz Blasts Both Sides In Rail Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz says the four-year-old dispute over railroad work rules is headed toward a compulsory solution because both the carriers and the unions are guilty of "a failure of responsibility."

"There is no affirmative attempt by either side in this situation to do anything about settling it even at this hour," Wirtz said Sunday as a special presidential panel prepared to sift the facts in the jobs tangle.

"There has been at this point an apparent assumption by both parties that somebody else, the government, the Congress, whoever it may be, is going to decide this," the secretary said in a televised interview.

Still, Wirtz added, he hopes that "when both of these parties are looking down the gun barrel" of possible congressional action, "there is going to be a real facing up to the implications of the fact that if they don't settle, the prospect is something which will weaken the whole institution of collective bargaining."

Wirtz is chairman of the special committee that begins today to lay the basis for a report President Kennedy plans to send to Congress July 22 aimed at solving the rules dispute. Wirtz refused to say whether the administration would recommend compulsory arbitration.

Carrier and union representatives will be standing by as the panel meets today, ready for questioning on specific points. Tuesday the committee will hold separate and joint sessions with the two sides, hoping to begin writing a report for Kennedy on Wednesday.

The railroads have postponed until July 29 putting into effect new work rules designed to eliminate gradually about 60,000 jobs they claim are unnecessary. The five operating unions, which say the jobs are essential for safe and efficient train operations, have promised to delay strike action until that date.

Over the weekend, Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said they were opposed to legislation that would require compulsory arbitration of the dispute.

Be Prepared

LOUISVILLE (AP) — A group of new Girl Scouts, after being introduced to the mysteries of first aid, underwent an examination. "What would you do if a small child swallowed the door key?" the instructor asked one child.

"I guess," she reasoned, "I'd climb in through the window."

The boys entered the mine Thursday afternoon after parking their bicycles near the entrance. For nearly two days mine rescue teams combed the myriad passageways of the dank mine without turning up a trace of the youths. Only the parents steadfastly believed their boys were inside.

"I knew they wouldn't leave their bikes there and run away," said Bobby Abbott's father.

"The boys' bikes were their prized possessions," said Billy Burke's mother. "I knew they wouldn't leave them. They had to be in the mine."

The boys said they had been in the mine several times before but this time, "We made a wrong turn."

Mechanic Called To Fix Wellsville Fire Apparatus

Wellsville's fire truck has been "deadlined" because of trouble either in the transmission or pumper.

The trouble developed Sunday at 11:45 a. m. while the firemen were extinguishing a minor blaze in a car that had been driven to the station.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said while the booster line from the truck parked at the station was being used, the trouble developed in either the transmission or pump.

A mechanic from the Seagraves company has been called to make repairs.

While the truck is down, arrangements have been made with mutual aid departments to protect the city and the surrounding area.

The volunteer fire department's pumper also is available and the old 1927 Seagraves can be used to lay lines from hydrants, the chief said.

Reserve Unit Returns After 2-Week Training

Members of East Liverpool's Army Reserve unit, Co. A of the 7th Tank Battalion, returned over the weekend from two weeks summer training at Camp Pickett, Va.

The main body of men was flown back by plane and arrived home Friday night, according to Capt. John W. Muller Jr., commander.

The convoy section returned Saturday. No one was injured during the two-week session, the commander said. The men left June 29. Taking the training were 57 enlisted men and four officers.

Capt. Muller said a drill will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Armory on Poplar Ln. The men may wear civilian clothing, he said.

Soviet Loses Ecuador Bid

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — Moscow and Havana can write off Ecuador—at least for the time being—as a key target for Communist conquest in South America.

Their campaign of sabotage and terrorism, directed by Castro-trained Ecuadoreans, was crushed after the armed forces took over Ecuador's government four days ago.

It rounded up top Communist and leftist trouble-makers and started weeding out extremists entrenched in the government.

Manuel Araujo Hidalgo, recognized leader of Cetan Prime Minister Fidel Castro's movement in Ecuador, went into hiding. A frequent visitor to Havana, he returned three weeks ago from a trip to Red China and Russia, reportedly with orders and funds for a campaign to turn Ecuador Communist.

Jose Maria Roura, Panama-born Red agent in Ecuador, was already behind bars. Police arrested him last month when he returned from Communist China with $25,000 and an arsenal of Red propaganda.

The military junta chose bitterly anti-Communist Col. Aurelio Naranjo as minister of national defense, responsible for the nation's internal security.

The junta's presiding officer, navy Capt. Ramon Castro Jijon, said the main objective of the armed forces was "to wipe out Communists in our country." The military bosses declared they took over Ecuador because of Communist threats and Arosemena's failure to act.

Drink Sale Case Slated Thursday

Hearings today were scheduled Thursday in Municipal Court for an 18-year-old city youth charged with the purchase of intoxicating beverages and a bartender accused of selling it to him.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff granted a continuance at the request of Atty. George M. Aronson who represents Joseph Slager, a bartender at The Shamrock on E. 6th St.

Judge Chertoff continued Slager's bond of $100 and continued to hold Reed's application for a duplicate driver's license. They were cited at 2:30 a. m. Thursday on E. 6th St.

Meanwhile, Slager said today he now resides on 1st St., Newell. He formerly lived at 841 Avondale St., the address listed for him by police, Slager said.

Florida's Heat Takes Toll In Beauty Pageant

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — South Florida's sweltering mid-July heat is bullying contestants in the Miss Universe beauty pageant, which opened Sunday.

Miss Universe will be selected in Saturday night's finals.

Eight of the young women fainted or grew faint Sunday night in the pageant's official opening.

Judging for Miss U.S.A. begins Tuesday with the finals Wednesday night. Miss Universe judging begins Thursday, with the semi-finals Friday and the nationally televised (CBS) finals Saturday beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Goodman was hurt slightly and another passenger in his car, Emma Goodman, 50, also of Salem R. D. 3, suffered injuries of the left knee and foot.

James Dale Click, 26, of 27 Riverside Park is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a one-car crash about 3:30 a. m. today on the Wellsville-East Liverpool "super road."

Click was headed toward East Liverpool when he lost control about four - tenths a mile north of Wellsville. The car crossed the medial strip and struck an embankment on the opposite side of the road, officers said.

Click suffered back and chest injuries. East Liverpool police were notified of the car in the ditch and dispatched Patrolman Paul Carter to investigate.

The driver was not present when Carter found the car. After he returned to the station, he was sent to the Riverside Park home on a report the injured driver was there.

Click then was sent to the hospital in an ambulance and the patrol was notified.

A Lisbon area man was hurt in another one - car crash at 2:05 a. m. today on Route 30 two miles west of Lisbon.

Paul A. Deville, 20, of Lisbon R. D. 4 was headed west when he lost control and went off the left side of the highway, striking a utility pole.

Deville, who was cited for driving left of center, received a laceration above the right eye, abrasions of the elbow, forearm and knee. He was treated at Salem City Hospital.

A car driven by Robert Landerman, 36, of Columbiana R. D. 1 struck the rear of another driven by Cathleen Robinson, 21, of Pittsburgh Saturday afternoon at 2 on Route 7 just south of the junction with Route 46. Landerman suffered a laceration of the forehead, officers said. He was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Two from East Palestine were injured slightly in a two-car crash Saturday night at 9:05 on Township Rd. 958 just over a mile north of East Palestine.

Officers said Robert Zoblisien, 30, of 880 W. Martin St., East Palestine, struck the rear of a car driven by Evelyn Pander, 38, of 185 S. Market St., East Palestine.

Zoblisien was cited for unsafe operation. The woman suffered abrasions of the left arm and back while a passenger in her car, Dorothy Hogue, 27, of S. Market St., suffered bruises of the right leg and back.

Three other county crashes were investigated by the patrol. In one near Alliance, six were injured, none seriously, officers said.

125 See Installation Of District Minister

Approximately 125 attended the installation for the Rev. James A. McCollam, new pastor of the Oak Ridge and Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Churches, Sunday at special services in the Oak Ridge Church.

The Steubenville Presbytery conducted the installation, with the Rev. Mark Allen of Toronto in charge.

Mrs. Wilbert Shafer of Wellsville was guest soloist, with Miss Virginia Crews at the piano.

A dedication service of a memorial altar set, in memory of Connie Ruth Frischkorn, was held at the Sunday morning worship at the Oak Ridge church.

Summer Driving Tip

NEW YORK (AP) — A "space cushion" is a courteous driving habit for the highway motorist seeking to avert the "tailgating" type collision. This means maintaining a safe interval of at least one car length for every 10 miles per hour of speed. Also, there should be no more than 2½ inches of play (on foreign cars and compacts — 2 inches) between the brake pedal before and after pushing to the floor.

system, which we do not have at the present time. This would strengthen the operation.

"Second, because of the widespread and time-consuming involvement of our police department in the meter policing, we propose to relieve them of all responsibility of meters, thereby actually given them more time than they had with a total of six men. This would strengthen their operations.

"Third, we would be economizing, specifically in the general fund, which would strengthen Wellsville financially and could enable us to have on more occasions two patrolmen in our cruiser during the night hours.

"In our judgment, this is a sound proposal. We feel it should be judged on its merits. It is certainly worthy of a fair trial and that is all we ask for it. There should be no objection to giving it a chance."

VFW Post Statement Hits At Mayor's Plan

Wellsville VFW Post 5647 today publicly opposed a proposal made by Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville to hire parking meter attendants and, in effect, not fill a vacancy on the police force.

The state issued by the post is as follows:

"Wellsville VFW Post 5647 publicly supports the rights of veterans to seek and hold jobs. Therefore, we maintain that the hiring of female employes to substitute for positions of male employes with families is contrary to the belief of the average veteran.

"We emphasize the police organization is undermanned and will support any move to bring the force to full strength."

Fire department salaries are estimated at $21,000 and other services at $3,000. This is the same as the current year.

Under general administration, police, a clerk is listed for $1,400, the same as this year.

OTHER expenditures estimated were $5,750, Board of Health; $16,000, street lights; $2,000, sewer drains, and $1,850, parks.

Some of the other funds, not included in the general fund, are as follows, with the receipts, expenditures, and anticipated Dec. 31, 1964, balance in that order:

Library, $11,430.06, ($7,000), $4,430.06; poor relief, $35,669.14, ($35,000), $669.14; cemetery endowment, $805.18, ($500), $305.18; street maintenance, $56,243.35, ($50,000), $6,243.35; water, $50,823.35, ($48,000), $2,823.35; fire and police pensions each, $3,000 ($3,000), no balance; cemetery, $22,094.97; ($15,000), $7,094.97; cemetery trust, $2,495.93, ($500);, $1,995.93; refuse disposal, $32,140.15, ($30,000), $2,140.15; sewage disposal, $65,103.49, ($45,000), $20,103.49.

PARKING meter receipts show an estimated balance of $9,667.93 at the end of the current year, estimated receipts of $10,000 during 1964, estimated expenditures of $8,000, leaving an estimated balance of $11,667.93 at the end of 1964.

Council adopted the budget under suspension of rules. Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, was absent.

Patrolman Robert Wellington and Joseph Heiney were in the audience. Wellington asked that the police administration figures be read again. He then asked if there was any breakdown to show if there is any anticipated change in the salaries.

MILLER explained the figures total about the same as in the current year.

He said the salary figures will be set by the incoming Council when the actual appropriation is made.

A public hearing on the budget was held today at the office of Auditor Edgar S. Davidson. Anyone wishing to examine it may do so.

The budget then will be forwarded to the County Budget Commission at Lisbon, which fixes the actual amount the city may appropriate.

Talks

nuclear tests in the air, in space and under water.

Such a pact could be readily policed because nuclear explosions under any of these conditions can be detected from great distances. It would also outlaw the tests which produce radioactive nuclear fallout.

Khrushchev in a speech in East Berlin July 2 approved a Western proposal for an unpoliced partial ban. Underground tests were exempted to avoid the thorny issue of on-site inspection.

At the time Khrushchev approved a partial test ban, he revived the Soviet proposal for a non-aggression treaty between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and the Communist Warsaw Pact alliance. He said the test ban and the non-aggression pact should be signed simultaneously, but U.S. officials were not sure that he was making a non-aggression treaty the price of a test ban.

Western observers expected the opening round of the secret three-power talks at the Kremlin would clarify whether Khrushchev would insist on the two treaties as a package deal.

Harriman and Hailsham made it clear on their arrival Sunday that they were not authorized to negotiate a non-aggression pact.

Western opposition to the non-aggression pact stems partly from the fact that it would tend to seal the division of Germany and force Western recognition of Communist East Germany.

Khrushchev appeared to have cleared the way for a test ban accord by administering a huge blast last weekend at his Chinese rivals for leadership in the Communist camp.

Meeting Due On Violence In Maryland

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) —Gov. J. Millard Tawes invited officials of this racially scarred city of 12,200 to meet with him today in the state capital of Annapolis.

Semiparalyzed by racial strife and a resultant military clampdown, officials of the Southern-oriented city had asked the governor to come here quickly for discussions of its problems.

They said they wanted to talk to Tawes about the hardships imposed by militia law, invoked after six white persons were wounded in a wave of violence last week.

Mayor Calvin W. Mowbray and other officials got off their wire to the governor with 400 National Guardsmen posted at trouble spots and business plummeting.

The National Guard leaders, among other things, decreed a 9 p.m. off-the-streets curfew, a 7 p.m. closing hour for all commercial establishments, and a total ban on sale of alcoholic drink.

Attitudes on both sides seemed to be hardening today. Gloria Richardson, militant leader of the integrationists, announced that there would be some "non-violent direct action" during the day. Under militia law, a modified form of martial law, all demonstrations are forbidden.

On the other hand, a movement was under way to organize a citizens council of white persons to oppose the Negro drive. There we considerable rumblings among some segments of the white population that "this state is going too far on the side of the Negro."

Fisher, 52, was X-rayed Sunday at the hospital. The Midland police investigated.

He Made Gold Strike On Cutting Down Tree

NIDWALDEN, Switzerland (AP)—Franz Amstutz cut down a tree near the fashionable Alpine playground of Burgenstock, and trod on a box crammed with gold pieces.

Local police are trying to decide who gets the gold — the farmer, the man who owns the ground where it was found, or the original owner, perhaps a Frenchwoman from Nice who stayed in the neighborhood during World War II. Franz isn't worried. No matter who claims the gold, he still is entitled to a finder's reward of up to 50 per cent of the total, which is 3,700 francs at today's values.

How Railroaders Got Sidetracked

If ever an industry's workers had reason to wish they could reverse a drift into government control, railroaders must be wishing now their long association with Washington, D.C., never had begun.

Congress hog-tied railroads through federal control when close regulation of this new mode of transportation was good politics. Railroad management invited the hog-tying by high-handed action. Abuses of power were common.

TO MATCH its control of management, Congress established control of railroad labor. This reflected a belief that railroad transportation was inherently monopolistic in nature and had to be harshly regulated.

The truth is that railroad transportation ceased to be monopolistic in nature when motor vehicles began to move over long-distance highways. Later, the aviation industry pushed still further into absurdity the once-popular notion that people had to travel and send merchandise by rail or not at all.

Yet, Congress never had relinquished its tight control of railroad management and railroad labor. Today, this tradition makes it seem logical for President Kennedy to be dealing with the threat of a railroad tieup as if the industry were under government control.

RAILROAD LABOR is being confronted with a moment of truth that already has been confronted by workers in industries whose managements never lost the right to make the decisions that belong to it.

Even in industries strongly unionized, management never was encumbered with work rules that belonged to a previous generation. They were able to do years ago what railroads are still pleading with government for the right to do now — modernize.

It is tough for railroad labor to face this belated moment of truth. It has been tough for workers everywhere to yield to the inexorable pressure of competition, when it meant drastic upsets of jobs and earnings.

It has been tough in the auto industry and the steel industry. Even in an industry as new as commercial aviation, there is a quarrel about how many men should be required to fly an airplane.

THE UNITED STATES cannot exist without railroads. The American people have boundless confidence in railroad's ability to survive and prosper if government will permit them to do what they must do to compete on even terms.

It is unfortunate that the forthcoming showdown on work rules is going to confront railroad labor with arbitration, the thing it has feared most. But sooner or later someone was going to need to make arbitrary decisions about railroad work rules — decisions that could not be negotiated.

Railroaders had postponed the showdown until now.

Job For Chester Bowles

The exchange of ambassadors is interesting. This will be Mr. Bowles' second tour of duty, and he is returning to India at the height of a touchy problem of U.S. help for a government-owned and operated steel mill at Bokaro.

Indian confidence that the deal for this socialist enterprise was sewed up has been shaken recently. Though there seems to be no prospect of whittling down U.S. taxpayer aid to India, which is running at the rate of close to three quarters of a billion dollars a year, there might be some way to assure U.S. taxpayers that for all the billions they have advanced there is a fighting chance to get something in return besides diffident statements about "neutrality" in the cold war.

INDIA is a charter member of the Billion Dollar Club among foreign aid recipients. There are 22 members, ranging from $9.4 billion France down to $1.1 billion Norway.

Other members besides India are: United Kingdom, Italy, Korea, West Germany, Nationalist China, Turkey, Japan, Greece, the Netherlands, Vietnam, Yugoslavia, Belgium-Luxembourg, Brazil, Pakistan, the Philippines, Spain, Indochina, Iran and Austria.

Foreign aid as a whole has cost the United States more than $120 billion since the end of World War II, according to U.S. Rep. Ottoa Passman, D-La. About $100 billion, Rep. Passman estimates, has gone into 111 foreign nations and entities. Rep. Passman as chairman of the House of Representatives subcommittee that deal with foreign aid appropriations has carried on a relentless campaign to curtail foreign aid spending.

HIS FAVORITE arguing point is that no other nation in the world is giving away its wealth. He points to the shrinking gold reserve — down from $23 billion to $16 billion in the last 10 years — as one of the long-term consequences of the program.

Illiteracy A Real Problem

Secretary Of Labor Wirtz was telling the unemployment subcommittee of the House Labor Committee about the problem of vocational training the other day.

There has been so much bright talk about retraining unemployed persons to fit them for jobs that it almost seems as if the problem had been solved. The truth is it hasn't been defined.

Secretary Wirtz was in a mood to dig down to the roots.

He said in effect that the federal government needed $100 million more, in addition to $161 million already appropriated for job retraining, to pay for literacy training.

This was necessary because at the level where unemployment is most severe no job retraining is possible if trainees cannot read and write.

He gave as an example the futility of training an unemployed man to become a building custodian if the trainee couldn't read the labels on detergent packages, rat poison packages, or even write his own name.

But frightening as it is to know that the problem of unemployment cannot be solved unless the problem of education can be solved it is more frightening to know that the U.S. secretary of labor still has not reached rock bottom.

Most of the illiterates he is talking about have been exposed to instruction in reading and writing at the most impressionable age for learning. For some reason, they did not learn. Others learned, but they didn't. Why?

Because some never can be taught to read and write. They could not learn as children and will not learn now when they are handicapped in competition for places on someone's payroll.

States and localities already have spent millions trying to teach them, to no avail. Contrary to the throbbing belief that more federal money can cure anything, including the ills of education, most illiteracy cannot be fixed with dollars.

Few if any illiterates in this country are that way because they lacked the opportunity to learn.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

I have a good idea for handling goons who misuse telephones to pester subscribers with sales pitches and sadistic jokes. Imitate those infuriating recordings when answering the phone—the kind that invite the caller to leave a message. Then click off and hang up.

For the first time in my adult life I can think of no excuse for legislators who leave the impression they are unable to legislate because they are playing politics for its own sake. They leave me with this impression, too.

U.S. Bureau of Customs wants to experiment with a plan to clear the baggage of New York-bound passengers in ports abroad, to avert jams at this end of the trip, which recalls one of New York's funniest free shows—the view from the gallery at Idlewild Airport as incoming passengers open their luggage for customs inspection.

I am recurrently impressed with a fact about criminals that is easily forgotten. Except for a handful of top operators, these people are of inferior intelligence and easily trapped. Otherwise, they would take the country by storm.

It tickled me to read that the good people of Britain are wondering how to keep other pretty girls from foregoing virtue in favor of living as high as Christine Keeler and her counterparts. The problem is not new. The solution has something to do with the way kids are brought up.

My only first-hand experience with railroading came in my teens when another kid and I hopped a freight train rumbling through town at slow speed, were spotted by a rear-end brakeman who started after us brandishing a club and unloaded along a right of way cluttered with piles of ties and cinders. By that time, the freight had gathered speed and the unloading was an end-over-end process, made more so by the fact I landed backward.

Someone was wondering what I thought about the way things are going in South Viet Nam. I am unable to think about a country whose names I neither can spell nor pronounce. I get as confused as I used to get about those Russian novels in which the characters' names kept shifting around.

The lady with whom I discuss things freely finally put her finger on what looks odd about people in compact cars. One night when she was sitting outside on my arrival home from work she said, "You don't look real in that thing. You look as if you'd been painted in there."

Headline writers develop bad habits, to make words fit. Short words are irresistible, such as "head" for president, chairman, president, principal, etc. I keep waiting for a headline that calls the president of a packing house company a "meat head," not to mention a dozen other wonderful possibilities.

Incidentally, ladies swimsuits are half off again.

There are times when I feel sorry for Floyd Patterson. Then I remember the greatest receipts from any fight were an estimated $5 million from the third Patterson-Johansson fight at Miami Beach in 1961, with Patterson's share estimated at $2 million. At such prices, who needs pity?

Can't Win For Losing!

'The Sacred Cow Grows Bigger'

By Raymond Moley

President Kennedy soberly declares that deficit spending is designed to create more taxable income and thus ultimately bring the budget into balance. The sincerity of this purpose can be challenged on many counts. Here is one of many examples.

His appointee as administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration has again sought and secured by vote of the House a large sum for his agency. The amount authorized in the agriculture bill for this outfit is $425 million. This money will be drawn from the Treasury, which pays 4 per cent or more for it. Then the REA lends this money to cooperatives which once were rural but now operates mostly in large business and non-rural areas.

THE NET LOSS to the taxpayers is 50 per cent. For the Treasury will pay $17 million for the money and will receive in return $8.5 million.

With the money borrowed, the cooperatives build power plants and transmission lines. Ninety-seven per cent of their activities compete with those of private companies which pay not only full federal taxes but state and local taxes as well.

When those private companies seek to get money for their development, they must pay upwards of 4 to 5 per cent to private investors.

Thus, to the extent that these cooperatives take business from private companies, the government gets less in taxes. And this cuts off the "additional" revenues which President Kennedy says he will get from enlarged private business operations.

Year after year there have been protests against this irresponsible rigmarole. A minority of House members and senators have sough to halt this subsidy. Magazine articles and newspaper editorials have brought out the shocking facts.

President Eisenhower asked Congress to stop the subsidy. And here and there isolated cooperatives themselves have expressed their hope that the co-ops could be relieved of the stigma of getting something for nothing and that they might go on and operate on their own.

But the sacred cow has grown bigger and bigger and more sleek.

LAST MONTH there was a spirited debate in the House, and Rep. Frank J. Becker, R-N.Y., offered an amendment ot the agricultural authorization act to eliminate the $425 million. His amendment was swamped by a vote of 140 to 53.

In that debate a good example of the operations of the REA came out. In Ginesville, Ga., there are two private companies in the cold-storage business. They service the community's main business of storing poultry for shipment.

The evidence is that they are quite capable of supplying that industry's needs. But another group sought to crash in on this business under the name of the Jackson Electric Membership Corp., with its headquarters in a neighboring town. It secured a loan of $137,000 from the REA. This money was then loaned to a freezer company at 4 per cent to supply the equipment to start the business.

The Jackson company assured the REA of its capacity to pay back the loan, which it could do since it borrows money for half the interest charge which it receives from the equipment company.

The private companies in Gainesville must pay taxes and also pay four or more per cent for their borrowings. But the REA ignored their protests.

WHAT KEEPS this sort of thing going? It is largely the powerful lobby called the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association headed by one Clyde Ellis, one of the most energetic and well financed lobbyists Washington has seen for ages.

The Ellis machine, housed in a fine building in Washington, hovers over Congress constantly, when he is not out whipping up the appetities of the coops that are members of the NRECA.

His constituency consists of hundreds and hundreds of co-ops over the nation. It ill betides the senator or congressman who opposes this aggregate political power. Presidential candidates, both Republican and Democratic, pay tribute to these "democratic" economic institutions.

Newspapers that print this article may well hear from Ellis. For one of his favorite weapons is letters to the editor objecting when a writer protests about the further maintenance of this sacred cow and asking that his side be printed.

Since I have repeatedly exposed this outlay of taxpayers' money, I occasionally get one of the Ellis missives. Maybe I will get one this time.

High-Riding Scientists

By David Hoffman

On July 20, at least five high-speed aircraft will chase a shadow darting across the face of Canada. But none of them will catch it.

The 50-mile-wide shadow is the wake trailed by a total eclipse. And there must be several thousand astronomers who would bend Heaven and Earth to stay inside it for a few extra seconds.

Because the shadow sweeps across the Earth at 1,660 to 2,800 m.p.h., the airplanes must lose the race. However, the scientists aboard the planes still can expect up to five extra minutes of inside - the shadow observation time.

Astronomical odds indicate that Prof. Charles H. Smiley of Brown University can remain longer in the path of totality than any of his colleagues. For Prof. Smiley will do his shadowing in a Lockheed F-104 jet fighter, one of the fastest in the Air Force stable.

Flying at 48,000 ft. and up to 1,200 m.p.h., Dr. Smiley intends to study two solar features that defy careful examination except during times of total eclipse.

ONE IS THE sun's outer corona, or shell, which consists of faint white streamers that dart out from the solar sphere. The other is the eerie zodiacal light, the faint glow that extends far into space and apparently is caused by sunlight bouncing off a planetary dust cloud that orbits the sun.

But Dr. Smiley will not be alone up there that dark Saturday afternoon.

A mile beneath him, at 42,000 feet, will be a Douglas DC-8 jetliner carrying Dr. Jocelyn R. Gill, an astronomer who works for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. Also aboard will be one of the seven Mercury astronauts.

This flight, in a plane borrowed from Delta Air Lines, is being sponsored by the National Geographic Society and Douglas Aircraft Co. Scientists aboard the big jetliner will get only an extra 44 seconds or so of shadow time, for their plane will fly at 520 m.p.h.

Standing at the proper point in the moon shadow, an earth-bound observer could observe the eclipse for up to 100 seconds. Dr. Smiley, by contrast, may remain inside the shadow for about five minutes as his plane travels nearly double the speed of sound.

By staring for more than a second or two, even though there's no discomfort, spectators are risking permanent eye damage. Invisible ultra-violet rays especially harmful to the eyes of children radiate constantly from the sun at all times, eclipse or no.

Experts caution that the phenomenon should be viewed through two layers of over-exposed and fully developed film, and even then only for a few seconds.

Moscow-Peking Rivalry

By James Marlow

Differences Reign On Communist Policy

WASHINGTON

The efforts of the Russians and Red Chinese to explain their split would look like a farce in the use of language if the split itself did not have such immense significance for the future.

In their attacks on each other both sides were obviously writing for the history books to justify their positions. This was still no excuse for their long-windedness.

On June 14 the Chinese banged the Russians — particularly Premiere Khrushchev—in a statement which took up four full pages when reprinted in an American newspaper. It was a scathing criticism of the Soviet Union.

Yet, it hardly mentioned the Soviet Union by name. Instead, it turned its scorn on "certain persons."

It ridiculed the Russians for accepting Western notions, condemned them as unrealistic, accused them of long and repeated hostility to Red China, and, in short, accused them of undermining world communism.

Over this past weekend the Russians replied in a 35,000-word open letter to "all Communist parties of the world." The Russians indicated the Red Chinese directly, thus demonstrating how much the split has widened.

This was a savage answer which accused the Red Chinese of being anti-white racists, of falsifications and distortions, of ingratitude for Soviet help and of undermining the unity of world communism.

In between the two documents the Russians and Chinese on July 5 opened talks in Moscow to settle their differences. The weekend publication of Soviet feelings showed how little the talks achieved.

In fact, the Soviet statement said the Chinese delegates to the talks were making the split worse.

If that split—as it appears on the surface—could be summarized in a few paragraphs, this would be it:

1. Khrushchev, realizing the United States and Russia are so advanced in nuclear weapons that a war between them would eliminate both and much of the world besides, insists peaceful coexistence with the West is possible. The Red Chinese say it is impossible and that capitalism is aggressive and must be overcome by force. The Russians say the Chinese don't seem to have any idea what a nuclear war means.

2. Khrushchev isn't giving up hope of communizing the rest of the world. But he says this can be brought about peacefully. For instance: through internal efforts in individual countries and even through such devices as elections.

To this the Red Chinese say: nonsense. They insist that only revolutions can achieve world communism because the West wouldn't permit peaceful takeovers.

Actually, ill-will between the Russian and Chinese Communist parties go back into the 1920s when Stalin dominated the Red Chinese—20 years before they took control — and almost got them wiped out by Chiang Kai-shek.

Other tensions have built up since the Chinese Reds drove Chiang out of mainland China in 1949 and took over the country. In addition, there is the ancient problem of nationalism—of rivalry—between the two forces.

On top of this, and perhaps as vital as anything in the split, is the fact that the Russians and Chinese are in two different stages of communism, the former far advanced, the latter just in the beginning stages.

Thus the Russians, with their developing prosperity, would have far more to lose than the Chinese who are still in the scratching stage. They can afford to be more venturesome than the Russians.

Because this is so, Khrushchev has reason to be less reckless than the Chinese, although he was reckless enough last autumn when he slipped his missiles into Cuba and brought the United States and Russia to the edge of war.

He is no less a revolutionary than the Chinese. He's just more sophisiticated. There can hardly be any doubt—even among the Chinese — that Khrushchev will never stop trying his luck when and where he can. Cuba showed that.

He just doesn't want to stick his neck out, if he thinks it will be chopped off. If he does stick it out, as he did in Cuba, and knows he stuck it out too far, he'll pull it back and wait for another time.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The annual field day of the Buckeye Club was held on the club grounds in Madison Township, with W. L. Smith and A. E. Webber in charge.

The Negro Civic League, with Mrs. E. J. Adams as president, marked its second anniversary with special services in the Triumph Church of God on Erie St.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — William Glover of Glenmoor moved to San Francisco.

Jean Eason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eason of Jennings Ave., a student at Oberlin Conservatory of Music, presented a harp solo at the First Presbyterian Church.

Frank J. Rossi, son of Patsy Rossi, 604 Walnut St., was promoted to chief warrant officer in an armored division at Los Angeles.

Miss Ruth Jean Rambo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rambo of Calcutta, enlisted in the WAF for three years.

Floyd E. Tice installed Kenneth McBride as noble grand of Odd Fellows Lodge 880.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

Stanton Local Board of Education: We would like to have the following questions answered:

1.—Why do you want to run the city water of Irondale to the Stanton Local High School when the supply is not adequate for Irondale?

2.—We would like to have the figures quoted on a self-sustaining reservoir for the Stanton Local High School by an uninterested party.

3.—What did the Ohio State Department of Health have to say when they were asked about bringing the water from Irondale to Stanton Local High School? Do you know—we do?

4.—Why was this kept quiet until right of ways were wanted? Are you afraid to bring the facts before the people of this district?

5.—If the water is brought from Irondale, what will be the cost of continuous chlorination of the water at the school?

6.—Is it legal to sell water to someone outside the city limits if you do not have an excess of water.

7.—How much are you paying for the water by the truckload?

8.—Who is to pay for the equipment to enlarge the reservoir at Irondale — the Irondale corporation or the voters of the Stanton district?

9.—What is meant by the statement—"We are having this grading at the school done ourselves?" There were no bids advertised for this work?

The above letter was signed by the following: Raymond Householder, Mary Hooper, Jane Talbert, Minnie Hooper, Ruth Hooper, Alberta Oliver, Carol Hooper, James Hooper, Charles Oliver, Harry E. Springer, Ronald Tice, Gary Householder, Walter Cope, Mary Tice and Helen Householder, all of Hammondsville, and Henry Hood of Irondale R. D. 1.

Editor's Note: The Board of Education has promised a reply within a few days to the questions in the above letter.

ON HAND to greet "The General" when it arrived in Wellsville this morning were John Kelm, 4, and Deanna Kelm, 6, of Lisbon, outfitted in fetching costumes in their portrayal of Abe and Mary Todd Lincoln. A number of Wellsville Historical Society members also were wearing 19th century garb when they inspected the locomotive and museum car at the Pennsy Yard at 15th St., lending a colorful note to the scene.

2,000 more failed in a bid to see the museum car, as the train departed from Lisbon at 4:30.

The train was greeted at Lisbon by two youngsters dressed as "miniatures" of Abe and Mary Todd Lincoln. Abe was portrayed by John Kelm, 4, and Mrs. Lincoln was portrayed by Deanna Kelm, 6, wearing a blue print dress and white bonnet and carrying a black parasol.

Deanna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelm, and their sons, Jim, 14, and Warren, 11, helped provide music. The Kelms form a part of Co. L, 2nd Battalion, 19th Regiment, Buckeye Blues Brigade, field music. They reside on W. Lincoln Way. The Buckeye Blues have performed at previous Centennial celebrations in Hanover and Gettysburg.

The Buckeye Blues also will appear later in July during the celebration of the centennial of the capture of Gen. John H. Morgan and his Confederate cavalry raiders near Lisbon.

The locomotive arrived in Lisbon from Leetonia. Leaving Lisbon, it went to Conway for an overnight halt, then proceeded into this area this morning.

the seven points in President Kennedy's civil rights program—a bill prohibiting racial discrimination in such public facilities as restaurants and hotels.

Wallace said Americans "are not going to comply with this type legislation," and he labeled the rest of Kennedy's civil rights program "equally abominable."

"A President who sponsors legislation such as the civil rights act of 1963 should be retired from office," Wallace said, predicting that Kennedy will learn in the 1964 election "it is not politically popular to send (troops) to Alabama and Mississippi."

Kennedy ordered federal troops into Oxford, Miss., last fall after rioting broke out on the University of Mississippi campus when a Negro enrolled in the school. He sent federal troops to bases near Birmingham in May following racial violence in the Alabama city.

Wallace echoed the charge of another Southern governor, Ross Barnett of Mississippi who testified gainst the measure Friday, in telling the committee that "there are Communist influences in the integration movement."

Wallace said two congressional committees have identified the Southern Conference Educational Fund headed by the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, Alabama Negro integration leader, as an organization created "to promote communism" in the South.

He said the identifications were made by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee and the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Wallace accused the nation's leaders of betraying the Negro with false promises of a Utopia in Northern cities.

Last June 11 Wallace stood in a doorway at the University of Alabama and blocked efforts of two Negroes to enter and enroll. Several hours later, after Kennedy had ordered units of the Alabama National Guard into federal service, he left the campus and the Negroes enrolled.

Wallace's appearance followed a statement Sunday by a civil rights leader that national chain stores which discriminate racially in their employment or service policies will be boycotted.

James L. Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said he expected the boycott to begin shortly after a mass march on Washington—planned for Aug. 28—to press for civil rights legislation.

Farmer, a Negro, told Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., in an interview taped for broadcast in New York that some nationwide firms had agreed to end discrimination in employment and service. But a boycott is planned against other "offending firms," mainly department and variety stores, he said.

to heat the mixture of asphalt and gasoline, used in construction of a rural road.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Pittman was using an open flame to check the inside of the "tar kettle," or tank truck, when the explosion happened.

Pittman was knocked off the truck by the force of the explosion, landing on the ground. He was taken to the hospital by his father, Frances Pittman, who had brought the youth to the construction project.

The tank truck is parked along State Route 2, near the entrance to the Hilltop Drive-In theater, deputies said.

The mixture of asphalt and gasoline is being used in construction of a hard-surface road from State Route 2 to Route 66, south of the entrance of Waterford Park.

Greeks Give Freedom To 2 More In Prison

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—In less than a week the Greek government has released 19 prisoners held since the 1947-49 Communist civil war.

Seventeen were freed July 11. Two more were released Sunday, leaving 941 prisoners from the civil war period still held. Detention of the prisoners touched off violent leftist demonstrations in London last week during the state visit of King Paul and Queen Frederika.

Goodman was hurt slightly and another passenger in his car, Emma Goodman, 50, also of Salem R. D. 3, suffered injuries of the left knee and foot.

James Dale Click, 26, of 27 Riverside Park is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with injuries suffered in a one-car crash about 3:30 a. m. today on the Wellsville-East Liverpool "super road."

Click was headed toward East Liverpool when he lost control about four - tenths a mile north of Wellsville. The car crossed the medial strip and struck an embankment on the opposite side of the road, officers said.

Click suffered back and chest injuries. East Liverpool police were notified of the car in the ditch and dispatched Patrolman Paul Carter to investigate.

The driver was not present when Carter found the car. After he returned to the station, he was sent to the Riverside Park home on a report the injured driver was there.

Click then was sent to the hospital in an ambulance and the patrol was notified.

A Lisbon area man was hurt in another one - car crash at 2:05 a. m. today on Route 30 two miles west of Lisbon.

Paul A. Deville, 20, of Lisbon R. D. 4 was headed west when he lost control and went off the left side of the highway, striking a utility pole.

Deville, who was cited for driving left of center, received a laceration above the right eye, abrasions of the elbow, forearm and knee. He was treated at Salem City Hospital.

A car driven by Robert Landerman, 36, of Columbiana R. D. 1 struck the rear of another driven by Cathleen Robinson, 21, of Pittsburgh Saturday afternoon at 2 on Route 7 just south of the junction with Route 46. Landerman suffered a laceration of the forehead, officers said. He was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Two from East Palestine were injured slightly in a two-car crash Saturday night at 9:05 on Township Rd. 958 just over a mile north of East Palestine.

Officers said Robert Zoblisien, 30, of 880 W. Martin St., East Palestine, struck the rear of a car driven by Evelyn Pander, 38, of 185 S. Market St., East Palestine.

Zoblisien was cited for unsafe operation. The woman suffered abrasions of the left arm and back while a passenger in her car, Dorothy Hogue, 27, of S. Market St., suffered bruises of the right leg and back.

Three other county crashes were investigated by the patrol. In one near Alliance, six were injured, none seriously, officers said.

125 See Installation Of District Minister

Approximately 125 attended the installation for the Rev. James A. McCollam, new pastor of the Oak Ridge and Yellow Creek United Presbyterian Churches, Sunday at special services in the Oak Ridge Church.

Mrs. Wilbert Shafer of Wellsville was guest soloist, with Miss Virginia Crews at the piano.

A dedication service of a memorial altar set, in memory of Connie Ruth Frischkorn, was held at the Sunday morning worship at the Oak Ridge church.

Summer Driving Tip

NEW YORK (AP) — A "space cushion" is a courteous driving habit for the highway motorist seeking to avert the "tailgating" type collision. This means maintaining a safe interval of at least one car length for every 10 miles per hour of speed. Also, there should be no more than 2½ inches of play (on foreign cars and compacts — 2 inches) between the brake pedal before and after pushing to the floor.

system, which we do not have at the present time. This would strengthen the operation.

"Second, because of the widespread and time-consuming involvement of our police department in the meter policing, we propose to relieve them of all responsibility of meters, thereby actually given them more time than they had with a total of six men. This would strengthen their operations.

"Third, we would be economizing, specifically in the general fund, which would strengthen Wellsville financially and could enable us to have on more occasions two patrolmen in our cruiser during the night hours.

"In our judgment, this is a sound proposal. We feel it should be judged on its merits. It is certainly worthy of a fair trial and that is all we ask for it. There should be no objection to giving it a chance."

VFW Post Statement Hits At Mayor's Plan

Wellsville VFW Post 5647 today publicly opposed a proposal made by Mayor William Daugherty of Wellsville to hire parking meter attendants and, in effect, not fill a vacancy on the police force.

The state issued by the post is as follows:

"Wellsville VFW Post 5647 publicly supports the rights of veterans to seek and hold jobs. Therefore, we maintain that the hiring of female employes to substitute for positions of male employes with families is contrary to the belief of the average veteran.

"We emphasize the police organization is undermanned and will support any move to bring the force to full strength."

James Daniels is the commander.

Picnickers Ride Excursion Craft

It seemed like old times Sunday when the excursion boat "Chaperone" tied up at the Broadway wharf and unloaded about 700 members of St. Michael's Catholic Church of Pittsburgh, who were en route to a picnic at Rocks Springs Park in Chester.

The huge boat docked about 5 p.m. and the passengers were shuttled to the park in five busses.

Robert Hand, park manager, said this was the first river excursion to the park in some time but he hoped it would open the door to further excursions.

Price Boost Seen Aid To Firestone Income

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.'s price increase on several types of tires and tubes may help to lift the firm's 1963 net income above the corresponding year-ago figure, according to Raymond C. Firestone, president and chief executive officer.

The price advance, effective Friday, was announced Sunday and ranges from 2½ to 3½ per cent. It covers most passenger, truck, off-the-highway, tractor, implement, industrial pneumatic and solid tires and tubes.

Firestone's move may set a pattern for price increases for the rest of the industry. Its last hike was in November—a 3 to 6 per cent increase that generally matched those of other rubber firms.

Man Given Sentence For Illegal Auto Use

A W. 8th St. man was sentenced to a four-month term in the County Jail at Lisbon today after pleading guilty in Municipal Court to an amended charge of driving an auto without the owner's consent.

Herbert Virgil Mellott also was ordered to pay the costs after Judge Samuel M. Chertoff agreed to substitution of the new charge for the original auto theft charge.

Mellott, who was represented by Atty. George Aronson, had pleaded not guilty to the theft charge when arraigned last Thursday. He was accused of driving a car owned by Edward H. Pysniak of Hammondsville, who had reported the car stolen on July 6.

Driver Leaves Road In Avoiding Collision

An East Liverpool man drove his car off the highway to avoid a collision with another Sunday at 11:50 a. m. on the "super road" near Meade's Restaurant in Wellsville, according to police.

Officers said Ivan Frame, 916 Fairview St., ran off the highway to avoid hitting the car of Stephen B. Clark, 929 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, who was pulling from Meade's.

Growers Begin Harvesting Sweet Corn Crop In District

District growers have started to harvest the first sweet corn of the 1963 crop, which is expected to hit its peak after Aug. 1, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

The quantity of the sweet corn crop will continue to increase through the next three weeks, Watkins said. Corn for canning and freezing should be bought after Aug. 1, when supplies will be ample and prices will be lower, he said.

Freshness is an important key to quality in sweet corn. Two factors are important in maintaining a desirable taste. Sweet corn ages rapidly as far as taste is concerned. Time is, therefore, one important factor in serving a quality product.

The shorter the period from the time it is picked until it is used the better the taste. At ordinary summer temperatures corn looses about half of its sugar content 24 hours after picking.

The temperature at which corn is held after picking is the second factor in quality maintenance. Growers pick corn in the early morning hours when it is naturally cooler. Many ice corn after picking and some put it through an ice water bath, called hydrocooling, to lower the temperature.

Corn kept below 40 degrees in temperature ages or looses sugar much less rapidly than corn kept at room temperatures.

To keep corn's natural sweetness homemakers can put it in the refrigerator in the husks or prepare it for cooking and place in the refrigerator in a plastic bag.

Green snap beans also are beginning to move to market from local fields. Formerly called "string beans," present-day varieties are largely of the stringless varieties and are better known today as snap beans.

This term has developed from the characteristic of being readily broken on "snapped" in two if they are fresh. For those who buy in quantity for freezing, variety identification is important.

Some varieties of snap beans develop toughness when cooked after freezing. Recommended varieties for freezing include Tender Crop, Stringless Green Pod, Tendergreen, Processor, Kentucky Wonder, King Horn Wax and Cherokee Wax. King Horn Wax and Cherokee Wax have yellow pods. The rest are all green varieties.

Fresh vegetables in the economical price range this week are plentiful. Cabbage, beets, radishes, celery, carrots and summer squash provide a variety of taste and color. Endive, escarole, green onions, and greens are other vegetables in a most reasonable price range this week.

Recent dry weather over much of this part of Ohio is seriously affecting the supply of many small fruits and vegetables. Raspberries, normally in season, are more scarce and higher in price than usual. Sweet corn yields on nonirrigated land will be below average.

Fruit choices this week include the summertime fruits: watermelon, the last of the black raspberries, the first of the red raspberries, plums, peaches, nectarines, limas and lemons.

Cantaloupe and honey dew melons are a bit lower in price. The first of the southern Indiana cantaloupes are now being harvested and a limited number are available. The most economical prices on cantaloupe usually occur during the month of August. Supply trends indicate that this will be true this year.

Trains To Carry Railway Fans To See Sham Battle

Special trains operated by the Midwest Railway Historical Foundation will help carry crowds to the area around West Point Sunday, July 28, to see re-enactment of Gen. John Hunt Morgan's surrender 100 years ago at the end of a Confederate cavalry raid.

Approximately 800 to 1,000 Eastern Ohio rail fans are expected aboard the trains, called the "General Morgan Raid Special." Units of the train will make up at Cleveland, leaving at 8 a. m., and at Rittman, departing at 7:45 a. m.

The trains will pick up passengers at many other spots, including Akron, Kent, Ravenna, Warren and Niles. The departure from Niles is set at 9:45.

The train will operate over the Erie - Lackawanna Railroad, including its Niles - Lisbon Branch, which was built originally during Civil War days as the Niles & New Lisbon Railroad.

About 1,000 men garbed in the uniforms of the Union and the Confederacy are expected to take part in the sham battle. The forces will include several cannon and at least 50 horsemen.

ROME (AP) — Last year 11 Japanese fishing fleets totaling 400 boats sailed the seas of the world to catch salmon, the Food and Agriculture Organization reports. Forty-five other Japanese fishing fleets, totaling 2,000 boats, fished for tuna.

Man Attempts To Eat Check After Arrest

EAST PALESTINE — Joseph W. Call, 33, of Hammondsville will receive a hearing today in Eastern County Court on a check forgery charge after his arrest Saturday morning at 11:15.

Police said he entered the First National Bank and attempted to cash a forged check. He successfully cashed a forged check for $180 a week ago, officers said.

He was recognized Saturday by bank employes while attempting to cash a check for $160, officers said.

The employes notified the cashier, Lester Hart, who locked the bank doors and called police. Meanwhile, Call stuffed the check in his mouth and chewed it.

Police later recovered the remains. Call was not able to swallow the bogus check, officers said.

Later, police apprehended Ralph E. Wright of Wellsville as an accomplice. Wright was picked up on information provided by Call.

Wright is identified as the writer of the bad check. Call was released in February from the Ohio State Penitentiary at Columbus, officers said.

Lorain Deputies Quiz Man In Beating Death

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies investigating the killing of an 83-year-old Columbia Station widow were holding a 24-year-old North Ridgeville man in Lorain County Jail today in connection with the case.

The nude body of Mrs. Marguerite Van Arsdale was found by a neighbor Saturday. It was wrapped in a blanket and stuffed in a pantry at the dead woman's home. Lorain County Deputy Coroner Robert G. Thomas said the woman was beaten to death and probably had been molested sexually.

County's Child Wards Decrease During June

LISBON — The number of children in the care of the County Welfare Department showed a net decline of 10 during June, according to the monthly report of Robert Bycroft, director.

On June 1, the department had 163 children under its care. It added 23 during the month, but 33 were dismissed as wards.

Beginning July 1, the department had 153 children on its rolls —119 in boarding homes, 17 in adoptive homes, 5 in homes that pay them wages, 7 in the Kyes Receiving Home and 5 in institutions.

21 Killed In Wreck

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Twenty-one persons were killed and 40 others injured Saturday when a train jumped the tracks near Surabaya, in East Java.

ON HAND to greet "The General" when it arrived in Wellsville this morning were John Kelm, 4, and Deanna Kelm, 6, of Lisbon, outfitted in fetching costumes in their portrayal of Abe and Mary Todd Lincoln. A number of Wellsville Historical Society members also were wearing 19th century garb when they inspected the locomotive and museum car at the Pennsy Yard at 15th St., lending a colorful note to the scene.

2,000 more failed in a bid to see the museum car, as the train departed from Lisbon at 4:30.

The train was greeted at Lisbon by two youngsters dressed as "miniatures" of Abe and Mary Todd Lincoln. Abe was portrayed by John Kelm, 4, and Mrs. Lincoln was portrayed by Deanna Kelm, 6, wearing a blue print dress and white bonnet and carrying a black parasol.

Deanna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kelm, and their sons, Jim, 14, and Warren, 11, helped provide music. The Kelms form a part of Co. L, 2nd Battalion, 19th Regiment, Buckeye Blues Brigade, field music. They reside on W. Lincoln Way. The Buckeye Blues have performed at previous Centennial celebrations in Hanover and Gettysburg.

The Buckeye Blues also will appear later in July during the celebration of the centennial of the capture of Gen. John H. Morgan and his Confederate cavalry raiders near Lisbon.

The locomotive arrived in Lisbon from Leetonia. Leaving Lisbon, it went to Conway for an overnight halt, then proceeded into this area this morning.

to heat the mixture of asphalt and gasoline, used in construction of a rural road.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said Pittman was using an open flame to check the inside of the "tar kettle," or tank truck, when the explosion happened.

Pittman was knocked off the truck by the force of the explosion, landing on the ground. He was taken to the hospital by his father, Frances Pittman, who had brought the youth to the construction project.

The tank truck is parked along State Route 2, near the entrance to the Hilltop Drive-In theater, deputies said.

The mixture of asphalt and gasoline is being used in construction of a hard-surface road from State Route 2 to Route 66, south of the entrance of Waterford Park.

Greeks Give Freedom To 2 More In Prison

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—In less than a week the Greek government has released 19 prisoners held since the 1947-49 Communist civil war.

Seventeen were freed July 11. Two more were released Sunday, leaving 941 prisoners from the civil war period still held. Detention of the prisoners touched off violent leftist demonstrations in London last week during the state visit of King Paul and Queen Frederika.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A group of U.S. Army Engineers has arrived here to set up a training course for the Indonesian army to help it carry out a civic action program decreed by President Sukarno last December.

Rights

the seven points in President Kennedy's civil rights program—a bill prohibiting racial discrimination in such public facilities as restaurants and hotels.

Wallace said Americans "are not going to comply with this type legislation," and he labeled the rest of Kennedy's civil rights program "equally abominable."

"A President who sponsors legislation such as the civil rights act of 1963 should be retired from office," Wallace said, predicting that Kennedy will learn in the 1964 election "it is not politically popular to send (troops) to Alabama and Mississippi."

Kennedy ordered federal troops into Oxford, Miss., last fall after rioting broke out on the University of Mississippi campus when a Negro enrolled in the school. He sent federal troops to bases near Birmingham in May following racial violence in the Alabama city.

Wallace echoed the charge of another Southern governor, Ross Barnett of Mississippi who testified gainst the measure Friday, in telling the committee that "there are Communist influences in the integration movement."

Wallace said two congressional committees have identified the Southern Conference Educational Fund headed by the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, Alabama Negro integration leader, as an organization created "to promote communism" in the South.

He said the identifications were made by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee and the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Wallace accused the nation's leaders of betraying the Negro with false promises of a Utopia in Northern cities.

Last June 11 Wallace stood in a doorway at the University of Alabama and blocked efforts of two Negroes to enter and enroll. Several hours later, after Kennedy had ordered units of the Alabama National Guard into federal service, he left the campus and the Negroes enrolled.

Wallace's appearance followed a statement Sunday by a civil rights leader that national chain stores which discriminate racially in their employment or service policies will be boycotted.

James L. Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said he expected the boycott to begin shortly after a mass march on Washington—planned for Aug. 28—to press for civil rights legislation.

Farmer, a Negro, told Sen. Kenneth Keating, R-N.Y., in an interview taped for broadcast in New York that some nationwide firms had agreed to end discrimination in employment and service. But a boycott is planned against other "offending firms," mainly department and variety stores, he said.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I renew the sparkle of some rhinestone costume jewelry?

A. By soaking the pieces in gasoline for a few minutes, then polishing with a dry cloth. Be sure you're away from lighted cigarettes or flames!

Q. What is the best way to launder black or navy-blue lingerie?

A. Add a teaspoonful of bluing to the water, and this will preserve the dye far longer than laundering in plain water.

Q. How can I make my handkerchiefs whiter when I launder them?

A. They'll come out whiter and stay fresh longer if you'll place a little borax in your laundry water. Borax gives the fabric just enough extra body to withstand soiling a little longer.

Q. How can I quickly improvise a glue, when I have run out of the real thing in my house?

A. Colorless fingernail polish makes a good substitute glue for most purposes.

Q. How should knitted garments be hung for drying after they've been laundered?

A. They shouldn't! Never hang knitted garments over a line or fastened with clothespins. Let them dry flat, and they'll keep their shape.

Q. What about the care of cork floor tiles?

A. These tiles are given a steel-disc polish at the factory, a process that seals them, or a thick coating of vinyl plastic. They should be kept well waxed and any type of wax can be used, but polishing waxes are best for them. Cork tile floors can be washed with soap or detergent and warm water, and spots can be scoured with steel wool. No other finish than wax is recommended.

Q. How can I remove a scorch stain from a man's white shirt?

A. If not too deeply burned, this can sometimes be removed by sponging with a cloth dipped in peroxide, then ironed again over the blemished area with a clean, dry cloth over it.

Picnickers Ride Excursion Craft

It seemed like old times Sunday when the excursion boat "Chaperone" tied up at the Broadway wharf and unloaded about 700 members of St. Michael's Catholic Church of Pittsburgh, who were en route to a picnic at Rocks Springs Park in Chester.

The huge boat docked about 5 p.m. and the passengers were shuttled to the park in five busses.

Robert Hand, park manager, said this was the first river excursion to the park in some time but he hoped it would open the door to further excursions.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Here is the answer to keeping a crease in little boys' trousers:

Press a good, sharp crease in the pants. Then sit down at the sewing machine and . . . using a matching thread, literally "sew" in the crease.

On heavy materials, such as corduroy—I sew about one-eighth inch from the edge of the crease. On lighter weight materials. I sew about one-sixteenth inch from the edge.

Whether the trousers belong to his best suit which gets dry-cleaned or. . . to washable trousers which get pressed or dried on a form, the crease is there to stay and is always sharp and neat.

I bought a pair of slacks that had this stitching and have used the idea ever since in my children's trousers.

JANE COLEMAN.

DEAR HELOISE: Those half-gallon ice cream cartons made of plastic are excellent for keeping crackers crisp after the box has been opened.

DEAR HELOISE: Just a little hint for those who make pickle beets. Add three or four whole cloves to a quart jar of your beets and let them stand a day or two. Just taste the difference! Real tangy.

READER.

I used 6 cloves to one large can of beets and it was delicious. One-third each of vinegar, sugar and beet juice.

HELOISE.

PEPPER HOUSE PLANT . . .

DEAR HELOISE: If you want an attractive house plant, take a tiny red pepper from your pickling spice box. Open this up and plant the seeds. They will sprout and grow fast. The plant is lovely, glossy, and green.

It will have white star-shaped blooms that turn to tiny green peppers about one-half to one inch long. They gradually turn red and are beautiful, especially during holidays.

You will have continuous blooms and green and red peppers all the while. . . and at the same time.

In the summer I put these plants in an outdoor plant box and they flourish anew. Start new plants from seeds as your friends will be begging for them.

M. W.

DEAR HELOISE: In case you don't know it, flannel-backed oil cloth can be submerged to wash.

Just put enough water in your bath tub to cover the cloth, add a little water softener and some detergent, and soak a bit. All you have to do is to rinse and throw it across the line to dry. Do not twist.

When baking several different kinds of cakes or cookies, it's not necessary to wash your mixing bowl each time. Just mix the light-colored batters first, scrape the bowl well, then mix your chocolate, etc., in the same bowl without washing, and you will never notice any flavor change. It saves lots of time washing bowls and beaters when you are baking for the freezer or are in a hurry.

MARION.

DEAR HELOISE: I pin a turkish towel on the leaf of of my sewing machine. This prevents slipping of materials and saves scratching the wood.

A new bride taught me to put a bit of corn starch in my window-washing water. It is fabulous—do not irritate my hands or cause a film. The corn starch cuts the film which has adhered to my windows and sparkles beautifully.

Police Probe Hit-Skip Case

The mishap was reported by Wilma W. Nichols, 1200 St. George St., who said her 1962 four-door sedan was struck while parked on W. 5th St. about 80 feet west of West Alley. She said the rear bumper and deck lid were pushed in.

The woman said she parked her auto at 10:40 and at 11:15 a fellow employe reported it had been damaged.

A collision at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts. Sunday at 8 p. m. damaged a 1961 model pickup truck driven by Edward Altman, 60, of New Castle and a 1958 sedan operated by Jack A. Putnam, 20, of 300 Fisher Ave., police said. Both cars were westbound, officers said.

Altman told police he was traveling west on W. 8th in the right hand lane and started to make a left turn onto the Freeway when he pulled in front of Putnam's car. The crash damaged the left door of Altman's truck and the right front fender and bumper of the Maplewood man's auto, police said.

A car and a truck were damaged in another Freeway mishap Sunday, police reported.

The mishap involved a halted 1959 sedan operated by Harold Slaughter, 20, of Akron and a 1950 model truck driven by Russell Johnson of Barberton, police said.

Slaughter told police he halted his car on the Freeway 30 feet south of the Wellsville ramp when it was sideswiped by Johnson's truck. Johnson said he applied the brakes and swerved in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid the auto.

Communists Due To Smooth Over Ideological Split

MOSCOW (AP)—Diplomats predict the Soviet and Communist Chinese negotiators will conclude their deadlocked ideological talks soon with a meaningless face-saving communique assuring that time will heal the differences in the Communist camp.

The seriousness of the split between the Communist giants was emphasized by publication Saturday of a 35,000-word Soviet Communist party statement accusing the Chinese of being hypocrites and warmongers bent on a nuclear war with the West.

The Soviet statement, an open letter to the Communist parties of the world, was an official reply to the Chinese attack June 14 on Premier Khrushchev's policy of spreading communism by living in peace with the West. It was spread over four pages of the party newspaper Pravda.

Pravda also published the Communist Chinese letter, disclosing to the Soviet people for the first time the extent of the historic breach in the Communist movement.

Bullet Wounds Senior Near Ohio U. Campus

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Gaylord Johnson, senior at Ohio University, was wounded by gunfire late Sunday as he and his girl friend walked through a wooded area near the campus, police reported.

Johnson, from Columbus, was taken to Mount Carmel Hospital in Columbus where attendants listed his condition as good. Authorities declined to give the girl friend's name.

Two men students were being questioned about the shooting. They were quoted as saying it was accidental.

Rhodes Aide 'Critical' With Coronary Attack

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Personnel Director Wayne Ward, who suffered a heart attack Saturday night, is reported in critical condition at University Hospital.

Ward was named to his post in the state administration early this year by Gov. James A. Rhodes. He succeeded James T. Wlesh, personnel director for former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Price Boost Seen Aid To Firestone Income

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.'s price increase on several types of tires and tubes may help to lift the firm's 1963 net income above the corresponding year-ago figure, according to Raymond C. Firestone, president and chief executive officer.

The price advance, effective Friday, was announced Sunday and ranges from 2½ to 3½ per cent. It covers most passenger, truck, off-the-highway, tractor, implement, industrial pneumatic and solid tires and tubes.

Firestone's move may set a pattern for price increases for the rest of the industry. Its last hike was in November—a 3 to 6 per cent increase that generally matched those of other rubber firms.

Man Given Sentence For Illegal Auto Use

A W. 8th St. man was sentenced to a four-month term in the County Jail at Lisbon today after pleading guilty in Municipal Court to an amended charge of driving an auto without the owner's consent.

Herbert Virgil Mellott also was ordered to pay the costs after Judge Samuel M. Chertoff agreed to substitution of the new charge for the original auto theft charge.

Mellott, who was represented by Atty. George Aronson, had pleaded not guilty to the theft charge when arraigned last Thursday. He was accused of driving a car owned by Edward H. Pysniak of Hammondsville, who had reported the car stolen on July 6.

Driver Leaves Road In Avoiding Collision

An East Liverpool man drove his car off the highway to avoid a collision with another Sunday at 11:50 a. m. on the "super road" near Meade's Restaurant in Wellsville, according to police.

Officers said Ivan Frame, 916 Fairview St., ran off the highway to avoid hitting the car of Stephen B. Clark, 929 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, who was pulling from Meade's.

Growers Begin Harvesting Sweet Corn Crop In District

District growers have started to harvest the first sweet corn of the 1963 crop, which is expected to hit its peak after Aug. 1, according to Ed Watkins, market information agent with the Agriculture Extension Service in Canfield.

The quantity of the sweet corn crop will continue to increase through the next three weeks, Watkins said. Corn for canning and freezing should be bought after Aug. 1, when supplies will be ample and prices will be lower, he said.

Freshness is an important key to quality in sweet corn. Two factors are important in maintaining a desirable taste. Sweet corn ages rapidly as far as taste is concerned. Time is, therefore, one important factor in serving a quality product.

The shorter the period from the time it is picked until it is used the better the taste. At ordinary summer temperatures corn looses about half of its sugar content 24 hours after picking.

The temperature at which corn is held after picking is the second factor in quality maintenance. Growers pick corn in the early morning hours when it is naturally cooler. Many ice corn after picking and some put it through an ice water bath, called hydrocooling, to lower the temperature.

Corn kept below 40 degrees in temperature ages or looses sugar much less rapidly than corn kept at room temperatures.

To keep corn's natural sweetness homemakers can put it in the refrigerator in the husks or prepare it for cooking and place in the refrigerator in a plastic bag.

Green snap beans also are beginning to move to market from local fields. Formerly called "string beans," present-day varieties are largely of the stringless varieties and are better known today as snap beans.

This term has developed from the characteristic of being readily broken on "snapped" in two if they are fresh. For those who buy in quantity for freezing, variety identification is important.

Some varieties of snap beans develop toughness when cooked after freezing. Recommended varieties for freezing include Tender Crop, Stringless Green Pod, Tendergreen, Processor, Kentucky Wonder, King Horn Wax and Cherokee Wax. King Horn Wax and Cherokee Wax have yellow pods. The rest are all green varieties.

Fresh vegetables in the economical price range this week are plentiful. Cabbage, beets, radishes, celery, carrots and summer squash provide a variety of taste and color. Endive, escarole, green onions, and greens are other vegetables in a most reasonable price range this week.

Recent dry weather over much of this part of Ohio is seriously affecting the supply of many small fruits and vegetables. Raspberries, normally in season, are more scarce and higher in price than usual. Sweet corn yields on nonirrigated land will be below average.

Fruit choices this week include the summertime fruits: watermelon, the last of the black raspberries, the first of the red raspberries, plums, peaches, nectarines, limas and lemons.

Cantaloupe and honey dew melons are a bit lower in price. The first of the southern Indiana cantaloupes are now being harvested and a limited number are available. The most economical prices on cantaloupe usually occur during the month of August. Supply trends indicate that this will be true this year.

Trains To Carry Railway Fans To See Sham Battle

Special trains operated by the Midwest Railway Historical Foundation will help carry crowds to the area around West Point Sunday, July 28, to see re-enactment of Gen. John Hunt Morgan's surrender 100 years ago at the end of a Confederate cavalry raid.

Approximately 800 to 1,000 Eastern Ohio rail fans are expected aboard the trains, called the "General Morgan Raid Special." Units of the train will make up at Cleveland, leaving at 8 a. m., and at Rittman, departing at 7:45 a. m.

The trains will pick up passengers at many other spots, including Akron, Kent, Ravenna, Warren and Niles. The departure from Niles is set at 9:45.

The train will operate over the Erie - Lackawanna Railroad, including its Niles - Lisbon Branch, which was built originally during Civil War days as the Niles & New Lisbon Railroad.

About 1,000 men garbed in the uniforms of the Union and the Confederacy are expected to take part in the sham battle. The forces will include several cannon and at least 50 horsemen.

Fish Beware!

ROME (AP) — Last year 11 Japanese fishing fleets totaling 400 boats sailed the seas of the world to catch salmon, the Food and Agriculture Organization reports. Forty-five other Japanese fishing fleets, totaling 2,000 boats, fished for tuna.

Man Attempts To Eat Check After Arrest

EAST PALESTINE — Joseph W. Call, 33, of Hammondsville will receive a hearing today in Eastern County Court on a check forgery charge after his arrest Saturday morning at 11:15.

Police said he entered the First National Bank and attempted to cash a forged check. He successfully cashed a forged check for $180 a week ago, officers said.

He was recognized Saturday by bank employes while attempting to cash a check for $160, officers said.

The employes notified the cashier, Lester Hart, who locked the bank doors and called police. Meanwhile, Call stuffed the check in his mouth and chewed it.

Police later recovered the remains. Call was not able to swallow the bogus check, officers said.

Later, police apprehended Ralph E. Wright of Wellsville as an accomplice. Wright was picked up on information provided by Call.

Wright is identified as the writer of the bad check. Call was released in February from the Ohio State Penitentiary at Columbus, officers said.

Lorain Deputies Quiz Man In Beating Death

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff's deputies investigating the killing of an 83-year-old Columbia Station widow were holding a 24-year-old North Ridgeville man in Lorain County Jail today in connection with the case.

The nude body of Mrs. Marguerite Van Arsdale was found by a neighbor Saturday. It was wrapped in a blanket and stuffed in a pantry at the dead woman's home. Lorain County Deputy Coroner Robert G. Thomas said the woman was beaten to death and probably had been molested sexually.

County's Child Wards Decrease During June

LISBON — The number of children in the care of the County Welfare Department showed a net decline of 10 during June, according to the monthly report of Robert Bycroft, director.

On June 1, the department had 163 children under its care. It added 23 during the month, but 33 were dismissed as wards.

Beginning July 1, the department had 153 children on its rolls —119 in boarding homes, 17 in adoptive homes, 5 in homes that pay them wages, 7 in the Kyes Receiving Home and 5 in institutions.

21 Killed In Wreck

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

How Wrong Can A Producer Be?

Years ago in San Francisco the producer of a stock company doing "The Witch" shouted angrily at one of his case, "If you don't think you can be replaced, you're crazy!"

Hal Humphrey

It turns out that he couldn't have been more wrong. The object of his temper was a girl with the odd name of Bea Bernaderet. Since then, Bea not only has never been replaced, but she never quit working.

The longest Bea is out of work is the time it takes her to pick up the telephone and tell her agent she is available. During a 20-year stint on radio and TV with Burns and Allen, Bea was next-door neighbor Blanche Morton. Six different actors had the husband role (Harry Morton), but it never occurred to George Burns to replace Bea.

Whenever anyone asked Bea if she wasn't tired of being Blanche, her answer was, "I get down on my knees and thank God every time I play the role—it's steady work, and any actor who discounts this is crazy."

AFTER BURNS and Allen retired from TV, Bea took on two jobs—Wilma the housekeeper for the one and only season of "Peter Loves Mary" (Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy) and the voice of Betty Rubble in "The Flintstones."

Along with "The Flintstones" and a series of other odd jobs, Bea bridged the gap until Paul Henning asked her to test for the role of Granny in "Beverly Hillbillies." Irene Ryan got that part, but Paul created Cousin Pearl Bodine for Bea.

"I know Paul from the days when he was a writer for Burns and Allen, and he always said, 'Bea, someday I'm going to have a show for you,' and now, by golly, he has," says Bea, still with a tone of surprise in her voice.

Bea refers to "Petticoat Junction," in which she stars as Kate Bradley, owner of the Shady Rest Hotel. Filming already has begun on this newest Henning production for next season, but Bea still can't acclimate to her new status.

"Maybe I don't think I am a star, maybe it's as simple as that," she says, trying to explain her lack of reaction.

Or, is it possible that Bea still hears the ringing reprimand of that Simon Legree in San Francisco who threatened to replace her?

DESPITE HER solid talent as a comedy character and a professional background that won't stop, Bea is no ham. She is a realist, and she knows jobs for actors don't always depend on their talents.

Also, when you're the so-called star of a TV series, it's like being the lead duck flying over a marsh ambushed with hunters on opening day.

The sponsors, the network, the producer and the rest of the cast are all watching intently. If that first audience rating isn't a good one, it's your fault.

As the next-door neighbor, housekeeper of squeaky voice of a cartoon character, Bea is smart enough to know that she has the protective camouflage of the "dependable second lead," who occasionlly can steal a scene, then run for cover again.

At least one thing she won't have to worry about in her new role is a dialect. Kate, of Shady Shady Rest is a town 150 miles from anything and very rural.

"I had a tough time with the hillbilly dialect for Cousin Pearl," says Bea. "But my son, Jack, helped me a lot. He's a fine dialectician."

BEA WILL BE surrounded in "Petticoat Junction" with three daughters ("One is sexy, one cerebral and the other loves trains") besides Edgar Buchanan, Smiley Burnette and Rufe Davis. The latter trio is so rural it takes a gardener instead of a barber to cut the hair of any one of them.

Meanwhile, Bea keeps practicing the Brooklyn accent of Gertrude Gearshift, the flip telephone operator who pops up every so often on Jack Benny' show. That's another job Bea has had for the past 20 years.

Officers Seek Motive In New York Slayings

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Police today sought a motive for the slaying of an attractive college coed and her date Sunday.

Blonde Shari K. Smoyer, 18, Ithaca College sophomore and Jack King, 17, a recent high school graduate, were found shot, lying side by side on a lovers' lane in suburban Pittsford. The bodies were face-down in front of King's car.

Police found five empty cartridges and a 45-caliber bullet which apparently passed through one of the bodies, hit the car, and fell to the ground.

NAACP Delays Work Protest In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — A scheduled demonstration at the new Federal Building to protest job discrimination has been postponed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The local NAACP branch agreed to the postponement Sunday night. NAACP spokesmen accuse the contractor and unions of not hiring enough Negroes. The demonstration had been scheduled for noon today.

Analysis Needed For Overeating Binges

"Why do I eat as if there were no tomorrow when I get upset?" a career girl asks. "Why do I invariably stuff myself with food when things go wrong?" a homemaker asks. This type of question is posed repeatedly by those who overeat compulsively when troubled.

Ida Jean Kain

In order to help you I talked this over with a psychologist, for the problem needs to be tackled first from the psychological angle. This authority explained that food often represents some kind of security, and that the feelings of insecurity may date back to earlier years.

When trouble crops up, or when you get upset, the old attitudes about food are revived, and you feel compelled to eat more food than you need, perhaps more than you really enjoy.

ONCE YOU catch on to why you tend to repeat a pattern, you have a new perspective and are better able to cope. But until you develop some insight, you are at the mercy of your habitual behavior pattern.

What can be done? The direct approach is to ask youurself some searching questions. What is associated with these sporadic sprees? In short, what is fouling up your life at the time you feel the compulsion to eat like mad?

You cannot do it when you are in the grip of the situation. But in a relaxed manner you can think back and pinpoint what went wrong, and in what sphere.

Did your husband make a derogatory remark? Do you turn to food to "quiet your nerves?" Or did the onset of the urge to overeat come when the children left home, so you felt less needed? One woman gained 32 pounds following her husband's retirement ...his being home upset her.

There is a natural reluctance to put the searchlight on a problem, perhaps even an unconscious tendency not to examine too closely because sharpening the problem makes you feel uncomfortable. By glossing it over in your mind you don't have to come to grips with it.

When we are threatened in any way, we react, and the reaction is usually to indulge in a self-gratifying kind of behavior.

Try to evaluate. What do you tend to do when you feel threatened? Most people act defensively — in some manner. Recognition of the cause gives insight into why you turn to food, so this is a starting point.

BY BEING alert to the conditions under which you seek food for solace, the pattern can be traced.

A willingness to think it through is a big step, for this means you want to face facts honestly. Then if you are willing to follow through with action, and take the responsibility for what you eat daily, you are in the driver's seat.

Designer Confesses Ducats Needed For His Sports Line

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Sports wear so dreadfully expensive, says its designer John Weitz blushingly, that it requires a good sport of a husband to finance it was shown Sunday to the nation's fashion writers.

Among the items were the world's ritziest track suits, the chic-est judo suit for home defense, the sharkiest fisherman's coat and undoubtedly the dandiest smoking jacket.

The event was the second day of fall fashion previews which are a part of an American Designer Series arranged by Eleanor Lambert.

Obviously, loafing will be an important sport borrowed from the Regency era if wife's velvet loafing costumes are widely copied, as they are likely to be.

The piped dandy jackets and trousers, striped at the sides and with a button-up dropped front, were worn with satin Lord Byron shirts with standup collars and ascot ties.

The handsome, virile German-born designer became so renowned as a sports car racer in his past that he is now struggling hard to shake off the stereotype. Consequently the reporters saw not one design suitable for the road.

But Weitz did get his women fans ready for golfing in skirts that button-pleated to the left or right in back, depending on the swinging hand of the lady.

Also newsworthy was a skirt made of hamster pelts. There were bulky handknit sweaters with horseshoe necklines and unbanded blouson bodices.

Crash Injuries Take Mount Vernon Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Injuries suffered in a traffic accident five months ago have resulted in the death of Mount Vernon Municipal Court Judge Evan P. Ford.

The 49-year-old jurist was injured in a car-truck crash near Concord, N.C., in mid-February and since that time had been hospitalized. He was returned to Ohio late in March. Death came late Sunday at Mount Carmel Hospital here.

Ford was a graduate of Ohio State University and held a law degree from Franklin University. He also was a former state Democratic senator, having served one term in 1959-60.

The original Joe Miller, whose name is popularly applied to old and stale jokes, was a comedian in the early 1700's at the Drury Lane Theater in London, England.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I renew the sparkle of some rhinestone costume jewelry?

A. By soaking the pieces in gasoline for a few minutes, then polishing with a dry cloth. Be sure you're away from lighted cigarettes or flames!

Q. What is the best way to launder black or navy-blue lingerie?

A. Add a teaspoonful of bluing to the water, and this will preserve the dye far longer than laundering in plain water.

Q. How can I make my handkerchiefs whiter when I launder them?

A. They'll come out whiter and stay fresh longer if you'll place a little borax in your laundry water. Borax gives the fabric just enough extra body to withstand soiling a little longer.

Q. How can I quickly improvise a glue, when I have run out of the real thing in my house?

A. Colorless fingernail polish makes a good substitute glue for most purposes.

Q. How should knitted garments be hung for drying after they've been laundered?

A. They shouldn't! Never hang knitted garments over a line or fastened with clothespins. Let them dry flat, and they'll keep their shape.

Q. What about the care of cork floor tiles?

A. These tiles are given a steel-disc polish at the factory, a process that seals them, or a thick coating of vinyl plastic. They should be kept well waxed and any type of wax can be used, but polishing waxes are best for them. Cork tile floors can be washed with soap or detergent and warm water, and spots can be scoured with steel wool. No other finish than wax is recommended.

Q. How can I remove a scorch stain from a man's white shirt?

A. If not too deeply burned, this can sometimes be removed by sponging with a cloth dipped in peroxide, then ironed again over the blemished area with a clean, dry cloth over it.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: It happened again last evening. I swore the next time it happened I would write to you and try to find out what is the matter with this woman.

My wife is a college graduate and the mother of three healthy, normal children. She holds a high office in one of the women's clubs and is considered bright by our friends. Yet, whenever I go to the refrigerator to get ice cubes I find empty trays. Why in heaven's name would anybody want to return a tray without water to the freezing compartment? And after all, Ann, how long does it take to run water in an ice tray?

Dear Mystified: Why do some people leave lights burning — or throw a coat on a chair when it would take only seconds to flip a light switch or to hang the coat up? Because it's easier —and some people always take the easy way out.

If this bugs you, appoint yourself "Keeper of the Ice Cube Trays" and check them every evening. It's better than apoplexy.

Drinking Mother

Dear Ann: Our mother drinks. I don't mean just a cocktail at parties, I mean all by herself — during the afternoon. Sometimes the woman next door comes in and they get crocked together.

When my sisters and I come home from school mom is usually in terrible shape. Most days she doesn't make the beds or clean the house. We have to do the housework or it doesn't get done. Then I go the market and beg for credit so I can have dinner on the table when dad comes home.

The weird part of the story is that mom will not admit she drinks. She says she has a headache or gall bladder trouble or dizzy spells from high blood pressure.

We notice in your column that you sometimes suggest Alcoholics Anonymous for problem drinkers. How can we get them to send a member over to talk to mom? Please help up. — DESPERATE KIDS.

Dear Kids: Alcoholics Anonymous will send a member to talk to an alcoholic only if the person who needs help will admit he is an alcoholic and asks for the intervention of AA.

Your mother, unfortunately, does not quality.

Confidentially

TO WONDERING: You can stop wondering about this situation.

The true measure of a man is how he treats people who can't possibly do him any good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Teacher Retains Aide For Probe Of Gold's Slaying

CLEVELAND (AP) — Allene Leonards, 24-year-old second grade teacher who told sheriff's deputies she was with rackets figure Alex (Kshondor) Birns until shortly before the time investment promoter Marvin Gold is believed to have been slain, has hired the attorney who has been representing Birns, it was reported today.

She told a Cleveland Plain Dealer reporter Sunday her lawyer is James R. Willis. Willis also represented Gold in his Federal Court trial and in several hearings in Common Pleas Court.

Investigators said Miss Leonards told them any information about her and Birns' whereabouts after 10:30 p.m. on July 5, the night of the murder, would have to come through her attorney or else as testimony. The coroner has placed the time of Gold's death that night at about 11:30, shortly after he had left his home to meet Birns.

Authorities said Miss Leonards, who teaches at Garfield Park School in suburban Garfield Heights, may be called to testify at the inquest into Gold's death Wednesday morning.

Detective Lt. Carl Delau said the fact that Birns and Miss Leonards dined together at a suburban Oakwood tavern covers Birns whereabouts only until about 10:30 on the murder night.

"He doesn't account for more than 12 hours of his time, from 10:30 p.m. until he showed up Saturday in Toledo," Delau said.

Ohio Soldier Drowns In River, Army Says

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP) — A young soldier who drowned in the Kansas River is the son of a Germantown, Ohio, man, the Army says.

The victim, who went under after jumping into the river Saturday, was Pfc. Paul R. Isaacs, 19, of Ft. Riley. Forrest W. Isaacs of Germantown is listed as his father.

Ohio Driver, 59, Dies On Pennsylvania Road

JAMESTOWN, Pa. (AP) —An Ohioan was thrown from his car and killed Sunday when it hit some guard rails just a few hundred feet from the Pennsylvania-Ohio line across U.S. 322.

Police Check Theft Series

John M. Ryan, 215 W. 7th St., told officers a "polite" thief stole two wheels and tires off his auto Saturday night or early Sunday while it was parked on a Baum St. lot, but placed blocks under the axle to support the car. The theft was reported at 5:30 a. m. yesterday.

Bob Schell, 301 Pennsylvania Ave., told police Saturday at 5:45 p. m. a tire, tube and wheel were stolen from his truck while it was parked on W. 9th St. June 30 or July 1.

Dick Simms, 725 Rigby St., reported theft of a pup tent valued at $10. He said the tent was taken from the back yard at his home sometime between noon Saturday and Sunday morning.

An apparent entry was checked Sunday afternoon at the home of Norman Lemley, 1730 Pennsylvania Ave., but apparently nothing was taken, officers said. The family is to check further upon its return and advise if anything was stolen, officers said.

Police notified after a neighbor noted that the back door of the home was open, with a key in the lock, although the rear storm door was locked. She notified Lemley's son-in-law, Albert Tiberio, 323 Midland Ave., Midland, who made a check with officers. Apparently nothing had been disturbed, police said.

Recent vandalism at the Sheridan African Methodist Episcopal Church at W. 9th and Claiborne Sts. was reported to police Saturday at 1:40 p. m. by the Rev. James G. Douglass, pastor.

He said some windows were broken in the last two weeks and some shingles were broken from the side of the building. Other instances of vandalism have occurred in the preceding two months, the minister said.

Congress Eyes Peanut Matters In Slow Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peanuts, birds and fish highlight an odds-and-ends assortment of legislation this week before the 88th Congress, rapidly earning a reputation as one of the slowest-moving in history.

There are no signs of acceleration soon in the current snail's pace of activity on the Senate and House floors.

Instead, there is growing talk of a long Labor Day vacation which might start before the scheduled Aug. 28 integration demonstration that may draw 100,000 persons to the capital.

Adjournment before September now appears to be out of the question.

Currently listed as the House business for the week are bills pertaining to peanuts for boiling, automatic date processing equipment and seditious activities.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Should Come When Called

Many mothers write of the tot from two to four that they have a hard time to get him to come indoors from play. In the first place he needs to learn the boundaries beyond which he must not go while outside. If he is absorbed in fun when you call him or go for him, it may not be easy for him suddenly to come right in. As a rule, it helps if you give him a warning signal that he must soon come in. This enables him to get ready physically and emotionally.

Dr. Garry Meyers

Even when you make the final call, you should not expect him to run breathlessly into the house. Be reasonable.

—:—

IF HE DELAYS unduly long or refuses to come, you may have to go get him. If you must, try turning his attention to a story or some other pleasure awaiting him or divert his interests otherwise so as to weaken his resistance.

Often, instead of calling him, you might wisely go out leisurely, in your kindest way, to where he is and inform him it's time to come in.

Some mothers set a clock on the porch to ring when the tot should come in. He may respond to this more readily than to his mother's announcement, especially if he can have the fun of turning the clock off.

The mother may have special trouble to get the tot indoors for his nap if he has gone outdoors after lunch. Sometimes she forgets the passing of time and lets him stay out unduly long. As a rule, she may be wise not to let him go outdoors after lunch but to have him play quietly indoors for a few minutes or to hear a few stories.

AS IS GETTING him to bed at night, spanking him to make him come in is hardly a good way. Of course if you had to pick him up to bring him in or take him to bed and he kicked or hit you, then a sharp, quick smack might be desirable and effective.

A related problem is to get the little child to answer you as you call to him in another room or out of sight elsewhere. You may just want to know where he is. But he may not feel it necessary to answer.

As a rule, you should go to where you suppose he is and speak to him quietly, face to face. To punish him for not answering may not be good.

Make pleasant what you want the young child to do and painful only the few things he must never do.

My bulletin, "Stubbornness", may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

America Viewed As 'Empty Shell' In Rights Issue

CLEVELAND (AP) — Roy Wilkins, national executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, says America will be an empty shell if Congress doesn't pass President Kennedy's civil rights proposals.

He told a crowd of about 12,000 at a rally at Municipal Stadium Sunday that if the legislation is not passed:

"There won't be, in the moral and spiritual sense, an America for them (Congress) to represent. There will be only an empty shell without a heart or soul."

The rally and a preceding march in the downtown section were sponsored by the United Freedom Movement, made up of 60 different organizations, many of them church groups.

Wilkins answered criticism made last week against the rally by saying:

"Nobody should write an editorial saying because you don't have things as bad as in Mississippi, you shouldn't have a freedom march in Cleveland. Cleveland is not yet heaven."

Wilkins asked the crowd to let their congressmen know they want the President's civil rights program passed.

He called Ohio Sen. Frank J. Lausche "one you've got to watch," and the junior senator, Stephen M. Young, "one who flies off once in a while, but he votes right."

Planes Near End Of Women's Race

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Weather permitting, the first finishers in the 17th annual Powder Puff Derby were due to land at Atlantic City Airport in midmorning after a night's stopover in Dayton, Ohio.

Nine planes in the all-women, coast-to-coast airplane race made it as far as Dayton Sunday but were prevented from pushing on to the finish here by rain and strong winds along the East Coast.

Of the 34 other planes still in the race, 19 stopped over in Springfield, Ill., 7 in Kansas City, Kan., 4 in Farmington, N. M., and 4 in LaJunta, Colo.

The first finishers are not necessarily the winners, since standings are determined by a formula involving ground speed and a "par speed" handicap, which takes into account the performance capability of various models of aircraft.

Elaine Loening of San Francisco was in first place, Bernice T. Steadman of Flint, Mich., second and Nancy Lynam of Alameda, Calif., third.

The only Ohioan still in the race, Jean M. Bonar of Mansfield, spent Sunday night in Springfield, Ill.

An average of 24 letters per minute can be sorted by hand in the Post Office as compared with more than 50 when a mechanical sorter is used.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: Here is the answer to keeping a crease in little boys' trousers:

Press a good, sharp crease in the pants. Then sit down at the sewing machine and . . . using a matching thread, literally "sew" in the crease.

On heavy materials, such as corduroy—I sew about one-eighth inch from the edge of the crease. On lighter weight materials, I sew about one-sixteenth inch from the edge.

Whether the trousers belong to his best suit which gets dry-cleaned or. . . to washable trousers which get pressed or dried on a form, the crease is there to stay and is always sharp and neat.

I bought a pair of slacks that had this stitching and have used the idea ever since in my children's trousers.

DEAR HELOISE: Just a little hint for those who make pickle beets. Add three or four whole cloves to a quart jar of your beets and let them stand a day or two. Just taste the difference! Real tangy.

READER.

I used 6 cloves to one large can of beets and it was delicious. One-third each of vinegar, sugar and beet juice.

HELOISE.

PEPPER HOUSE PLANT . . .

DEAR HELOISE: If you want an attractive house plant, take a tiny red pepper from your pickling spice box. Open this up and plant the seeds. They will sprout and grow fast. The plant is lovely, glossy, and green.

It will have white star-shaped blooms that turn to tiny green peppers about one-half to one inch long. They gradually turn red and are beautiful, especially during holidays.

You will have continuous blooms and green and red peppers all the while. . . and at the same time.

In the summer I put these plants in an outdoor plant box and they flourish anew. Start new plants from seeds as your friends will be begging for them.

DEAR HELOISE: In case you don't know it, flannel-backed oil cloth can be submerged to wash.

Just put enough water in your bath tub to cover the cloth, add a little water softener and some detergent, and soak a bit. All you have to do is to rinse and throw it across the line to dry. Do not twist.

When baking several different kinds of cakes or cookies, it's not necessary to wash your mixing bowl each time. Just mix the light-colored batters first, scrape the bowl well, then mix your chocolate, etc., in the same bowl without washing, and you will never notice any flavor change. It saves lots of time washing bowls and beaters when you are baking for the freezer or are in a hurry.

MARION.

DEAR HELOISE: I pin a turkish towel on the leaf of of my sewing machine. This prevents slipping of materials and saves scratching the wood.

A new bride taught me to put a bit of corn starch in my window-washing water. It is fabulous—do not irritate my hands or cause a film. The corn starch cuts the film which has adhered to my windows and sparkles beautifully.

Police Probe Hit-Skip Case

The mishap was reported by Wilma W. Nichols, 1200 St. George St., who said her 1962 four-door sedan was struck while parked on W. 5th St. about 80 feet west of West Alley. She said the rear bumper and deck lid were pushed in.

The woman said she parked her auto at 10:40 and at 11:15 a fellow employe reported it had been damaged.

A collision at W. 8th and Lisbon Sts. Sunday at 8 p. m. damaged a 1961 model pickup truck driven by Edward Altman, 60, of New Castle and a 1958 sedan operated by Jack A. Putnam, 20, of 300 Fisher Ave., police said. Both cars were westbound, officers said.

Altman told police he was traveling west on W. 8th in the right hand lane and started to make a left turn onto the Freeway when he pulled in front of Putnam's car. The crash damaged the left door of Altman's truck and the right front fender and bumper of the Maplewood man's auto, police said.

A car and a truck were damaged in another Freeway mishap Sunday, police reported.

The mishap involved a halted 1959 sedan operated by Harold Slaughter, 20, of Akron and a 1950 model truck driven by Russell Johnson of Barberton, police said.

Slaughter told police he halted his car on the Freeway 30 feet south of the Wellsville ramp when it was sideswiped by Johnson's truck. Johnson said he applied the brakes and swerved in an unsuccessful attempt to avoid the auto.

Communists Due To Smooth Over Ideological Split

MOSCOW (AP)—Diplomats predict the Soviet and Communist Chinese negotiators will conclude their deadlocked ideological talks soon with a meaningless face-saving communique assuring that time will heal the differences in the Communist camp.

The seriousness of the split between the Communist giants was emphasized by publication Saturday of a 35,000-word Soviet Communist party statement accusing the Chinese of being hypocrites and warmongers bent on a nuclear war with the West.

The Soviet statement, an open letter to the Communist parties of the world, was an official reply to the Chinese attack June 14 on Premier Khrushchev's policy of spreading communism by living in peace with the West. It was spread over four pages of the party newspaper Pravda.

Pravda also published the Communist Chinese letter, disclosing to the Soviet people for the first time the extent of the historic breach in the Communist movement.

Bullet Wounds Senior Near Ohio U. Campus

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—Gaylord Johnson, senior at Ohio University, was wounded by gunfire late Sunday as he and his girl friend walked through a wooded area near the campus, police reported.

Johnson, from Columbus, was taken to Mount Carmel Hospital in Columbus where attendants listed his condition as good. Authorities declined to give the girl friend's name.

Two men students were being questioned about the shooting. They were quoted as saying it was accidental.

Rhodes Aide 'Critical' With Coronary Attack

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Personnel Director Wayne Ward, who suffered a heart attack Saturday night, is reported in critical condition at University Hospital.

Ward was named to his post in the state administration early this year by Gov. James A. Rhodes. He succeeded James T. Wlesh, personnel director for former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

Executive Claimed

Yanks Also Threaten Runaway In AL

Substitutes Spark Yankee Attack

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Consider the desperate plight of the New York Yankees.

They've been forced to use the likes of Hector Lopez and John Blanchard in the outfield in place of injured super-stars Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris.

But, somehow or another, the Yankees have struggled into a 6½-game edge in the American League—which is quite an edge for this time of the season, even for the perennial pennant winners.

A 14-hit attack led by Lopez, Berra and Blanchard powered the Yanks to an 11-6 victory in the opener, while Downing's four-hit pitching and the slugging of Elston Howard and Tom Tresh won the second game 5-0.

The Boston Red Sox kept their slim hold on second place in a split at Los Angeles, winning the second game 5-0 after the Angels took the opener 11-8. Chicago's third-place White Sox divided with Baltimore, nipping the Orioles 3-2 on Nellie Fox' clutch two-run single in the ninth inning following a 6-3 setback in the first game.

Minnesota unloaded a barrage of home runs and swept Cleveland 5-3 and 8-2.

The Review Sports
MONDAY, JULY 15, 1963 PAGE 14

The Detroit-at-Washington doubleheader was rained out.

The A's drew five walks off Bill Stafford in the first inning of the opener at Kansas City, taking a 4-0 lead, but the Yanks pounded back and finally made a rout of it with five runs in the eighth.

The 22-year-old Downing struck out 10 in his third shutout and fifth victory since being promoted from Richmond last month.

Chet Nichols and relief ace Dick Radatz combined for a five-hit shutout for the Red Sox in the second game at Los Angeles, while in the opener the Angels drew seven walks and every one became a run.

Fox brought the White Sox a split with the Orioles when he banged a bases-loaded single with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning.

The second game was marred by a beanballing incident in which Manager Billy Hitchcock of the Orioles had to be restrained as he charged toward White Sox pitcher John Buzhardt. Jerry Adair was hit in the mouth and Brooks Robinson in the helmet by Buzhardt fast balls.

Homers brought Minnesota 11 of its 13 runs in the sweep over Cleveland. Reserve Don Mincher belted a grand slam and Harmon Killebrew hit a two-run shot in the second game, while Earl Battey, Zoilo Versalles and Vic Power connected in the opener. Jim Kaat and Bill Pleis were the winning pitchers.

Send Streak To 7 By Nipping Phils

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The last time the Los Angeles Dodgers made a swing through the East their usually mild-mannered boss, Walter Alston, got just a little snippy. Said he was tired of being asked when he was going to be fired.

That was a couple of months ago. The Dodgers were in fifth place and four games out.

The Dodgers are now on another Eastern swing. They have won seven straight, own the largest lead the National League has seen in two years—6½ games—their pitching is shaping up as the best in baseball and Walter is just as pleasant as can be.

No one is asking him when he's going to be fired.

The Dodgers extended their string 3-2 behind Johnny Podres Sunday in the rain-shortened first game of a scheduled doubleheader at Philadelphia. The second game was postponed.

The victory added a half game to the Dodger lead over second-place San Francisco, rained out in a scheduled doubleheader at Pittsburgh.

Houston extended the New York Mets' losing string to 15 games, 8-3 in a game that was halted by rain in the eight. A scheduled second game after the Reds had won the opener 5-3. St. Louis romped to a 10-3 victory over Chicago, then lost 7-3.

Podres, a lefty on a comeback, now is 8-6 and teams with Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale to give the Dodgers perhaps the best front-line pitching in baseball. His triumph at Philadelphia was his fourth straight victory, all by one run.

Houston built a seven-run first inning around John Bateman's bases-loaded triple and coasted in against the hapless Mets. The game was called after Frank Thomas hit a two-run homer in the Mets' eighth.

Home runs by Marty Keough and Vada Pinson won the opener for Cincinnati and John Tsitouris, but the Braves rushed out to a 3-0 lead in the first inning of the nightcap and the Reds never caught up. Joe Torre's two-run double was the big blow.

Bob Shaw, who lost the opener as a starter, came on in relief to preserve the second game for Milwaukee after the Reds rallied for two runs in the ninth.

The Card-Cubs split left Chicago .001 ahead of St. Louis in their struggle for third place. The Cards got 16 hits, four by Dick Groat, scored four times in the first inning and romped in the opener.

Home runs by Ron Santo, Lou Brock and Ernie Banks won the second game for the Cubs. Santo also homered in the first game.

British Open Champ

Lefty Charles Can't See Repeating Trick In PGA

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Bob Charles, the lanky New Zealander who became the patron saint of left-handers everywhere when he won the British Open, can't see himself repeating the trick in the National PGA here this week.

Charles arrived Sunday night, weary from 72 holes of pressure golf in two days during which he dropped about six pounds from his already spare frame.

"I don't think I'll have much chance here," said the only southpaw ever to win a major golf championship. "The weather was very good in England and now I must try to adjust to the Texas heat. Also, I have to adjust from the small English ball to the American ball and I'll be playing on a new course. It's quite a combination to beat."

But, Charles said "Golf is like picking horses — you never can tell." He said he planned to give it all he has and he figures his game is suitable to the long, narrow fairways and big greens of Dac Country Club course, which measures 7,046 yards and has a 36-35—71 par.

"Winning the British Open became an endurance contest more than a test of golf," said Charles. "Phil Rodgers (who Charles beat in a playoff) felt the strain more than I did in the last 18 holes."

Charles beat Rodgers by eight strokes in the British Open playoff, shooting par 140 on the 36 holes while Rodgers was taking 148. They had tied at 277 for 72 holes.

CHICAGO CUBS' second baseman Ken Hubbs leaps high in a futile attempt to bring down a throw from catcher Dick Bertell as Cards' Gary Kolb (20) steals second in the sixth inning of the Cards-Cub first game Sunday at St. Louis. The Cards won the first game, 10-3. (UPI Telephoto)

Wynn Wants To Continue As Long As He Can Help

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Early Wynn, the latest and the last of baseball's 300-game winners—at least for several years—wants to continue pitching as long as he can help the Cleveland Indians.

"This No. 300 was so hard to get, it's tough to name any future goals," said the 43-year-old right-hander. Wynn finally reached the select circle on his eighth attempt Saturday, pitching the first five innings of a 7-4 victory over the A's.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts made it clear before boarding a plane for Minneapolis that Wynn will continue his once-a-week pitching for the Indians.

"He's pitched excellent ball and I'm going to go right on using him as often as I have," Tebbetts said.

"The gout was killing me," the night before he got the big 300th, Wynn said. He said he awoke every hour or two and took pills to relieve the aches.

A cautious 310 was the limit for Wynn in future goals. He declined to make any long-range predictions and laughed off suggestions of 350 or 400 victories.

Warren Spahn, now at 339, is the only other pitcher to reach the 300 circle in the past 22 years. Lefty Grove then with the Red Sox, won his 300th in 1941. And Grove was the first to make it since Grover Alexander and Walter Johnson, both in the late '20s.

There's no doubt 300-game winners are a vanishing breed in the modern era of the lively ball. Wynn is the 14th to join the club. Grove, Spahn and Wynn are the only ones who pitched all of their careers in the lively ball, or home run era.

Dentists Nip Johnson's In Extra Frame

The Dentists nipped Johnson's Pontiac, 6-5, in an eight-inning Colt League duel.

Rich Whittington of Johnson's and Rick Calhoun of the Dentists teamed up in a fine pitching duel but under league rules new pitchers must come in after seven innings.

When the starting pitchers retired, the score was tied 3-3 with Johnson's tieing the contest in the seventh inning. Johnson's came up with two runs off Jeff MacLean in the first of the eighth but the Dentists staged a great rally to score three runs and win the contest by a marker. MacLean was given credit for the victory.

Ron Kinsey's double was a big blow for the Dentists driving in two runs while Ken Johnson singled to drive in the winning run.

Indians Open Annual Oklahoma Exposition

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP)—The 32nd annual American Indian exposition began here today and a real frontier scout probably would have run clean out of his buckskins at the sight of so many feathered heads and painted faces.

About 5,000 members of a dozen southern Plains tribes are gathered for the week-long affair.

Named At Portsmouth

Floyd Shows Improvement In Workouts

"What?" said the scowling Liston. "Is he crazy or something?"

No, no, the reporter explained, he meant the attitude with which Patterson is approaching their return title fight next Monday night.

"I don't think it matters," said Liston. "I got the same mental attitude for every fight. I come out fighting. To win."

Newsmen talked to each fighter —separately—after Sunday's work outs. Liston had staggered his sparring partner, a light heavyweight from New York named Bill Johnson. Patterson had knocked out 232 - pound Richie Norden of Stamford, Conn., with a left hook to the head.

It's no news among the prize-fight fraternity, assembling for the title bout at the Las Vegas Convention Center, that Patterson has looked better in training.

A newsman asked Liston Sunday if he thought Patterson had been working harder, and looking better, than Liston.

The champion snorted, "Don't you think he should?"

Patterson is a 4-1 underdog, and now weighs 195 to Liston's 215. These are about the weights at which they plan to fight.

4 Youngsters Qualify For Soapbox Derby

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Baill, 12-year-old Elyria boy who worked on his car for two years, defeated John Bibbo, 15, of Cleveland by a length Sunday to win a place in the All-American Soapbox Derby in Akron Aug. 3.

In Warren, Lamar Benton, 15, of Warren won the sixth annual Warren - Trumbull County Soap Box Derby on his third try. He defeated Dante DiVenzo, 11, of Warren to become eligible for the Akron contest and was awarded a $1,000 savings bond.

Carl S. Conn, 14, won over Akron's 975-foot runway to earn the right to represent Medina and Summit counties. He defeated John Horner and Bruce Collins.

Gene Bibee, 14, won the Greater Cincinnati Soap Box Derby by covering the 800-foot track in 30.5.

R. T. McDaniel was second with 28. W. J. Hocking Jr. finished with 29 and Bob Wells showed an even 30.

In the second division, J. N. Porter won with 27, while D. D. Shay and W. A. Porter tied for second with 30.

Wednesday is the final day to qualify for the men's club championship.

Candy Spots Getting Even With Rivals

CHICAGO (AP) — Things have more than simply leveled off in the race for 3-year-old honors involving Red Ellsworth's Candy Spots and Kentucky Derby winner Chateaugay.

Candy Spots captured the $110,833 American Derby at Arlington Park Saturday, defeating B. Major by 1 lengths, while Chateaugay, who also finished ahead of Candy Spots in the Belmont, was third in the Dwyer Handicap at Aqueduct.

In the battle for the triple crown, however, Candy Spots took the Preakness. Trainer Mesh Tenney said after Candy Spots' victory in the American Derby that "this victory sort of levels things off again in the 3-year-old division and we are looking forward to meeting Chateaugay again, wherever it is."

Candy Spots, the 2-5 favorite, had only to contend with B. Major. The two fought neck and neck from the three-quarter pole on and Candy Spots pulled ahead midway in the stretch.

Chateaugay, owned by John Galbreath, was the odds-on-favorite in the $85,000 Dwyer but wound up third as Greentree Stable's Outing Class hit the finish line one length in front of Tenacle for a $12.70 payoff. Chateaugay was another one-half length back in the ¼-mile race. The Galbreath colt carried 129 pounds and gave seven to Outing Class and 21 to Tenacle.

Captain Mike Nyquist led Dartmouth's 1963 baseball team in runs batted in for the third straight year. He drove home 20 runs last spring.

Yogi Berra On Hitting Streak Now

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Yogi Berra, 38 years young, is on a hitting streak that gives the New York Yankees a lift when they need it most, with Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris on the shelf.

This doubtless is what the Yanks had in mind when they kept him on the active list as a player-coach. Berra is making the decision look good, with a 10-for-18 splurge in his last five games, raising his batting average as a part time performer to .304.

Berra drove in eight runs and slugged two homers and two doubles in the streak.

Berra stroked a double and two singles, drove in a run, scored once and caught the game as the Yanks beat Kansas City 11-6 Sunday.

Berra sidestepped any discussion of his future in baseball. He made it clear, though, he feels his career as a player isn't over. When it is, that will be soon enough for a decision.

Manager Ralph Houk said Berra's hitting was no surprise to him.

"Yogi is sure a nice guy to have around when the doubleheaders start piling up," Houk said. "Next year? Well, that's a long way off."

BASEBALL HEROES

PITCHING—Al Downing, Yankees, gave up four hits and struck out 10 in recording his third shutout and fifth victory since being called up from the minors last month, 5-0 over Kansas City.

HITTING—Dick Groat, Cardinals, collected six hits, including two doubles, in eight trips, drove in three runs and scored three in doubleheader split with Chicago Cubs. St. Louis won opener 10-3, lost second game 7-3.

Public Links Champ Not Turning Pro

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—National Public Links champion Bob Lunn has never taken a golf lesson and he has no plans to turn pro.

The 18-year-old San Franciscan, who until the weekend had won only a few northern California tournaments, blossomed into a national champion Saturday when he held off Steve Oppermann of South San Francisco 1-up in a 36-hole final.

"I just try to keep from bogeying any hole," said the soft-spoken, lanky youngster. The formula paid off as he carded fewer birdies than Oppermann, but won seven holes that his 21-year-old foe bogied.

The victory qualifies him for the national amateur championship—his next major appearance.

He played the 6,702-yard par 36-36—72 Haggin Oaks Golf course in 38-34—72 Saturday morning and 36-37—73 in the afternoon.

Lunn hit the 450-yard final green in two, left his first putt four feet short, then, although "I don't know what was in my mind," he rapped the winning putt squarely into the cup.

Lunn plans to attend San Jose State College, probably on a golf scholarship. Beyond that, his golf plans are not set.

Six former Michigan State baseball players are in the major leagues. They are Robin Roberts, Dick Radatz, Ron Perranoski, Jack Kralick, Al Luplow and Hobie Landrith.

By HAL HUMPHREY

How Wrong Can A Producer Be?

Years ago in San Francisco the producer of a stock company doing "The Witch" shouted angrily at one of his case, "If you don't think you can be replaced, you're crazy!"

Hal Humphrey

It turns out that he couldn't have been more wrong. The object of his temper was a girl with the odd name of Bea Bernaderet. Since then, Bea not only has never been replaced, but she never quit working.

The longest Bea is out of work is the time it takes her to pick up the telephone and tell her agent she is available. During a 20-year stint on radio and TV with Burns and Allen, Bea was next-door neighbor Blanche Morton. Six different actors had the husband role (Harry Morton), but it never occurred to George Burns to replace Bea.

Whenever anyone asked Bea if she wasn't tired of being Blanche, her answer was, "I get down on my knees and thank God every time I play the role—it's steady work, and any actor who discounts this is crazy."

AFTER BURNS and Allen retired from TV, Bea took on two jobs—Wilma the housekeeper for the one and only season of "Peter Loves Mary" (Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy) and the voice of Betty Rubble in "The Flintstones."

Along with "The Flintstones" and a series of other odd jobs, Bea bridged the gap until Paul Henning asked her to test for the role of Granny in "Beverly Hillbillies." Irene Ryan got that part, but Paul created Cousin Pearl Bodine for Bea.

"I know Paul from the days when he was a writer for Burns and Allen, and he always said, 'Bea, someday I'm going to have a show for you,' and now, by golly, he has," says Bea, still with a tone of surprise in her voice.

Bea refers to "Petticoat Junction," in which she stars as Kate Bradley, owner of the Shady Rest Hotel. Filming already has begun on this newest Henning production for next season, but Bea still can't acclimate to her new status.

"Maybe I don't think I am a star, maybe it's as simple as that," she says, trying to explain her lack of reaction.

Or, is it possible that Bea still hears the ringing reprimand of that Simon Legree in San Francisco who threatened to replace her?

DESPITE HER solid talent as a comedy character and a professional background that won't stop, Bea is no ham. She is a realist, and she knows jobs for actors don't always depend on their talents.

Also, when you're the so-called star of a TV series, it's like being the lead duck flying over a marsh ambushed with hunters on opening day.

The sponsors, the network, the producer and the rest of the cast are all watching intently. If that first audience rating isn't a good one, it's your fault.

As the next-door neighbor, housekeeper of squeaky voice of a cartoon character, Bea is smart enough to know that she has the protective camouflage of the "dependable second lead," who occasionlly can steal a scene, then run for cover again.

At least one thing she won't have to worry about in her new role is a dialect. Kate, of Shady Shady Rest is a town 150 miles from anything and very rural.

"I had a tough time with the hillbilly dialect for Cousin Pearl," says Bea. "But my son, Jack, helped me a lot. He's a fine dialectician."

BEA WILL BE surrounded in "Petticoat Junction" with three daughters ("One is sexy, one cerebral and the other loves trains") besides Edgar Buchanan, Smiley Burnette and Rufe Davis. The latter trio is so rural it takes a gardener instead of a barber to cut the hair of any one of them.

Meanwhile, Bea keeps practicing the Brooklyn accent of Gertrude Gearshift, the flip telephone operator who pops up every so often on Jack Benny' show. That's another job Bea has had for the past 20 years.

Officers Seek Motive In New York Slayings

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Police today sought a motive for the slaying of an attractive college coed and her date Sunday.

Blonde Shari K. Smoyer, 18, Ithaca College sophomore and Jack King, 17, a recent high school graduate, were found shot, lying side by side on a lovers' lane in suburban Pittsford. The bodies were face-down in front of King's car.

Police found five empty cartridges and a 45-caliber bullet which apparently passed through one of the bodies, hit the car, and fell to the ground.

NAACP Delays Work Protest In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — A scheduled demonstration at the new Federal Building to protest job discrimination has been postponed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The local NAACP branch agreed to the postponement Sunday night. NAACP spokesmen accuse the contractor and unions of not hiring enough Negroes. The demonstration had been scheduled for noon today.

Pastor Gives Orchids On 10th Anniversary

WARWICK, R.I. (AP) — The Rev. Carl W. Bloomquist distributed 200 orchids, one for each family, Sunday at Pilgrim Lutheran chuurch to mark his 10th anniversary as pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Bloomquist, who had the orchids flown from Hawaii, said in a letter to his parishioners: "Inasmuch as our family has received numerous expressions of love and esteem from you parishioners during these 10 happy years we are going to say it with flowers."

Analysis Needed For Overeating Binges

"Why do I eat as if there were no tomorrow when I get upset?" a career girl asks. "Why do I invariably stuff myself with food when things go wrong?" a homemaker asks. This type of question is posed repeatedly by those who overeat compulsively when troubled.

Ida Jean Kain

In order to help you I talked this over with a psychologist, for the problem needs to be tackled first from the psychological angle. This authority explained that food often represents some kind of security, and that the feelings of insecurity may date back to earlier years.

When trouble crops up, or when you get upset, the old attitudes about food are revived, and you feel compelled to eat more food than you need, perhaps more than you really enjoy.

ONCE YOU catch on to why you tend to repeat a pattern, you have a new perspective and are better able to cope. But until you develop some insight, you are at the mercy of your habitual behavior pattern.

What can be done? The direct approach is to ask youurself some searching questions. What is associated with these sporadic sprees? In short, what is fouling up your life at the time you feel the compulsion to eat like mad?

You cannot do it when you are in the grip of the situation. But in a relaxed manner you can think back and pinpoint what went wrong, and in what sphere.

Did your husband make a derogatory remark? Do you turn to food to "quiet your nerves?" Or did the onset of the urge to overeat come when the children left home, so you felt less needed? One woman gained 32 pounds following her husband's retirement ...his being home upset her.

There is a natural reluctance to put the searchlight on a problem, perhaps even an unconscious tendency not to examine too closely because sharpening the problem makes you feel uncomfortable. By glossing it over in your mind you don't have to come to grips with it.

When we are threatened in any way, we react, and the reaction is usually to indulge in a self-gratifying kind of behavior.

Try to evaluate. What do you tend to do when you feel threatened? Most people act defensively — in some manner. Recognition of the cause gives insight into why you turn to food, so this is a starting point.

BY BEING alert to the conditions under which you seek food for solace, the pattern can be traced.

A willingness to think it through is a big step, for this means you want to face facts honestly. Then if you are willing to follow through with action, and take the responsibility for what you eat daily, you are in the driver's seat.

Send a long stamped, self-addressed envelope for "Hunger Control Diet." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Designer Confesses Ducats Needed For His Sports Line

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Sports wear so dreadfully expensive, says its designer John Weitz blushingly, that it requires a good sport of a husband to finance it was shown Sunday to the nation's fashion writers.

Among the items were the world's ritziest track suits, the chic-est judo suit for home defense, the sharkiest fisherman's coat and undoubtedly the dandiest smoking jacket.

The event was the second day of fall fashion previews which are a part of an American Designer Series arranged by Eleanor Lambert.

Obviously, loafing will be an important sport borrowed from the Regency era if wife's velvet loafing costumes are widely copied, as they are likely to be.

The piped dandy jackets and trousers, striped at the sides and with a button-up dropped front, were worn with satin Lord Byron shirts with standup collars and ascot ties.

The handsome, virile German-born designer became so renowned as a sports car racer in his past that he is now struggling hard to shake off the stereotype. Consequently the reporters saw not one design suitable for the road.

But Weitz did get his women fans ready for golfing in skirts that button-pleated to the left or right in back, depending on the swinging hand of the lady.

Also newsworthy was a skirt made of hamster pelts. There were bulky handknit sweaters with horseshoe necklines and unbanded blouson bodices.

Crash Injuries Take Mount Vernon Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Injuries suffered in a traffic accident five months ago have resulted in the death of Mount Vernon Municipal Court Judge Evan P. Ford.

The 49-year-old jurist was injured in a car-truck crash near Concord, N.C., in mid-February and since that time had been hospitalized. He was returned to Ohio late in March. Death came late Sunday at Mount Carmel Hospital here.

Ford was a graduate of Ohio State University and held a law degree from Franklin University. He also was a former state Democratic senator, having served one term in 1959-60.

The original Joe Miller, whose name is popularly applied to old and stale jokes, was a comedian in the early 1700's at the Drury Lane Theater in London, England.

Man, 77, Living Ad For Car Seat Belts

He was making a turn recently when the steering mechanism of his car went out of control. The car climbed up a telephone pole guy wire, clipped through some trees and crashed to the ground upside down.

The only injury he suffered was a bump on the head — apparently when he released the seat belt, dropping him onto the car roof.

Bourne, 19, Chalks Up Ohio Amateur Victory

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—He may not do too well against the teenagers, but 19-year-old Bob Bourne of Oberlin turns tiger against the men.

The blond youngster finished ninth just a month ago in the state junior golf tournament, but Sunday he captured the state's No. 1 title—the 57th Ohio amateur championship.

Bourne, a sophomore at the University of Houston, did it with a startling 2 and 1 victory in the final 36-holer over 44-year-old Dan Carmichael of Columbus, 1960 champion and favorite all the way through the week-long, 180-hole grind.

Carmichael's usually magic putter failed him, aiding Blond Bob to his upset conquest. The Columbus architect, who played in the state meet seven years before his youthful foe was born, missed putts of four, seven, eight, five, three and four feet, and each lapse cost him a hole.

"After you miss the first one you begin wondering whether it's your stroke or the way you read the green," Carmichael said. "After you miss the second one, you lose your confidence."

Bourne, leading by four holes after 26 over the rain - drenched Elyria Country Club course, saw his lead dwindle twice to a single hole on the closing nine. But he hung on and a three-putt green and a missed four-foot putt by Carmichael kept him in front.

The youngster, whose lone previous victory of any note was in last year's Mid-American junior match play championship at Mansfield, threw his perky straw hat into the air and heaved his ball into the trees as the winning putt fell.

Bourne was two down at the end of nine holes, due to two birdie putts of 25 and 4 feet by Carmichael, but he won the 10th with a par and took three straight starting with the 15th as his veteran foe had a double bogey and then bowed to a pair of birdies. That gave Bourne a two-up edge at lunch time, and he increased it to four on the front nine of the afternoon as Carmichael's putter soured.

The new champ, whose full name is Robert Lester Bourne Jr. plans to go after the Western Junior title in Columbus in mid-August and may play in the Western Amateur at Benton Harbor, Mich.

Carmichael summed up his loss thus:

"I not only lost the championship, but I lost $15. I hadn't expected to stay around here until the finish, so I paid my $15 dollar entry fee in a sports car race at Bellefontaine Sunday. I had to forfeit the money."

6 Boys In County Win Places With State Fair Band

Six musicians in Columbiana County high schools, including one in East Liverpool have won places in the 300-piece All - Ohio Boys' Band that will play at the State Fair in Columbus Aug. 23-Sept. 2.

They are: Amos D. Hamilton of East Liverpool and Douglas C. Knisely of Columbiana, both in the clarinet section; Charles Harley of Columbiana, baritone saxophone; Glen Churchfield, also of Columbiana, trumpet; Glenn Davis of Salem, French horn and Fred Clause of Salem, oboe.

The band will present a series of daytime and evening concerts at the fair. Its appearance has been a fair highlight for more than 20 years.

Dr. Louis E. Pete, director, said the band will be comprised of "boys with a record of top performance with high school bands in every corner of the state."

Lisbon Clubs To Hold Picnic On Wednesday

LISBON — Lisbon's annual inter-club picnic will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at Whinnery's Landing at Guilford Lake.

Ruritan Club members will be host. Other clubs include Kiwanis, Junior Chamber of Commerce, Lions and Rotary.

Contests are arranged for the afternoon and supper is scheduled for 6.

Because of the picnic the Kiwanis Club will not hold its regular meeting Thursday. The Kiwanis Club's annual chicken barbecue is scheduled Wednesday, July 24, at Willow Grove Park.

75 Attend Closing Program Of Camp Fire Girls' Session

Seventy - five parents, board members and other guests attended the closing session of the Camp Fire Girls' camp Friday afternoon at Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville, when a ceremonial campfire preceded presentation of awards.

The week of day camping included one overnight session for fifth grade girls and two for the Junior Hi unit. Five groups of girls in the fourth through the eighth grade participated in the camping program.

The Wohelo Call was sounded by Mrs. Robert Bernstorf and Mrs. Dan Henderson, directors, and echoed by the campers and councilors, who then formed a horseshoe formation around the campfire. A representative from each unit then added a symbolical bit of fuel to the fire. The explanation of the fagots was given by the councilors.

Campers then combined to sing "Rise Up, O Flame," as three Junior High girls bearing the Wohelo candles of red, white and blue lit the fire. These symbolized friendship, craftsmanship and nature skills, which formed the background for the week's program.

The Law of Camp Fire then was presented by all campers, followed by the Credo for Camp Fire Girls by a group of sixth grade girls.

Camp awards then were presented by the unit councilors. These included outdoor honor beads for the fourth grade unit for its achievement of the beginning steps of outdoor skills; the Fagot Finder emblems for the fifth graders, the first rank in the outdoor program; Trail Makers' awards for the sixth graders, the second stage along the Camp Fire outdoor trail, and the Gypsy Emblem for the Junior Hi group — the highest outdoor rank attainable. Twelve members of the Junior Hi unit received this rank.

Certificates of achievement also were presented to non - members who attended the camp. Like the three others sponsored by the East Liverpool Area Camp Fire Girls, Inc., the camp was open to all girls of the community.

The closing song of the Camp Fire was presented by a representative group of campers. Then the colors were retired as the assembly sang "Taps."

Crafts exhibited by the campers included samples of Indian bead work, symbol - decorated knapsacks and kerchiefs, wood carvings, weather prophets and nature displays.

Group pictures were taken by Horsley's Studio. They may be picked up early this week at the studio by persons who placed orders.

A week of Horizon Club camp at Echo Dell and two weeks of Blue Bird camping preceded this final session of council-sponsored camping. Individual groups will continue group camping during August at both the Bryan Recreation Center and the Echo Dell Site. Reservations for group camping may be made at the Council offices by calling FU. 5-0645.

Coast Guard Rescues Beaver Man On Lake

ERIE — The Coast Guard rescued a fisherman early Sunday after he had been adrift on Lake Erie in a small boat 14 hours.

Police said Daniel Smith, 56, of Beaver Falls, was cold but otherwise in good condition.

The Coast Guard Cutter Ojibwa picked up Smith about 15 miles out.

Smith went fishing about 3 p. m. Saturday in a 14-foot boat near Erie. The wind was stiff, but the lake appeared calm. Unable to control the craft with oars, Smith was driven away from the coast by the wind.

Increase Listed For Sales Taxes

Sales tax collections and revenue from sales and use taxes on motor vehicles in Columbiana County for the fiscal year which ended June 30 showed a gain of 2.6 per cent, according to State Treasurer John D. Herbert at Columbus.

Total collections in the county reached $1,820,267 compared to $1,774,108 for the preceding fiscal year, Herbert's report showed.

Sales tax collections declined 1.7 per cent for the year, dropping to $1,185,047 compared to $1,205,447 for the preceding year, according to the state treasurer.

However, collection of sales and use taxes on motor vehicles and house trailers jumped a whopping 11.7 per cent from $568.661 to $635,220 for the fiscal year which just ended, Herbert said.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Chester Vandals Damage 2 Autos

Two cases of slashing of convertible tops were reported to Chester police Saturday.

Fred Lee Tice of East Liverpool R. D. 2 reported the top of his 1958 car was slashed sometime Friday night or Saturday morning while it was parked at the Humble Service station at 1st St. and Virginia Ave., where he is employed.

Mrs. Phyllis Anderson, 229 Carolina Ave., said the top of her 1960 auto was cut sometime Thursday night or Friday, while it was parked in front of her home.

According to Patrolman Clifford Bebout, both cars had three cuts 6 to 12 inches long in their tops, apparently made with a razor. The Anderson auto also had a 6-inch slash in a front tire. He said the investigation is continuing.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: It happened again last evening. I swore the next time it happened I would write to you and try to find out what is the matter with this woman.

My wife is a college graduate and the mother of three healthy, normal children. She holds a high office in one of the women's clubs and is considered bright by our friends. Yet, whenever I go to the refrigerator to get ice cubes I find empty trays. Why in heaven's name would anybody want to return a tray without water to the freezing compartment? And after all, Ann, how long does it take to run water in an ice tray?

Dear Mystified: Why do some people leave lights burning — or throw a coat on a chair when it would take only seconds to flip a light switch or to hang the coat up? Because it's easier —and some people always take the easy way out.

If this bugs you, appoint yourself "Keeper of the Ice Cube Trays" and check them every evening. It's better than apoplexy.

Drinking Mother

Dear Ann: Our mother drinks. I don't mean just a cocktail at parties, I mean all by herself — during the afternoon. Sometimes the woman next door comes in and they get crocked together.

When my sisters and I come home from school mom is usually in terrible shape. Most days she doesn't make the beds or clean the house. We have to do the housework or it doesn't get done. Then I go the market and beg for credit so I can have dinner on the table when dad comes home.

The weird part of the story is that mom will not admit she drinks. She says she has a headache or gall bladder trouble or dizzy spells from high blood pressure.

We notice in your column that you sometimes suggest Alcoholics Anonymous for problem drinkers. How can we get them to send a member over to talk to mom? Please help up. — DESPERATE KIDS.

Dear Kids: Alcoholics Anonymous will send a member to talk to an alcoholic only if the person who needs help will admit he is an alcoholic and asks for the intervention of AA.

Your mother, unfortunately, does not quality.

Confidentially

TO WONDERING: You can stop wondering about this situation.

The true measure of a man is how he treats people who can't possibly do him any good.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Teacher Retains Aide For Probe Of Gold's Slaying

CLEVELAND (AP) — Allene Leonards, 24-year-old second grade teacher who told sheriff's deputies she was with rackets figure Alex (Kshondor) Birns until shortly before the time investment promoter Marvin Gold is believed to have been slain, has hired the attorney who has been representing Birns, it was reported today.

She told a Cleveland Plain Dealer reporter Sunday her lawyer is James R. Willis. Willis also represented Gold in his Federal Court trial and in several hearings in Common Pleas Court.

Investigators said Miss Leonards told them any information about her and Birns' whereabouts after 10:30 p.m. on July 5, the night of the murder, would have to come through her attorney or else as testimony. The coroner has placed the time of Gold's death that night at about 11:30, shortly after he had left his home to meet Birns.

Authorities said Miss Leonards, who teaches at Garfield Park School in suburban Garfield Heights, may be called to testify at the inquest into Gold's death Wednesday morning.

Detective Lt. Carl Delau said the fact that Birns and Miss Leonards dined together at a suburban Oakwood tavern covers Birns whereabouts only until about 10:30 on the murder night.

"He doesn't account for more than 12 hours of his time, from 10:30 p.m. until he showed up Saturday in Toledo," Delau said.

Ohio Soldier Drowns In River, Army Says

FT. RILEY, Kan. (AP) — A young soldier who drowned in the Kansas River is the son of a Germantown, Ohio, man, the Army says.

The victim, who went under after jumping into the river Saturday, was Pfc. Paul R. Isaacs, 19, of Ft. Riley. Forrest W. Isaacs of Germantown is listed as his father.

Ohio Driver, 59, Dies On Pennsylvania Road

JAMESTOWN, Pa. (AP) —An Ohioan was thrown from his car and killed Sunday when it hit some guard rails just a few hundred feet from the Pennsylvania-Ohio line across U.S. 322.

The victim was Lewis W. Clarke, 59, of Kinsman (Trumbull County).

Police Check Theft Series

John M. Ryan, 215 W. 7th St., told officers a "polite" thief stole two wheels and tires off his auto Saturday night or early Sunday while it was parked on a Baum St. lot, but placed blocks under the axle to support the car. The theft was reported at 5:30 a. m. yesterday.

Bob Schell, 301 Pennsylvania Ave., told police Saturday at 5:45 p. m. a tire, tube and wheel were stolen from his truck while it was parked on W. 9th St. June 30 or July 1.

Dick Simms, 725 Rigby St., reported theft of a pup tent valued at $10. He said the tent was taken from the back yard at his home sometime between noon Saturday and Sunday morning.

An apparent entry was checked Sunday afternoon at the home of Norman Lemley, 1730 Pennsylvania Ave., but apparently nothing was taken, officers said. The family is to check further upon its return and advise if anything was stolen, officers said.

Police notified after a neighbor noted that the back door of the home was open, with a key in the lock, although the rear storm door was locked. She notified Lemley's son-in-law, Albert Tiberio, 323 Midland Ave., Midland, who made a check with officers. Apparently nothing had been disturbed, police said.

Recent vandalism at the Sheridan African Methodist Episcopal Church at W. 9th and Claiborne Sts. was reported to police Saturday at 1:40 p. m. by the Rev. James G. Douglass, pastor.

He said some windows were broken in the last two weeks and some shingles were broken from the side of the building. Other instances of vandalism have occurred in the preceding two months, the minister said.

Congress Eyes Peanut Matters In Slow Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — Peanuts, birds and fish highlight an odds-and-ends assortment of legislation this week before the 88th Congress, rapidly earning a reputation as one of the slowest-moving in history.

There are no signs of acceleration soon in the current snail's pace of activity on the Senate and House floors.

Instead, there is growing talk of a long Labor Day vacation which might start before the scheduled Aug. 28 integration demonstration that may draw 100,000 persons to the capital.

Adjournment before September now appears to be out of the question.

Currently listed as the House business for the week are bills pertaining to peanuts for boiling, automatic date processing equipment and seditious activities.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Children Should Come When Called

Many mothers write of the tot from two to four that they have a hard time to get him to come indoors from play. In the first place he needs to learn the boundaries beyond which he must not go while outside. If he is absorbed in fun when you call him or go for him, it may not be easy for him suddenly to come right in. As a rule, it helps if you give him a warning signal that he must soon come in. This enables him to get ready physically and emotionally.

Dr. Garry Meyers

Even when you make the final call, you should not expect him to run breathlessly into the house. Be reasonable.

—:—

IF HE DELAYS unduly long or refuses to come, you may have to go get him. If you must, try turning his attention to a story or some other pleasure awaiting him or divert his interests otherwise so as to weaken his resistance.

Often, instead of calling him, you might wisely go out leisurely, in your kindest way, to where he is and inform him it's time to come in.

Some mothers set a clock on the porch to ring when the tot should come in. He may respond to this more readily than to his mother's announcement, especially if he can have the fun of turning the clock off.

The mother may have special trouble to get the tot indoors for his nap if he has gone outdoors after lunch. Sometimes she forgets the passing of time and lets him stay out unduly long. As a rule, she may be wise not to let him go outdoors after lunch but to have him play quietly indoors for a few minutes or to hear a few stories.

AS IS GETTING him to bed at night, spanking him to make him come in is hardly a good way. Of course if you had to pick him up to bring him in or take him to bed and he kicked or hit you, then a sharp, quick smack might be desirable and effective.

A related problem is to get the little child to answer you as you call to him in another room or out of sight elsewhere. You may just want to know where he is. But he may not feel it necessary to answer.

As a rule, you should go to where you suppose he is and speak to him quietly, face to face. To punish him for not answering may not be good.

Make pleasant what you want the young child to do and painful only the few things he must never do.

My bulletin, "Stubbornness", may be had by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

America Viewed As 'Empty Shell' In Rights Issue

CLEVELAND (AP) — Roy Wilkins, national executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, says America will be an empty shell if Congress doesn't pass President Kennedy's civil rights proposals.

He told a crowd of about 12,000 at a rally at Municipal Stadium Sunday that if the legislation is not passed:

"There won't be, in the moral and spiritual sense, an America for them (Congress) to represent. There will be only an empty shell without a heart or soul."

The rally and a preceding march in the downtown section were sponsored by the United Freedom Movement, made up of 60 different organizations, many of them church groups.

Wilkins answered criticism made last week against the rally by saying:

"Nobody should write an editorial saying because you don't have things as bad as in Mississippi, you shouldn't have a freedom march in Cleveland. Cleveland is not yet heaven."

Wilkins asked the crowd to let their congressmen know they want the President's civil rights program passed.

He called Ohio Sen. Frank J. Lausche "one you've got to watch," and the junior senator, Stephen M. Young, "one who flies off once in a while, but he votes right."

Planes Near End Of Women's Race

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Weather permitting, the first finishers in the 17th annual Powder Puff Derby were due to land at Atlantic City Airport in midmorning after a night's stopover in Dayton, Ohio.

Nine planes in the all-women, coast-to-coast airplane race made it as far as Dayton Sunday but were prevented from pushing on to the finish here by rain and strong winds along the East Coast.

Of the 34 other planes still in the race, 19 stopped over in Springfield, Ill., 7 in Kansas City, Kan., 4 in Farmington, N. M., and 4 in LaJunta, Colo.

The first finishers are not necessarily the winners, since standings are determined by a formula involving ground speed and a "par speed" handicap, which takes into account the performance capability of various models of aircraft.

Elaine Loening of San Francisco was in first place, Bernice T. Steadman of Flint, Mich., second and Nancy Lynam of Alameda, Calif., third.

The only Ohioan still in the race, Jean M. Bonar of Mansfield, spent Sunday night in Springfield, Ill.

Suggestions Are Offered In Painting Child's Room

The one room in the house which is probably subjected to the most wear and tear and requires the most frequent cleanup is also the room that should be the most cheerful. This is the child's room.

Parents frequently are met with the sight of Johnny's last artistic effort on the door, the place on the wall where he drew an outline of his brother in indelible ink, the dots on the ceiling from the night they used it for target practice with their slingshots and ink cartridges. Subsequent decision: a fresh paint job will do wonders for the room.

In selecting the proper type and color coating for this room, there are some basic facts the home owner should remember, says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Armed with information about type and color, the resulting paint job will be a source of satisfaction for him and of pleasure for his children.

What, then, should be considered when choosing paint for a child's room: The following are questions which should be answered by and for the handyman for a successful paint job. Is the paint sturdy and adle to withstand much art-work and many cleanings? What type of surface will he be painting on? Where is the room located? What color should be used?

A latex paint is generally the best bet for the 'do-it-yourselfer' when painting most ordinary walls and ceilings. It is easily applied, gives a smoother appearance, leaves no lap marks, and dries quickly. It can be cleaned frequently with soap and water, and the cleaning up after the painting can also be done with soap and water. Many latex paints require a 30-day curing period before they can be washed or cleaned. Also, a few latex paints on the market today have a gloss or semi-gloss finish.

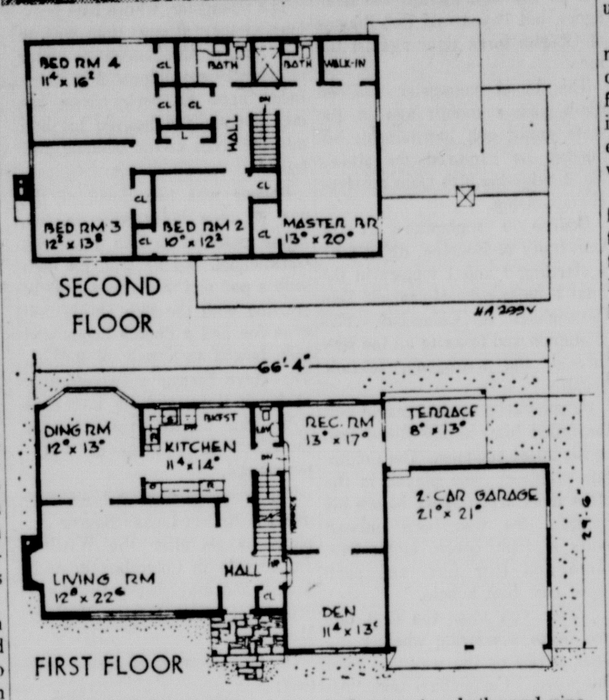
A standard for painting children's rooms has been the alkyd or oil base paint. The alkyd paints are available in gloss or semi-gloss finishes. They also will withstand many and frequent cleanings. However, alkyds are not quite as easy to apply and still achieve a smooth surface; there is a slight odor during drying; and post-painting clean up is not quite as simple.

Armed with factual information about types of paint, the handyman and his wife can now get down to the choice of color. Color is relative to the location of the room and the type of paint decided upon. In a room with a northern exposure, a light color with a gloss or semi-gloss finish will reflect existing light and artificial light to a better advantage, than will a flat finish of a darker color.

If the room has a southern exposure, then a darker color with a flat finish may be used. If the type of paint lends itself to frequent cleaning, a light color may be used. If not, then the color may well be one which will not tend to show even the slightly bit of grime and dirt, such as a sandy beige. The handyman also should remember that brightness can be added to a child's room in accent colors, either in painted furniture or in the fabrics used.

Above all, when painting a child's room, remember the child himself. He should be able to "live" in his room. The room should be bright and cheerful so that a rainy day spent inside is not so depressing after all. A child spends varying amounts of time in his room, from an entire day to a few minutes spent there between dashes outside to play. The room should be a reflection of his own cheerful personality.

The major league baseball record for consecutive number of games played in by one man was set by Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees, who played in 2,130 consecutive games from June 1, 1925, through April 30, 1939.



TWO-STORY HOME has four bedrooms, two baths and nine closets on the second floor. First floor contains living room, dining room with bay window, kitchen plus breakfast area, recreation room, den and lavatory, all adding up to a lot of house for a controlled budget. Architect Fenick A. Vogel, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York 36, N. Y., designed Plan HA299V. Area is 1,177 square feet for the first floor and 1,170 for the second.

Tailored Kitchen Helps Ease Homemaker's Task

Many an aching feminine back has been developed while leaning over a kitchen sink full of dishes.

At physical maturity, the average woman in the United States stands slightly over five feet, four inches tall. Based on this average, manufacturers recommend that sinks be installed 36 inches from the floor.

If the homemaker is above average height, however, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago, she should consider having the kitchen sink installed at a more comfortable level.

The tailored kitchen can be a real wife-saver. Installing the sink with the rim 38 inches from the floor and raising other work surfaces as well, can take most of the drudgery out of doing dishes and preparing meals.

In new construction or in remodeling, the home owner can have the kitchen sink, cabinets, lunch bar, built-in dinette, range and refrigerator tailored or built at heights and widths which are most convenient for the gal who uses the equipment.

An experienced plumbing contractor will be able to install a sink at exactly the right height for any homemaker. He can then make all of the arrangements with other tradesmen to provide cabinets and counter space at the same height.

In addition, the plumbing contractor's knowledge of modern kitchen plans enables him to create a step-saving layout for placement of other kitchen equipment. This will further eliminate unnecessary strain on the homemaker.

Search Fails To Find Cleveland Woman, 81

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Armin Menke, 81, who is just 4-foot-4 and weighs only 65 pounds, walked out of her house Saturday night and headed toward a rear garden which meets the Lake Abram Swamp in Middleburg Heights.

She has not been seen or heard from since. A police search of the area for two hours Saturday night and most of Sunday failed to turn up a clue.

Tax Report Issued

LISBON — Repeal of the $18 house trailer tax in favor of assessment upon value at the local tax rate brought increased statewide collections during 1962, State Auditor Roger W. Tracy said today at Columbus. In Columbiana County, the source produced $12,724. Statewide, the collections were $945,620, up $104,932 from the previous high of $836,688 during 1961.

New Dip Due Metal Firms

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel magaine forecast another dip in steel production this week for the eighth straight week and said steel makers aren't looking for an upturn before September.

With operations curtailed to near 65 per cent of unofficial capacity, this week's output was forecast at less than the 2,020,000 ingot tons the trade publication estimated was produced last week.

For the month, steel producers figure shipments will be down 15 to 20 per cent from last month's totals, Steel said, and a further 10 to 15 per cent decline is expected in August.

If September is better, Steel said, "it will be because inventory liquidation is slowing down and the economy is on the upswing."

Continued inventory cutbacks are deepening the usual summer slump. Mills will ship no more than 16 million tons of finished steel this quarter, Steel said, while customers will consume about 18.7 million tons, "taking 2.7 million tons from inventories built for a strike that was averted."

Broadloom Takes Careful Cutting

Question: We will be moving shortly. We have wool, wall-to-wall broadloom in our present living room and plan on rolling it up the day before the moving men arrive.

The living room in our new place is slightly smaller than the one we have now. We hope to put down the broadloom ourselves, but some trimming will be necessary. Is this difficult?

Answer: The cutting of most types of broadloom is not difficult, but it requires care to be certain that the cut is clean and straight.

The carpeting must be turned over so that its underside is face up. A line is drawn where the cut is to be made. Check and double check it, since a mistake cannot be rectified. Place a straightedge along the line and make the cut. The general recommendation is to use a sharp knife of the kind made for cutting carpeting.

As in all do-it-yourself operations where a sharp instrument is being used, be extra careful not to stay directly behind the blade as the cut is being made.

Yanks Also Threaten Runaway In AL

Substitutes Spark Yankee Attack

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Consider the desperate plight of the New York Yankees.

They've been forced to use the likes of Hector Lopez and John Blanchard in the outfield in place of injured super-stars Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris.

But, somehow or another, the Yankees have struggled into a 6½-game edge in the American League—which is quite an edge for this time of the season, even for the perennial pennant winners.

A 14-hit attack led by Lopez, Berra and Blanchard powered the Yanks to an 11-6 victory in the opener, while Downing's four-hit pitching and the slugging of Elston Howard and Tom Tresh won the second game 5-0.

The Boston Red Sox kept their slim hold on second place in a split at Los Angeles, winning the second game 5-0 after the Angels took the opener 11-8. Chicago's third-place White Sox divided with Baltimore, nipping the Orioles 3-2 on Nellie Fox' clutch two-run single in the ninth inning following a 6-3 setback in the first game.

Minnesota unloaded a barrage of home runs and swept Cleveland 5-3 and 8-2.

The Detroit-at-Washington doubleheader was rained out.

The A's drew five walks off Bill Stafford in the first inning of the opener at Kansas City, taking a 4-0 lead, but the Yanks pounded back and finally made a rout of it with five runs in the eighth.

The 22-year-old Downing struck out 10 in his third shutout and fifth victory since being promoted from Richmond last month.

Chet Nichols and relief ace Dick Radatz combined for a five-hit shutout for the Red Sox in the second game at Los Angeles, while in the opener the Angels drew seven walks and every one became a run.

Fox brought the White Sox a split with the Orioles when he banged a bases-loaded single with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning.

The second game was marred by a beanballing incident in which Manager Billy Hitchcock of the Orioles had to be restrained as he charged toward White Sox pitcher John Buzhardt. Jerry Adair was hit in the mouth and Brooks Robinson in the helmet by Buzhardt fast balls.

Homers brought Minnesota 11 of its 13 runs in the sweep over Cleveland. Reserve Don Mincher belted a grand slam and Harmon Killebrew hit a two-run shot in the second game, while Earl Battey, Zoilo Versalles and Vic Power connected in the opener. Jim Kaat and Bill Pleis were the winning pitchers.

Send Streak To 7 By Nipping Phils

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The last time the Los Angeles Dodgers made a swing through the East their usually mild-mannered boss, Walter Alston, got just a little snippy. Said he was tired of being asked when he was going to be fired.

That was a couple of months ago. The Dodgers were in fifth place and four games out.

The Dodgers are now on another Eastern swing. They have won seven straight, own the largest lead the National League has seen in two years—6½ games—their pitching is shaping up as the best in baseball and Walter is just as pleasant as can be.

No one is asking him when he's going to be fired.

The Dodgers extended their string 3-2 behind Johnny Podres Sunday in the rain-shortened first game of a scheduled doubleheader at Philadelphia. The second game was postponed.

The victory added a half game to the Dodger lead over second-place San Francisco, rained out in a scheduled doubleheader at Pittsburgh.

Houston extended the New York Mets' losing string to 15 games, 8-3 in a game that was halted by rain in the eight. A scheduled second game after the Reds had won the opener 5-3. St. Louis romped to a 10-3 victory over Chicago, then lost 7-3.

Podres, a lefty on a comeback, now is 8-6 and teams with Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale to give the Dodgers perhaps the best front-line pitching in baseball. His triumph at Philadelphia was his fourth straight victory, all by one run.

Houston built a seven-run first inning around John Bateman's bases-loaded triple and coasted in against the hapless Mets. The game was called after Frank Thomas hit a two-run homer in the Mets' eighth.

Home runs by Marty Keough and Vada Pinson won the opener for Cincinnati and John Tsitouris, but the Braves rushed out to a 3-0 lead in the first inning of the nightcap and the Reds never caught up. Joe Torre's two-run double was the big blow.

Bob Shaw, who lost the opener as a starter, came on in relief to preserve the second game for Milwaukee after the Reds rallied for two runs in the ninth.

The Card-Cubs split left Chicago .001 ahead of St. Louis in their struggle for third place. The Cards got 16 hits, four by Dick Groat, scored four times in the first inning and romped in the opener.

Home runs by Ron Santo, Lou Brock and Ernie Banks won the second game for the Cubs. Santo also homered in the first game.

British Open Champ

Lefty Charles Can't See Repeating Trick In PGA

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Bob Charles, the lanky New Zealander who became the patron saint of left-handers everywhere when he won the British Open, can't see himself repeating the trick in the National PGA here this week.

Charles arrived Sunday night, weary from 72 holes of pressure golf in two days during which he dropped about six pounds from his already spare frame.

"I don't think I'll have much chance here," said the only southpaw ever to win a major golf championship. "The weather was very good in England and now I must try to adjust to the Texas heat. Also, I have to adjust from the small English ball to the American ball and I'll be playing on a new course. It's quite a combination to beat."

But, Charles said "Golf is like picking horses — you never can tell." He said he planned to give it all he has and he figures his game is suitable to the long, narrow fairways and big greens of Dac Country Club course, which measures 7,046 yards and has a 36-35—71 par.

"Winning the British Open became an endurance contest more than a test of golf," said Charles. "Phil Rodgers (who Charles beat in a playoff) felt the strain more than I did in the last 18 holes."

Charles beat Rodgers by eight strokes in the British Open playoff, shooting par 140 on the 36 holes while Rodgers was taking 148. They had tied at 277 for 72 holes.

CHICAGO CUBS' second baseman Ken Hubbs leaps high in a futile attempt to bring down a throw from catcher Dick Bertell as Cards' Gary Kolb (20) steals second in the sixth inning of the Cards-Cub first game Sunday at St. Louis. The Cards won the first game, 10-3. (UPI Telephoto)

Wynn Wants To Continue As Long As He Can Help

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Early Wynn, the latest and the last of baseball's 300-game winners—at least for several years—wants to continue pitching as long as he can help the Cleveland Indians.

"This No. 300 was so hard to get, it's tough to name any future goals," said the 43-year-old right-hander. Wynn finally reached the select circle on his eighth attempt Saturday, pitching the first five innings of a 7-4 victory over the A's.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts made it clear before boarding a plane for Minneapolis that Wynn will continue his once-a-week pitching for the Indians.

"He's pitched excellent ball and I'm going to go right on using him as often as I have," Tebbetts said.

"The gout was killing me," the night before he got the big 300th, Wynn said. He said he awoke every hour or two and took pills to relieve the aches.

A cautious 310 was the limit for Wynn in future goals. He declined to make any long-range predictions and laughed off suggestions of 350 or 400 victories.

Warren Spahn, now at 339, is the only other pitcher to reach the 300 circle in the past 22 years. Lefty Grove then with the Red Sox, won his 300th in 1941. And Grove was the first to make it since Grover Alexander and Walter Johnson, both in the late '20s.

There's no doubt 300-game winners are a vanishing breed in the modern era of the lively ball. Wynn is the 14th to join the club. Grove, Spahn and Wynn are the only ones who pitched all of their careers in the lively ball, or home run era.

Dentists Nip Johnson's In Extra Frame

The Dentists nipped Johnson's Pontiac, 6-5, in an eight-inning Colt League duel.

Rich Whittington of Johnson's and Rick Calhoun of the Dentists teamed up in a fine pitching duel but under league rules new pitchers must come in after seven innings.

When the starting pitchers retired, the score was tied 3-3 with Johnson's tieing the contest in the seventh inning. Johnson's came up with two runs off Jeff MacLean in the first of the eighth but the Dentists staged a great rally to score three runs and win the contest by a marker. MacLean was given credit for the victory.

Indians Open Annual Oklahoma Exposition

ANADARKO, Okla. (AP)—The 32nd annual American Indian exposition began here today and a real frontier scout probably would have run clean out of his buckskins at the sight of so many feathered heads and painted faces.

About 5,000 members of a dozen southern Plains tribes are gathered for the week-long affair.

Named At Portsmouth

Floyd Shows Improvement In Workouts

"What?" said the scowling Liston. "Is he crazy or something?"

No, no, the reporter explained, he meant the attitude with which Patterson is approaching their return title fight next Monday night.

"I don't think it matters," said Liston. "I got the same mental attitude for every fight. I come out fighting. To win."

It's no news among the prize-fight fraternity, assembling for the title bout at the Las Vegas Convention Center, that Patterson has looked better in training.

A newsman asked Liston Sunday if he thought Patterson had been working harder, and looking better, than Liston.

The champion snorted, "Don't you think he should?"

Patterson is a 4-1 underdog, and now weighs 195 to Liston's 215. These are about the weights at which they plan to fight.

4 Youngsters Qualify For Soapbox Derby

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert Baill, 12-year-old Elyria boy who worked on his car for two years, defeated John Bibbo, 15, of Cleveland by a length Sunday to win a place in the All-American Soapbox Derby in Akron Aug. 3.

In Warren, Lamar Benton, 15, of Warren won the sixth annual Warren - Trumbull County Soap Box Derby on his third try. He defeated Dante DiVenzo, 11, of Warren to become eligible for the Akron contest and was awarded a $1,000 savings bond.

Carl S. Conn, 14, won over Akron's 975-foot runway to earn the right to represent Medina and Summit counties. He defeated John Horner and Bruce Collins.

Gene Bibee, 14, won the Greater Cincinnati Soap Box Derby by covering the 800-foot track in 30.5.

Wednesday is the final day to qualify for the men's club championship.

Candy Spots Getting Even With Rivals

Candy Spots captured the $110,833 American Derby at Arlington Park Saturday, defeating B. Major by 1 lengths, while Chateaugay, who also finished ahead of Candy Spots in the Belmont, was third in the Dwyer Handicap at Aqueduct.

In the battle for the triple crown, however, Candy Spots took the Preakness. Trainer Mesh Tenney said after Candy Spots' victory in the American Derby that "this victory sort of levels things off again in the 3-year-old division and we are looking forward to meeting Chateaugay again, wherever it is."

Candy Spots, the 2-5 favorite, had only to contend with B. Major. The two fought neck and neck from the three-quarter pole on and Candy Spots pulled ahead midway in the stretch.

Chateaugay, owned by John Galbreath, was the odds-on-favorite in the $85,000 Dwyer but wound up third as Greentree Stable's Outing Class hit the finish line one length in front of Tenacle for a $12.70 payoff. Chateaugay was another one-half length back in the ¼-mile race. The Galbreath colt carried 129 pounds and gave seven to Outing Class and 21 to Tenacle.

Yogi Berra On Hitting Streak Now

KANSAS CITY (AP — Yogi Berra, 38 years young, is on a hitting streak that gives the New York Yankees a lift when they need it most, with Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris on the shelf.

This doubtless is what the Yanks had in mind when they kept him on the active list as a player-coach. Berra is making the decision look good, with a 10-for-18 splurge in his last five games, raising his batting average as a part time performer to .304.

Berra drove in eight runs and slugged two homers and two doubles in the streak.

Berra stroked a double and two singles, drove in a run, scored once and caught the game as the Yanks beat Kansas City 11-6 Sunday.

Berra sidestepped any discussion of his future in baseball. He made it clear, though, he feels his career as a player isn't over. When it is, that will be soon enough for a decision.

Manager Ralph Houk said Berra's hitting was no surprise to him.

"Yogi is sure a nice guy to have around when the doubleheaders start piling up," Houk said. "Next year? Well, that's a long way off."

BASEBALL HEROES

PITCHING—Al Downing, Yankees, gave up four hits and struck out 10 in recording his third shutout and fifth victory since being called up from the minors last month, 5-0 over Kansas City.

HITTING—Dick Groat, Cardinals, collected six hits, including two doubles, in eight trips, drove in three runs and scored three in doubleheader split with Chicago Cubs. St. Louis won opener 10-3, lost second game 7-3.

Public Links Champ Not Turning Pro

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—National Public Links champion Bob Lunn has never taken a golf lesson and he has no plans to turn pro.

The 18-year-old San Franciscan, who until the weekend had won only a few northern California tournaments, blossomed into a national champion Saturday when he held off Steve Oppermann of South San Francisco 1-up in a 36-hole final.

"I just try to keep from bogeying any hole," said the soft-spoken, lanky youngster. The formula paid off as he carded fewer birdies than Oppermann, but won seven holes that his 21-year-old foe bogied.

The victory qualifies him for the national amateur championship—his next major appearance. He played the 6,702-yard par 36-36—72 Haggin Oaks Golf course in 38-34—72 Saturday morning and 36-37—73 in the afternoon.

Lunn hit the 450-yard final green in two, left his first putt four feet short, then, although "I don't know what was in my mind," he rapped the winning putt squarely into the cup.

Lunn plans to attend San Jose State College, probably on a golf scholarship. Beyond that, his golf plans are not set.

Six former Michigan State baseball players are in the major leagues. They are Robin Roberts, Dick Radatz, Ron Perranoski, Jack Kralick, Al Luplow and Hobie Landrith.

Pilot Views Climbers Thought Lost On Peak

TALKEETNA, Alaska (AP) — Seven Harvard University climbers are in good shape and still scaling Mt. McKinley's Wickersham Wall, veteran bush pilot Don Sheldon reported this morning.

Sheldon flew near the party at the 17,000-foot level and the climbers indicated all was well and they were continuing the climb. Shledon spotted the group Sunday morning after a three-day search.

The climbers had last been sighted six days ago. Sheldon, well-known for mountain rescue missions, spotted the party's tracks Friday. The tracks disappeared in an avalanche. The avalanche apparently occurred after the group had passed that point, Sheldon said.

Sheldon, accompanied by a Civil Air Patrol observer, was unable to land the plane at 17,000 feet. He said the mountain was obscured by clouds. He was unable to talk with the climbers and all communication was by prearranged signals.

The CAP official, L. Tyree, said the climbers probably would take two more days to reach the 19,470-foot north summit of McKinley.

Iraq President Vows Move On Red Plotters

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Brushing aside threats from Moscow, Iraqi President Abdel Salam Aref says he will continue to crack down on those plotting to "turn Iraq into an atheist Communist state."

One such plot is the Kurdish rebellion, Aref claimed Sunday in a National Day speech broadcast by Baghdad Radio. Mullah Mustafa Barzani, the Kirdish leader, denies Communists are behind his war for independence.

Story Didn't Live Up

DANIELSON, Conn. (AP) — The headline read "School Nurse and Custodian Sought." Interested readers were quick to learn the story was just a plea from the local school board for applications for those two positions.

Mix thinly sliced cucumbers with cultured sour cream, adding lemon juice and sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Wonderful with cold poached salmon!

Jobs Called Key To Civil Rights Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's top economist warned today that the Negro drive for civil rights and job equality will be "frustrated and frustrating" unless the country provides millions of new jobs.

Chairman Walter W. Heller of the President's Council of Economic Advisers said Negro unemployment—now double the white rate—will fall twice as fast as that of whites if a tax cut paves the way to full employment.

By providing equal hiring opportunities, the nation can expand its output by $14.5 billion a year, Heller told The Associated Press in an interview.

The question-and-answer text:

Q. Mr. Chairman, would you say that the civil rights problem is in large part an economic problem?

A. Well, civil rights don't mean much without economic rights—without the right, and above all, the opportunity to get a self-respecting job.

Q. In that connection, you said recently in effect that full employment means more to nonwhites than to any other major group.

Man, 77, Living Ad For Car Seat Belts

He was making a turn recently when the steering mechanism of his car went out of control. The car climbed up a telephone pole guy wire, clipped through some trees and crashed to the ground upside down.

The only injury he suffered was a bump on the head — apparently when he released the seat belt, dropping him onto the car roof.

Bourne, 19, Chalks Up Ohio Amateur Victory

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP)—He may not do too well against the teenagers, but 19-year-old Bob Bourne of Oberlin turns tiger against the men.

The blond youngster finished ninth just a month ago in the state junior golf tournament, but Sunday he captured the state's No. 1 title—the 57th Ohio amateur championship.

Bourne, a sophomore at the University of Houston, did it with a startling 2 and 1 victory in the final 36-holer over 44-year-old Dan Carmichael of Columbus, 1960 champion and favorite all the way through the week-long, 180-hole grind.

Carmichael's usually magic putter failed him, aiding Blond Bob to his upset conquest. The Columbus architect, who played in the state meet seven years before his youthful foe was born, missed putts of four, seven, eight, five, three and four feet, and each lapse cost him a hole.

"After you miss the first one you begin wondering whether it's your stroke or the way you read the green," Carmichael said. "After you miss the second one, you lose your confidence."

Bourne, leading by four holes after 26 over the rain - drenched Elyria Country Club course, saw his lead dwindle twice to a single hole on the closing nine. But he hung on and a three-putt green and a missed four-foot putt by Carmichael kept him in front.

The youngster, whose lone previous victory of any note was in last year's Mid-American junior match play championship at Mansfield, threw his perky straw hat into the air and heaved his ball into the trees as the winning putt fell.

Bourne was two down at the end of nine holes, due to two birdie putts of 25 and 4 feet by Carmichael, but he won the 10th with a par and took three straight starting with the 15th as his veteran foe had a double bogey and then bowed to a pair of birdies. That gave Bourne a two-up edge at lunch time, and he increased it to four on the front nine of the afternoon as Carmichael's putter soured.

The new champ, whose full name is Robert Lester Bourne Jr. plans to go after the Western Junior title in Columbus in mid-August and may play in the Western Amateur at Benton Harbor, Mich.

Carmichael summed up his loss thus:

"I not only lost the championship, but I lost $15. I hadn't expected to stay around here until the finish, so I paid my $15 dollar entry fee in a sports car race at Bellefontaine Sunday. I had to forfeit the money."

6 Boys In County Win Places With State Fair Band

Six musicians in Columbiana County high schools, including one in East Liverpool have won places in the 300-piece All - Ohio Boys' Band that will play at the State Fair in Columbus Aug. 23-Sept. 2.

They are: Amos D. Hamilton of East Liverpool and Douglas C. Knisely of Columbiana, both in the clarinet section; Charles Harley of Columbiana, baritone saxophone; Glen Churchfield, also of Columbiana, trumpet; Glenn Davis of Salem, French horn and Fred Clause of Salem, oboe.

The band will present a series of daytime and evening concerts at the fair. Its appearance has been a fair highlight for more than 20 years.

Dr. Louis E. Pete, director, said the band will be comprised of "boys with a record of top performance with high school bands in every corner of the state."

Lisbon Clubs To Hold Picnic On Wednesday

LISBON — Lisbon's annual inter-club picnic will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at Whinnery's Landing at Guilford Lake.

Contests are arranged for the afternoon and supper is scheduled for 6.

Because of the picnic the Kiwanis Club will not hold its regular meeting Thursday. The Kiwanis Club's annual chicken barbecue is scheduled Wednesday, July 24, at Willow Grove Park.

Stamp Club Arranges Show, Sale At Lisbon

LISBON — The Columbiana Stamp Club will hold its fourth annual exhibition and sale Saturday and Sunday at the VFW Building.

The show will open at noon each day, closing at 10 p. m. Saturday and 6 p. m. Sunday. Entries will be accepted until Friday night.

A blue and gray cachet has been prepared for covers honoring "The General," Civil War locomotive which started a swing through the district with a visit here Sunday.

75 Attend Closing Program Of Camp Fire Girls' Session

Seventy - five parents, board members and other guests attended the closing session of the Camp Fire Girls' camp Friday afternoon at Bryan Recreation Center in Dixonville, when a ceremonial campfire preceded presentation of awards.

The week of day camping included one overnight session for fifth grade girls and two for the Junior Hi unit. Five groups of girls in the fourth through the eighth grade participated in the camping program.

The Wohelo Call was sounded by Mrs. Robert Bernstorf and Mrs. Dan Henderson, directors, and echoed by the campers and councilors, who then formed a horseshoe formation around the campfire. A representative from each unit then added a symbolical bit of fuel to the fire. The explanation of the fagots was given by the councilors.

Campers then combined to sing "Rise Up, O Flame," as three Junior High girls bearing the Wohelo candles of red, white and blue lit the fire. These symbolized friendship, craftsmanship and nature skills, which formed the background for the week's program.

The Law of Camp Fire then was presented by all campers, followed by the Credo for Camp Fire Girls by a group of sixth grade girls.

Camp awards then were presented by the unit councilors. These included outdoor honor beads for the fourth grade unit for its achievement of the beginning steps of outdoor skills; the Fagot Finder emblems for the fifth graders, the first rank in the outdoor program; Trail Makers' awards for the sixth graders, the second stage along the Camp Fire outdoor trail, and the Gypsy Emblem for the Junior Hi group — the highest outdoor rank attainable. Twelve members of the Junior Hi unit received this rank.

Certificates of achievement also were presented to non - members who attended the camp. Like the three others sponsored by the East Liverpool Area Camp Fire Girls, Inc., the camp was open to all girls of the community.

The closing song of the Camp Fire was presented by a representative group of campers. Then the colors were retired as the assembly sang "Taps."

Crafts exhibited by the campers included samples of Indian bead work, symbol - decorated knapsacks and kerchiefs, wood carvings, weather prophets and nature displays.

Group pictures were taken by Horsley's Studio. They may be picked up early this week at the studio by persons who placed orders.

A week of Horizon Club camp at Echo Dell and two weeks of Blue Bird camping preceded this final session of council-sponsored camping. Individual groups will continue group camping during August at both the Bryan Recreation Center and the Echo Dell Site. Reservations for group camping may be made at the Council offices by calling FU. 5-0645.

Coast Guard Rescues Beaver Man On Lake

ERIE — The Coast Guard rescued a fisherman early Sunday after he had been adrift on Lake Erie in a small boat 14 hours.

Police said Daniel Smith, 56, of Beaver Falls, was cold but otherwise in good condition.

Smith went fishing about 3 p. m. Saturday in a 14-foot boat near Erie. The wind was stiff, but the lake appeared calm. Unable to control the craft with oars, Smith was driven away from the coast by the wind.

Trustees Set Meeting

Chester Vandals Damage 2 Autos

Two cases of slashing of convertible tops were reported to Chester police Saturday.

Fred Lee Tice of East Liverpool R. D. 2 reported the top of his 1958 car was slashed sometime Friday night or Saturday morning while it was parked at the Humble Service station at 1st St. and Virginia Ave., where he is employed.

Mrs. Phyllis Anderson, 229 Carolina Ave., said the top of her 1960 auto was cut sometime Thursday night or Friday, while it was parked in front of her home.

According to Patrolman Clifford Bebout, both cars had three cuts 6 to 12 inches long in their tops, apparently made with a razor. The Anderson auto also had a 6-inch slash in a front tire. He said the investigation is continuing.

Suggestions Are Offered In Painting Child's Room

The one room in the house which is probably subjected to the most wear and tear and requires the most frequent cleanup is also the room that should be the most cheerful. This is the child's room.

Parents frequently are met with the sight of Johnny's last artistic effort on the door, the place on the wall where he drew an outline of his brother in indelible ink, the dots on the ceiling from the night they used it for target practice with their slingshots and ink cartridges. Subsequent decision: a fresh paint job will do wonders for the room.

In selecting the proper type and color coating for this room, there are some basic facts the home owner should remember, says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. Armed with information about type and color, the resulting paint job will be a source of satisfaction for him and of pleasure for his children.

What, then, should be considered when choosing paint for a child's room: The following are questions which should be answered by and for the handyman for a successful paint job. Is the paint sturdy and adle to withstand much art-work and many cleanings? What type of surface will he be painting on? Where is the room located? What color should be used?

A latex paint is generally the best bet for the 'do-it-yourselfer' when painting most ordinary walls and ceilings. It is easily applied, gives a smoother appearance, leaves no lap marks, and dries quickly. It can be cleaned frequently with soap and water, and the cleaning up after the painting can also be done with soap and water. Many latex paints require a 30-day curing period before they can be washed or cleaned. Also, a few latex paints on the market today have a gloss or semi-gloss finish.

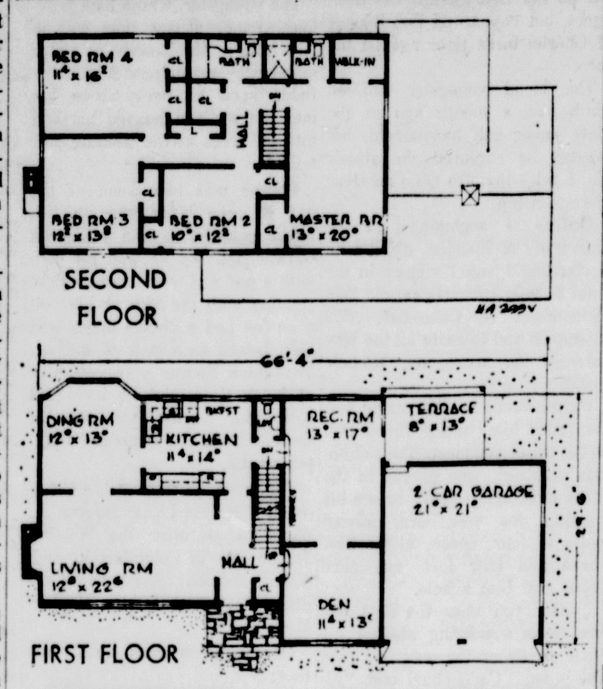
A standard for painting children's rooms has been the alkyd or oil base paint. The alkyd paints are available in gloss or semi-gloss finishes. They also will withstand many and frequent cleanings. However, alkyds are not quite as easy to apply and still achieve a smooth surface; there is a slight odor during drying; and post-painting clean up is not quite as simple.

Armed with factual information about types of paint, the handyman and his wife can now get down to the choice of color. Color is relative to the location of the room and the type of paint decided upon. In a room with a northern exposure, a light color with a gloss or semi-gloss finish will reflect existing light and artificial light to a better advantage, than will a flat finish of a darker color.

If the room has a southern exposure, then a darker color with a flat finish may be used. If the type of paint lends itself to frequent cleaning, a light color may be used. If not, then the color may well be one which will not tend to show even the slightly bit of grime and dirt, such as a sandy beige. The handyman also should remember that brightness can be added to a child's room in accent colors, either in painted furniture or in the fabrics used.

Above all, when painting a child's room, remember the child himself. He should be able to "live" in his room. The room should be bright and cheerful so that a rainy day spent inside is not so depressing after all. A child spends varying amounts of time in his room, from an entire day to a few minutes spent there between dashes outside to play. The room should be a reflection of his own cheerful personality.

The major league baseball record for consecutive number of games played in by one man was set by Lou Gehrig of the New York Yankees, who played in 2,130 consecutive games from June 1, 1925, through April 30, 1939.



TWO-STORY HOME has four bedrooms, two baths and nine closets on the second floor. First floor contains living room, dining room with bay window, kitchen plus breakfast area, recreation room, den and lavatory, all adding up to a lot of house for a controlled budget. Architect Fenick A. Vogel, Room 704, 48 W. 48th St., New York 36, N. Y., designed Plan HA299V. Area is 1,177 square feet for the first floor and 1,170 for the second.

Tailored Kitchen Helps Ease Homemaker's Task

Many an aching feminine back has been developed while leaning over a kitchen sink full of dishes.

At physical maturity, the average woman in the United States stands slightly over five feet, four inches tall. Based on this average, manufacturers recommend that sinks be installed 36 inches from the floor.

If the homemaker is above average height, however, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau of Chicago, she should consider having the kitchen sink installed at a more comfortable level.

The tailored kitchen can be a real wife-saver. Installing the sink with the rim 38 inches from the floor and raising other work surfaces as well, can take most of the drudgery out of doing dishes and preparing meals.

In new construction or in remodeling, the home owner can have the kitchen sink, cabinets, lunch bar, built-in dinette, range and refrigerator tailored or built at heights and widths which are most convenient for the gal who uses the equipment.

An experienced plumbing contractor will be able to install a sink at exactly the right height for any homemaker. He can then make all of the arrangements with other tradesmen to provide cabinets and counter space at the same height.

In addition, the plumbing contractor's knowledge of modern kitchen plans enables him to create a step-saving layout for placement of other kitchen equipment. This will further eliminate unnecessary strain on the homemaker.

Search Fails To Find Cleveland Woman, 81

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mrs. Armin Menke, 81, who is just 4-foot-4 and weighs only 65 pounds, walked out of her house Saturday night and headed toward a rear garden which meets the Lake Abram Swamp in Middleburg Heights.

She has not been seen or heard from since. A police search of the area for two hours Saturday night and most of Sunday failed to turn up a clue.

Tax Report Issued

LISBON — Repeal of the $18 house trailer tax in favor of assessment upon value at the local tax rate brought increased statewide collections during 1962, State Auditor Roger W. Tracy said today at Columbus. In Columbiana County, the source produced $12,724. Statewide, the collections were $945,620, up $104,932 from the previous high of $836,688 during 1961.

New Dip Due Metal Firms

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel magaine forecast another dip in steel production this week for the eighth straight week and said steel makers aren't looking for an upturn before September.

With operations curtailed to near 65 per cent of unofficial capacity, this week's output was forecast at less than the 2,020,000 ingot tons the trade publication estimated was produced last week.

For the month, steel producers figure shipments will be down 15 to 20 per cent from last month's totals, Steel said, and a further 10 to 15 per cent decline is expected in August.

If September is better, Steel said, "it will be because inventory liquidation is slowing down and the economy is on the upswing."

Continued inventory cutbacks are deepening the usual summer slump. Mills will ship no more than 16 million tons of finished steel this quarter, Steel said, while customers will consume about 18.7 million tons, "taking 2.7 million tons from inventories built for a strike that was averted."

Broadloom Takes Careful Cutting

Question: We will be moving shortly. We have wool, wall-to-wall broadloom in our present living room and plan on rolling it up the day before the moving men arrive.

The living room in our new place is slightly smaller than the one we have now. We hope to put down the broadloom ourselves, but some trimming will be necessary. Is this difficult?

Answer: The cutting of most types of broadloom is not difficult, but it requires care to be certain that the cut is clean and straight.

The carpeting must be turned over so that its underside is face up. A line is drawn where the cut is to be made. Check and double check it, since a mistake cannot be rectified. Place a straightedge along the line and make the cut. The general recommendation is to use a sharp knife of the kind made for cutting carpeting.

As in all do-it-yourself operations where a sharp instrument is being used, be extra careful not to stay directly behind the blade as the cut is being made.

$4,500 total price and $225 downpayment will buy this 6 room and bath home at 1030 ST. CLAIR AVENUE. Many renters are paying much more rent than the payments would be to own this home and it would make a good investment.

5 acres of ground near Beaver Local School with a large frontage on Rt. 7 and a good 2 bedroom, 1 story home for just $10,500. Other extras are the 3 story, cement block, 20x60 ft. building that can be used for chickens, store room, work shop, etc. There is also a nice lake on the back of the property with a separate artesian well. Ground is all level and useable, frontage is valuable and home is in good condition.

Maplewood, corner of BLACKMOOR STREET. Very excellent 4 bedroom, 2½ story, all brick home. House is a showplace if you go for the colonial type home. Around 25 years old and condition is like new. 1 finished bedroom on the 3rd floor, 3 large bedrooms and tile bath on the 2nd floor. Closed in sun porch, living room, dining room, kitchen, dinette space and powder room on the first floor. Full basement, gas furnace, open fireplace, completely carpeted. Detached 2 car garage and lots of other extras. Total price just $20,000 and would consider lower priced trade-in.

New Officers' Slate Seated By Lisbon's D. Of A. Council

Forty - one members of Pride of Center Council 190, Daughters of America met Thursday evening at the Lisbon D. of A. Hall, when Mrs. Margaret Allmon of East Palestine became councilor, succeeding Mrs. Betty Stark.

Mrs. Laura Wright, installing officer, had charge of the investiture regalia for Mrs. Allmon; Mrs. Ruth McKee, associate councilor; Mrs. Elsie Pete, vice councilor; Mrs. Sarah Holshue, associate vice councilor; Mrs. Delores Krause, warden; Mrs. Margaret Galbreath, conductor.

Officers Listed

Mrs. Thelma Hill, financial secretary; Mrs. Nannie Meehan, assistant financial secretary; Mrs. Virginia Williams, recording secretary; Mrs. Florence Stacey, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Kathryn Gunn, treasurer; Mrs. Mildred McDevitt, inside sentinel; Mrs. Olive Scott, trustee; Mrs. Stark, junior past councilor, and Mrs. Ollie Carnes, junior past assistant councilor.

Hostesses were Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Stark, Mrs. Gunn and Mrs. Artie Anderson.

Session Set Thursday

At the next meeting, Thursday, the members will honor those who have birthdays in July and the new officers will assume their duties.

Prizes for 500 were awarded to Mrs. Bernard Sweeney, Mrs. John Holshue and Mrs. Melvin Brown.

Hostess for the club, Friday, July 26, will be Mrs. Daniel Vargo of W. Lincoln Way.

Sew-N-So Club members met Thursday evening for dinner at Youngstown and later played miniature golf. A family picnic is planned for the next meeting. The date will be announced.

April, May and June birthdays of members will be honored by the auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Tuesday night at 6:30 with a coverdish dinner. The regular meeting will open at 8.

Mrs. Leona Caldwell of Penny Farms, Fla., a former Lisbon resident, is visiting local friends. The Rev. and Mrs. H. E. Strawn and daughter, Elaine of New Waterford, visited Friday with Mrs. Caldwell. Saturday, she was a guest of the Rev. and Mrs. Tom Hammerton and family of East Palestine.

Mary Lou Rupp, Rod and Tod Wilson, Sherry Gaston, Candy Cain, Phyllis Walton, Debbie Faulk, Joan Hawthorne, Ray Moore and Beverly Guy, members of Chi Rho of the First Christian Church, have returned from Camp Christian, near Delaware.

They were accompanied to and from the camp by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Dalias Rupp, Ben Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walton and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Guy.

Return From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Longaneckker and daughter, Carol, of Columbiana Rd. have returned from a vacation trip which included a tour of the Skyline Caverns, Blue Ridge Mountains, Washington, D. C., and Ocean City, N. J.

Thursday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Haines and family of E. Chestnut St. were Mrs. Haines' brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Frail and children, Betty Jo and Jeffery, of Burkley, N. J.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Libby of Louisville spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Shattuck of E. Pine St. and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Libby of Lincoln Way.

Pilot Views Climbers Thought Lost On Peak

TALKEETNA, Alaska (AP) — Seven Harvard University climbers are in good shape and still scaling Mt. McKinley's Wickersham Wall, veteran bush pilot Don Sheldon reported this morning.

Sheldon flew near the party at the 17,000-foot level and the climbers indicated all was well and they were continuing the climb. Shledon spotted the group Sunday morning after a three-day search.

The climbers had last been sighted six days ago. Sheldon, well-known for mountain rescue missions, spotted the party's tracks Friday. The tracks disappeared in an avalanche. The avalanche apparently occurred after the group had passed that point, Sheldon said.

Sheldon, accompanied by a Civil Air Patrol observer, was unable to land the plane at 17,000 feet. He said the mountain was obscured by clouds. He was unable to talk with the climbers and all communication was by prearranged signals.

The CAP official, L. Tyree, said the climbers probably would take two more days to reach the 19,470-foot north summit of McKinley.

Iraq President Vows Move On Red Plotters

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Brushing aside threats from Moscow, Iraqi President Abdel Salam Aref says he will continue to crack down on those plotting to "turn Iraq into an atheist Communist state."

One such plot is the Kurdish rebellion, Aref claimed Sunday in a National Day speech broadcast by Baghdad Radio. Mullah Mustafa Barzani, the Kirdish leader, denies Communists are behind his war for independence.

Story Didn't Live Up

DANIELSON, Conn. (AP) — The headline read "School Nurse and Custodian Sought." Interested readers were quick to learn the story was just a plea from the local school board for applications for those two positions.

Mix thinly sliced cucumbers with cultured sour cream, adding lemon juice and sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Wonderful with cold poached salmon!

Jobs Called Key To Civil Rights Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's top economist warned today that the Negro drive for civil rights and job equality will be "frustrated and frustrating" unless the country provides millions of new jobs.

Chairman Walter W. Heller of the President's Council of Economic Advisers said Negro unemployment—now double the white rate—will fall twice as fast as that of whites if a tax cut paves the way to full employment.

By providing equal hiring opportunities, the nation can expand its output by $14.5 billion a year, Heller told The Associated Press in an interview.

The question-and-answer text:

Q. Mr. Chairman, would you say that the civil rights problem is in large part an economic problem?

A. Well, civil rights don't mean much without economic rights—without the right, and above all, the opportunity to get a self-respecting job.

Q. In that connection, you said recently in effect that full employment means more to nonwhites than to any other major group.

Florida's population grew 76 per cent during the 1950's, as against 19 per cent for the U.S. as a whole.

Junior Editors Quiz on ICE CREAM BARS

ANSWER: Ice cream is made from milk and cream with sugar and flavoring added, as well as small amounts of some stabilizer such as gelatin. In some cases, eggs are added. When the ice cream is mixed and stirred it is called a "mix." To make chocolate covered bars, the mix is run from the freezer to a mold (2). The mold shapes the bars. Then the sticks are put in (3). The mold goes into a brine tank which is very cold (4). Passing into a tank of water (5) the bars are loosened from the mold. Then they go on to a chain driven convoy where they are held upright and dipped into liquid chocolate. They go into a cooling system and then into bags. All of this is done automatically with machinery.

What happens then? You take over. You may just look and bite (A), swing and bite (B), sun and bite (C), have a birthday party (D), or take pity on your dog (E). (F) shows some new ideas in ice cream bars—other good tasting things have been added, such as toffee.

FOR YOU TO DO: It is said that "Eskimo Pie," which was the original chocolate covered ice cream, was accidentally discovered by dropping some chocolate syrup on ice cream and finding that the chocolate became hard. Keep a sharp lookout for such smart ideas which might make you famous.

David A. Koone of Muskegon, Mich., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1870, Congress readmitted the State of Georgia to the Union. It was the last of 11 Confederate states to return following the Civil War.

On this date

In 1788, the state of Georgia ceded all its western lands to the United States.

In 1870, the Franco-Prussian War began.

In 1918, the Second Battle of the Marne began in World War 1.

In 1935, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled 2-1 at Cincinnati that the federal government had no constitutional right to condemn land for low-cost housing.

In 1946, Siam submitted its border dispute with French Indochina to the United Nations Security Council.

Ten years ago. . . The U. S. House of Representatives government operations committee stripped its chairman, Congressman Clare Hoffman of Michigan, of his power to launch investigations whenever he saw fit.

Five years ago. . . President Eisenhower sent U.S. Marines to Lebannon, at the nation's request, to forestall possible attempts by Russia and the United Arab Republic to overthrow the Lebanon regime.

One year ago . . . a U.S. Army helicopter carrying five Americans and two Vietnamese was shot down by Communist insurgents in Vietnam.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I do a good job of mending a torn lace curtain?

A. Try ironing a piece of starched net over the hole. This is usually a better and easier method of repair than stitching or darning over the hole.

$4,500 total price and $225 downpayment will buy this 6 room and bath home at 1030 ST. CLAIR AVENUE. Many renters are paying much more rent than the payments would be to own this home and it would make a good investment.

5 acres of ground near Beaver Local School with a large frontage on Rt. 7 and a good 2 bedroom, 1 story home for just $10,500. Other extras are the 3 story, cement block, 20x60 ft. building that can be used for chickens, store room, work shop, etc. There is also a nice lake on the back of the property with a separate artesian well. Ground is all level and useable, frontage is valuable and home is in good condition.

Maplewood, corner of BLACKMOOR STREET. Very excellent 4 bedroom, 2½ story, all brick home. House is a showplace if you go for the colonial type home. Around 25 years old and condition is like new. 1 finished bedroom on the 3rd floor, 3 large bedrooms and tile bath on the 2nd floor. Closed in sun porch, living room, dining room, kitchen, dinette space and powder room on the first floor. Full basement, gas furnace, open fireplace, completely carpeted. Detached 2 car garage and lots of other extras. Total price just $20,000 and would consider lower priced trade-in.

Rain Blamed In Road Toll On Weekend

Traffic	15
Drownings	2
Miscellaneous	2
Total	19

By The Associated Press

Badly needed rain fell over most of Ohio during the weekend and it may have contributed to a relatively low drowning toll by keeping people away from pools and beaches.

At the same time, however, the downpour produced slippery highways and fog which figured in a substantial loss of lives on the highways.

A Middletown youth drowned in the Great Miami River near his home and an infant in a bathtub at his home in Canton. These were the only drownings included in The Associated Press count which started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at Sunday midnight.

By contrast, seven drownings were reported the weekend ended July 1, the last non-holiday weekend.

At least 15 died on the highways, including three in one crash near Bowling Green and three in another near Middletown.

Two miscellaneous deaths were recorded for an overall accidental death toll of 19.

The fatalities:

Sunday

Mrs. Carrie Fallen, 45, Cleveland, struck by a car in Cleveland.

Saturday

Richard E. Walther, 34, Dayton, personnel manager of the Dayton Steel Foundry Co., when a truck he was driving crashed on Cincinnati's Millcreek Expressway.

Earl Frazier, about 37, his son, Denny, 6, and daughter, Allana Sue, 9, in a two-car crash near Middletown.

Friday Night

Lloyd D. Taylor, 18, Toledo; Charles Sumner Holton, 26, Marion, and Anna Marie Holton, 5 months, in a two-car crash on Interstate 280 near Bowling Green.

Jack M. Neff, 25, Wayne, Mich., when his car slammed into the rear of another on U.S. 25 south of Bowling Green.

Kentucky Reports Good-Risk Convicts

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — State penal authorities report success with their new Reasonable Assurance Release Program.

The plan allows good-risk convicts to be paroled even if no job is immediately forthcoming. A sponsor is needed — someone to furnish room and board for up to 45 days while the inmate seeks employment.

Of 39 convicts released in the past few months, officials say, only two have been returned.

100 Units Slated For Wellsville's Parade July 26

The parade will be held Friday, July 26.

The route of the parade has been changed this year, as the carnival is being held at 4th and Main Sts. instead of at the 13th St. park. The units will form on Center St. and move out 15th St. to Main. They then will travel up Main to the city square.

The judges' stands will be set up. One will be at 5th and Main Sts. to judge fire apparatus and the other on 4th St. between Main and Broadway to judge musical units, drill teams and majorette groups. The judges' names will be announced later.

C. C. Leatherberry is homecoming chairman, with Don Miller as co-chairman. Harold Dickinson is president of the volunteers. The firemen will hold a special meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 at the station to review the plans.

2 Sessions Open At Church Camp

Two sessions are being conducted at the Beaver Creek United Presbyterian Camp at Grimms Bridge this week for 14 members of the Junior High Outpost group and 71 members of the Junior High III unit.

The Rev. Howard Smith of Smithfield is director of the Outpost group, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. William Pezzopane of Steubenville. Primitive camping will be featured.

The Rev. Russell Williams of Youngstown is director for the Junior High III group. Counsellors include Bob Patterson of Mineral Ridge, the Rev. Stanley Tarves of North Benton, John Rietz of Steubenville, Joe Wadsworth of Minerva, Bettie Joseph and Lynn Clower, both of Vienna, Peggy Nash of East Palestine, Sandra Lynn and Irma Locke, both of East Liverpool, Norma Rodgers and Grace Thompson, both of Youngstown, and Martha Faloon of Hanoverton.

It was reported that to date there are 699 young people registered.

Pro-White Unit Plans Own 'Rights' Program

CINCINNATI (AP)—Only about 15 persons showed up for the first meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of White People, but William F. Miller, president of the group, says far more people support it.

Miller said after the first meeting Sunday that it had about 300 members. He said the group hopes to become a national "watchdog" for the white race.

The NAAWP says its objects are "to promote, to aid, to sustain and defend our American form of government; to keep the general public aware of the elements which seek to impair and destroy their government; to promote the social, educational and general welfare of the Caucasian race."

Temporary Hanging

MIAMI (AP) — Folks walking by the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Smith did doubletakes when they saw a skeleton dangling from a tree. Turned out the papier mache skeleton belonged to a friend — a biology teacher — who was visiting their daughter. They decided to wash the skeleton and had hung it in the tree to dry.

'Repeater' Faces Judge

Man Given 4-Month Term Driving Without License

Released from County Jail in May after serving 69 days for driving while under revocation of his license, a 28-year-old Wellsville motorist was sentenced to a four-month term today in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to the same offense.

George Crawford, 1106 Commerce St., was ordered to pay the costs and was fined $10 and costs each by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on additional charges of failing to apply for a certificate of title, driving his car without a certificate of title and improper registration. He also pleaded guilty on the three counts.

Questioned by Judge Chertoff, who recalled the incident, Crawford admitted he was sentenced to a 90-day term last March for driving while under revocation.

He said he served 69 days but the balance of the term was suspended by Judge Chertoff. The judge said he had been contacted by Crawford's attorney after the Wellsville man was indicted by the Grand Jury on another charge.

Judge Chertoff said he had agreed to suspend the balance of the term so Crawford could be released on bond on the indictment.

"But I won't do it again. You don't have the slightest respect for the law. If ever a man deserves to go to the penitentiary, you do," the judge told Crawford.

Crawford was arrested at 1:30 a. m. Sunday on St. Clair Ave. by Patrolman Paul E. Carter, R. J. Brookes and David K. Mumaw.

Dr. Alexander S. Fisher, 2716 St. Clair Ave., was fined $10 and costs after being found guilty of failing to stop within the assured clear distance. Cited after an accident July 6 at W. 6th and Jefferson Sts., Dr. Fisher pleaded "no contest."

Patrolman William A. Devon told the court when he arrived at the scene that the physician had left without giving his name or address to the other motorist. He said four witnesses obtained the license number and one recognized the physician.

Before handing down the fine, Judge Chertoff pointed out Dr. Fisher was cited only on the charge of failing to stop and admitted hitting the other car.

William Beadnell, 1600 Commerce St., Wellsville, forfeited a $32.50 bond on a reckless driving charge. He was cited Sunday at 2:10 a. m. on Dresden Ave., police said.

George M. Ayers of Fredricksburg, Va., is scheduled for a hearing Tuesday at 9 a. m. on a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Ayers posted a $32.50 bond after he was cited Saturday by the State Highway Patrol in Yellow Creek Township.

Dazzling Sight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It looked like a million dollars — and it was. That's how much money was on view in a well-guarded glass case at the Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan Co. The display was arranged as part of the company's celebration of a milestone — surpassing $100 million in assets.

Junior Editors Quiz on ICE CREAM BARS

ANSWER: Ice cream is made from milk and cream with sugar and flavoring added, as well as small amounts of some stabilizer such as gelatin. In some cases, eggs are added. When the ice cream is mixed and stirred it is called a "mix." To make chocolate covered bars, the mix is run from the freezer to a mold (2). The mold shapes the bars. Then the sticks are put in (3). The mold goes into a brine tank which is very cold (4). Passing into a tank of water (5) the bars are loosened from the mold. Then they go on to a chain driven convoy where they are held upright and dipped into liquid chocolate. They go into a cooling system and then into bags. All of this is done automatically with machinery.

What happens then? You take over. You may just look and bite (A), swing and bite (B), sun and bite (C), have a birthday party (D), or take pity on your dog (E). (F) shows some new ideas in ice cream bars—other good tasting things have been added, such as toffee.

FOR YOU TO DO: It is said that "Eskimo Pie," which was the original chocolate covered ice cream, was accidentally discovered by dropping some chocolate syrup on ice cream and finding that the chocolate became hard. Keep a sharp lookout for such smart ideas which might make you famous.

David A. Koone of Muskegon, Mich., wins today's grand prize of a 20-volume World Book Encyclopedia for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review and you too may win a set.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1870, Congress readmitted the State of Georgia to the Union. It was the last of 11 Confederate states to return following the Civil War.

On this date

In 1788, the state of Georgia ceded all its western lands to the United States.

In 1870, the Franco-Prussian War began.

In 1918, the Second Battle of the Marne began in World War 1.

In 1935, the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled 2-1 at Cincinnati that the federal government had no constitutional right to condemn land for low-cost housing.

In 1946, Siam submitted its border dispute with French Indochina to the United Nations Security Council.

Ten years ago. . . The U. S. House of Representatives government operations committee stripped its chairman, Congressman Clare Hoffman of Michigan, of his power to launch investigations whenever he saw fit.

Five years ago. . . President Eisenhower sent U.S. Marines to Lebannon, at the nation's request, to forestall possible attempts by Russia and the United Arab Republic to overthrow the Lebanon regime.

One year ago . . . a U.S. Army helicopter carrying five Americans and two Vietnamese was shot down by Communist insurgents in Vietnam.

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I do a good job of mending a torn lace curtain?

A. Try ironing a piece of starched net over the hole. This is usually a better and easier method of repair than stitching or darning over the hole.

Rain Blamed In Road Toll On Weekend

Traffic	15
Drownings	2
Miscellaneous	2
Total	19

By The Associated Press

Badly needed rain fell over most of Ohio during the weekend and it may have contributed to a relatively low drowning toll by keeping people away from pools and beaches.

At the same time, however, the downpour produced slippery highways and fog which figured in a substantial loss of lives on the highways.

A Middletown youth drowned in the Great Miami River near his home and an infant in a bathtub at his home in Canton. These were the only drownings included in The Associated Press count which started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at Sunday midnight.

By contrast, seven drownings were reported the weekend ended July 1, the last non-holiday weekend.

At least 15 died on the highways, including three in one crash near Bowling Green and three in another near Middletown.

Two miscellaneous deaths were recorded for an overall accidental death toll of 19.

The fatalities:

Sunday

Mrs. Carrie Fallen, 45, Cleveland, struck by a car in Cleveland.

Kentucky Reports Good-Risk Convicts

The plan allows good-risk convicts to be paroled even if no job is immediately forthcoming. A sponsor is needed — someone to furnish room and board for up to 45 days while the inmate seeks employment.

Of 39 convicts released in the past few months, officials say, only two have been returned.

100 Units Slated For Wellsville's Parade July 26

The parade will be held Friday, July 26.

The route of the parade has been changed this year, as the carnival is being held at 4th and Main Sts. instead of at the 13th St. park. The units will form on Center St. and move out 15th St. to Main. They then will travel up Main to the city square.

The judges' stands will be set up. One will be at 5th and Main Sts. to judge fire apparatus and the other on 4th St. between Main and Broadway to judge musical units, drill teams and majorette groups. The judges' names will be announced later.

This is the final week for advance sale tickets. They may be purchased from any fireman at the station or at VFW Post 5647.

C. C. Leatherberry is homecoming chairman, with Don Miller as co-chairman. Harold Dickinson is president of the volunteers. The firemen will hold a special meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 at the station to review the plans.

2 Sessions Open At Church Camp

Two sessions are being conducted at the Beaver Creek United Presbyterian Camp at Grimms Bridge this week for 14 members of the Junior High Outpost group and 71 members of the Junior High III unit.

The Rev. Howard Smith of Smithfield is director of the Outpost group, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. William Pezzopane of Steubenville. Primitive camping will be featured.

The Rev. Russell Williams of Youngstown is director for the Junior High III group. Counsellors include Bob Patterson of Mineral Ridge, the Rev. Stanley Tarves of North Benton, John Rietz of Steubenville, Joe Wadsworth of Minerva, Bettie Joseph and Lynn Clower, both of Vienna, Peggy Nash of East Palestine, Sandra Lynn and Irma Locke, both of East Liverpool, Norma Rodgers and Grace Thompson, both of Youngstown, and Martha Faloon of Hanoverton.

It was reported that to date there are 699 young people registered.

Pro-White Unit Plans Own 'Rights' Program

CINCINNATI (AP)—Only about 15 persons showed up for the first meeting of the National Association for the Advancement of White People, but William F. Miller, president of the group, says far more people support it.

Miller said after the first meeting Sunday that it had about 300 members. He said the group hopes to become a national "watchdog" for the white race.

The NAAWP says its objects are "to promote, to aid, to sustain and defend our American form of government; to keep the general public aware of the elements which seek to impair and destroy their government; to promote the social, educational and general welfare of the Caucasian race."

Temporary Hanging

MIAMI (AP) — Folks walking by the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Smith did doubletakes when they saw a skeleton dangling from a tree. Turned out the papier mache skeleton belonged to a friend — a biology teacher — who was visiting their daughter. They decided to wash the skeleton and had hung it in the tree to dry.

'Repeater' Faces Judge

Man Given 4-Month Term Driving Without License

Released from County Jail in May after serving 69 days for driving while under revocation of his license, a 28-year-old Wellsville motorist was sentenced to a four-month term today in Municipal Court after pleading guilty to the same offense.

George Crawford, 1106 Commerce St., was ordered to pay the costs and was fined $10 and costs each by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on additional charges of failing to apply for a certificate of title, driving his car without a certificate of title and improper registration. He also pleaded guilty on the three counts.

Questioned by Judge Chertoff, who recalled the incident, Crawford admitted he was sentenced to a 90-day term last March for driving while under revocation.

He said he served 69 days but the balance of the term was suspended by Judge Chertoff. The judge said he had been contacted by Crawford's attorney after the Wellsville man was indicted by the Grand Jury on another charge.

Judge Chertoff said he had agreed to suspend the balance of the term so Crawford could be released on bond on the indictment.

"But I won't do it again. You don't have the slightest respect for the law. If ever a man deserves to go to the penitentiary, you do," the judge told Crawford.

Crawford was arrested at 1:30 a. m. Sunday on St. Clair Ave. by Patrolman Paul E. Carter, R. J. Brookes and David K. Mumaw.

Dr. Alexander S. Fisher, 2716 St. Clair Ave., was fined $10 and costs after being found guilty of failing to stop within the assured clear distance. Cited after an accident July 6 at W. 6th and Jefferson Sts., Dr. Fisher pleaded "no contest."

Patrolman William A. Devon told the court when he arrived at the scene that the physician had left without giving his name or address to the other motorist. He said four witnesses obtained the license number and one recognized the physician.

Before handing down the fine, Judge Chertoff pointed out Dr. Fisher was cited only on the charge of failing to stop and admitted hitting the other car.

William Beadnell, 1600 Commerce St., Wellsville, forfeited a $32.50 bond on a reckless driving charge. He was cited Sunday at 2:10 a. m. on Dresden Ave., police said.

George M. Ayers of Fredricksburg, Va., is scheduled for a hearing Tuesday at 9 a. m. on a charge of failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Ayers posted a $32.50 bond after he was cited Saturday by the State Highway Patrol in Yellow Creek Township.

Dazzling Sight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It looked like a million dollars — and it was. That's how much money was on view in a well-guarded glass case at the Buckeye Federal Savings and Loan Co. The display was arranged as part of the company's celebration of a milestone — surpassing $100 million in assets.
